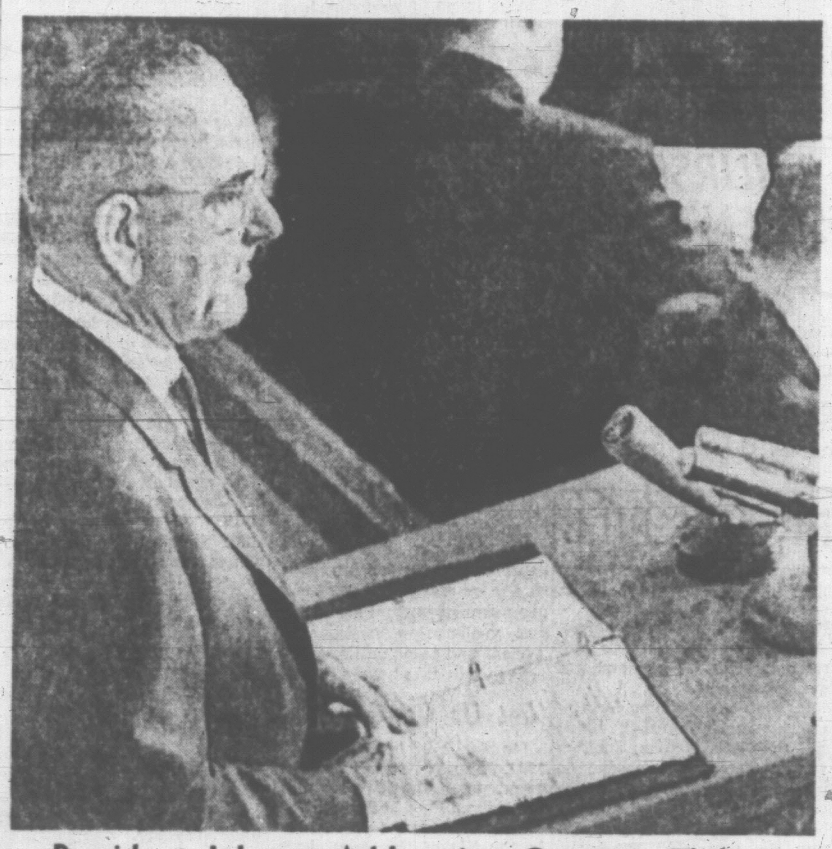
Johnson Pleads Rights Bill As Memorial to Kennedy



President Johnson Addressing Congress Today

DID CAMERA SEE TWO ASSASSINS?

PARIS (Reuters) — The French newspaper Paris Presse said today United States Federal Bureau of Investigation investigators are convinced there were at least two men in the room from where President Kennedy was shot.

One of them was Lee Harvey Oswald but the FBI hopes to be able to identify the other man soon, according to the paper's Dallas correspondent.

The correspondent said the FBI examined a color film taken by an American naval rating.

"At the very moment of the killing the young sailor was filming the motorcyclists escorting the the presidential car.

"But in rewinding the camera, without meaning to, he photographed part of the facade of the building where Oswald was hidden.

"At the window of the sixth floor is distinctly seen not one but two silhouettes with their elbows on the window sill," the report added.

FBI REPORT

Public to Get All Evidence

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Dallas News said today that FBI director J. Edgar Hoover is expected to make public a mass of evidence assembled by officers investigating the assassination of President Kennedy.

Without naming its source, the newspaper said the White House approved a decision for the Federal Bureau of Investigation to take charge of this evidence.

It said Hoover is expected to announce, probably this week, that:

1. The evidence shows conclusively that Lee Harvey Oswald fired the shots which killed Kennedy and seriously wounded Texas Governor John Connally here last Friday.

2. There is no proof of a Communist conspiracy.

3. Investigators lack evidence which would prove that Oswald had help and they will remain alert for anything which would shed more light on the case.

District Attorney Henry Wade said he didn't know whether Hoover would make the evidence public "but I wouldn't be surprised." The public should get this information in detail, he said, adding:

ASSEMBLE EVIDENCE

"Most of it has come out, but it should be assembled in one spot and made public. Reporters and television cameras should let the world know about it in detail—the map, the ballistics test which shows the fatal shot was fired from the rifle found in the building, Oswald's fingerprint on the gun—everything."

Dallas Police Chief Jesse Curry said his office would turn over its evidence to the FBI.

This would place it beyond the reach of Texas Attorney-General Waggoner Carr, who has announced plans to convene a court of inquiry. Wade said, however, that the FBI had agreed to make it available for a court of inquiry or other judicial proceedings.

Assistant District Attorney William F. Alexander said letters found in Oswald's room show he was "an active worker in the Communist cause."

Revenge Motive Doubted

DALLAS (UPI) — The district attorney hinted today that nightclub owner Jack Ruby may have had a more sinister motive for killing accused presidential assassin Less Harvey Oswald than vengeance for the Kennedy family.

Henry Wade refused to accept Ruby's story that he felt sorry for the widow and children and was emotionally overwrought.

"It may have been a desire for publicity, or it may have involved something far deeper, Wade said.

"Our law enforcement agencies are still checking to determine if links exist between Oswald and Ruby. As far as I know, they haven't found any. But I don't know everything they have found."

The district attorney's comments about police still checking a possible link between Ruby and Oswald was almost an about-face for him.

As late as Tuesday Wade had maintained that he and the Dallas police department were convinced without a doubt that (1) Oswald was Kennedy's assassin and (2) He had worked alone.

Socialist Block

ROME (AP)—A revolt by a pro-Communist socialist faction was the only obstacle today to Aldo Moro's plans to form a new left-of-centre government for Italy.

'Getting Down to Cases' At National Conference

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal-provincial conference is "getting down to cases," Finance Minister Gordon told reporters today at the noon adjournment.

He and others emerging from the conference said shared-cost programs and federal conditional grants were the main subjects of the morning discussion around the big oval table.

"There is unanimity of direction—but not of how far to go, or how to get there," commented Premier Lloyd of Saskatchewan.

The conference was to resume this afternoon.

Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland left the conference room with a smile and said "everything fine."

Premier Bennett of British Columbia commented:

"These dominion-provincial conferences remind me of an old French proverb: The more they change, the more they are the same."

In the background of conference talk on the tax-sharing issue was the federal financial problem, stated Tuesday by Mr. Pearson and Finance Minister Gordon, of large federal

Equalization Principle Agreed

OTTAWA (CP) — Atlantic provinces delegates expressed the opinion today that equalization of financial resources, a keystone in their appeals to the federal - provincial conference, has been accepted as a basic principle of relations between the provinces and Ottawa.

One Atlantic spokesman said after the conference's morning session: "I think the equalization principle has been pretty generally agreed on now; it's just a difference in details."

Equalization involves federal payments to "poorer" provinces to help bring their public services up to the national average. Premier Bennett of British Columbia had suggested equalization payments be discontinued. His province, Alberta and Ontario, being better off financially, do not benefit from them.

Lottery Move Failure

By ALEX YOUNG
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — A move for legalized lotteries in Canada appears headed for failure at the current federal-provincial conference.

The proposal change in the criminal code, introduced in its submission to the conference by the Lesage government of Quebec, has met with the disfavor of a number of provincial governments.

While much of the opposition is based on moral grounds (B.C. Premier W. A. C. Bennett and Newfoundland Premier Joey Smallwood led the moral objectors), the basic opposition is based on legal and administrative grounds.

Besides B.C. and Newfoundland, Ontario and Manitoba are understood to oppose lotteries on either or both grounds.

NEEDS BIG MAJORITY

Without a two-thirds backing by the provincial governments (at least seven out of the 10 provinces), the proposal has a less than slim chance of implementation.

In its brief to the conference Quebec said about legalized lotteries:

"We are again repeating a demand which we had formulated on several occasions.

"When accepted, it will bring to the provinces so desiring it, additional income for which they have a pressing need at this time. The case in point is lotteries.

AMEND PENAL CODE

"We would like, in fact, to see the penal code which comes under federal jurisdiction amended to permit the institution of lotteries for provincial purposes. It seems to us that this is a request which the federal government could easily grant."

B.C. Attorney-General Robert Bonner, in a comment today on the legal technicalities involved in such a change, said:

"I don't believe there should be room for a criminal code for each of the 10 provinces. If any action on this matter is to be taken, it should be taken by the House of Commons. There should be one law for all of Canada."

Mr. Bonner said he was not endorsing lotteries and would not express any opinion on the question from the point of view of the principle involved.

Meantime, an indication that the federal government is not yet prepared to take any step towards lotteries came in the Commons Tuesday, when government members "talked out"—thus killing—a Conservative member's private bill for establishment of a corporation to operate national lotteries.

'Let Us Turn From Fanatics'

(Times News Services)

WASHINGTON—President Johnson today called on Congress to enact John F. Kennedy's civil rights bill as a legislative memorial to the assassinated chief executive.

Resolving that John Kennedy should not die in vain, the new chief executive called for an end to hatred between Americans of differing colors and creeds.

"No memorial oration or eulogy could more eloquently honor President Kennedy's memory than the earliest possible passage of the civil rights bill for which he fought," Johnson said.

And, he said, "No act of ours could more fittingly continue the work of President Kennedy than the earliest passage of the tax bill for which he fought."

The new president said: "This is no time for delay—it is a time for action."

Johnson opened his address by saying:

"All I have I would have given gladly not to be standing here today."

Johnson appealed for united effort by a nation that goes forward "in action, in tolerance and mutual understanding."

In one of his most emotional passages Johnson asserted:

"The time has come for Americans of all races and creeds and political beliefs to understand and respect one another. Let us put an end to the teaching and preaching of hate and evil and violence. Let us turn away from the fanatics of the far left and the far right, from the apostles of bitterness and bigotry, from those defiant of law and those who pour venom into our nation's bloodstream."

'Resolve He Didn't Die in Vain'

Johnson expressed the hope that "the tragedy and torment of these terrible days will bind us together in new fellowship."

"Let us here highly resolve that John Fitzgerald Kennedy did not live or die—in vain," he said.

"And on this Thanksgiving eve, as we gather together to ask the Lord's blessing let us unite in those familiar and cherished words: 'America, America, God shed his grace on thee and crown thy good with brotherhood from sea to shining sea'."

(Thursday is Thanksgiving Day in the United States.)

Johnson, a Texan and the first president from the U.S. south since Andrew Johnson succeeded the assassinated Abraham Lincoln, left no doubt about his commitment to the cause of civil rights.

"We have talked long enough in this country about equal rights," he said. "We have talked for 100 years or more. Yes, it is time now to write the next chapter—and to write it in books of law."

Johnson called upon the Congress to enact a civil rights bill that will help "eliminate from this nation every trace of discrimination and oppression based upon race or color."

He said there could be no greater source of strength to the United States both at home and abroad.

Touching upon foreign affairs, Johnson promised the U.S. "will keep its commitments from South Viet Nam to West Berlin." He added:

"We will be unceasing in the search for peace; resourceful in our pursuit of areas of agreement even with those with whom we differ; and generous and loyal to those who join with us in common cause."

He said "those who test our courage will find it strong and those who seek our friendship will find it honorable."

In a general assertion of foreign policy, Johnson said:

"Let all the world know, and none misunderstand, that I rededicate this government to the unswerving support of the United Nations — to the honorable and determined execution of our commitments to our allies—to the maintenance of military strength second to none—to the defence of the strength and stability of the dollar—to the expansion of our foreign trade—to the re-enforcement of our programs of mutual assistance and co-operation in Asia and Africa—and to our Alliance for Progress (aid program) in this hemisphere."

'Christmas Presents' Had Deadly Message

By PAUL FINCH

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Police increased their vigilance today after pro-Communist terrorists made an unsuccessful attempt to kill the three major presidential candidates with bombs disguised as Christmas presents.

Three other top Venezuelan political figures and a U.S. embassy official also were intended victims of similar bomb packages, police said. These assassination attempts also were unsuccessful.

The plot was discovered Tuesday after one of the packages failed to explode when opened. Police seized the other bombs, too.

Police said the bombs were a desperation attempt by the outlawed Armed Forces for National Liberation to disrupt next Sunday's election.

Among the targets was Raul Leoni, candidate of president Romulo Betancourt's ruling Democratic Action party and the favorite to succeed him.

The gaily wrapped bomb packages also were addressed to Jovito Villalba, candidate of the Republican Democratic Union, the major opposition party; Rafael Caldera, candidate of the Social Christians, who are part of the government coalition; Justice Minister Ezequiel Monsalve Casado; Dionisio Lopez Orihuella, president of the Republican Democratic Union, and Eduardo Tamayo Gascue, a Social Christian member of Congress.

Authorities declined to disclose the name of the U.S. official singled out for assassination.

Police said the packages were turned over to a commercial delivery service by a man who gave a false name. Lopez Orihuella opened his but detonating wires connected to the batteries had been loosened, police said.

The police traced the package to the delivery agency and collected the others before they were opened.

Nation Divided By Oversize Table

OTTAWA (CP) — "We're farther apart than we ever were," said Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland as he arrived for today's meeting of the federal-provincial conference. "The table's too big."

Mr. Smallwood complained at Tuesday's session that the specially - built, oval conference table is so large the premiers can't readily talk to each other. It's about 40 feet long and 20 feet wide and was first used at a NATO council meeting last summer.

Prime Minister Pearson said he would take up the matter with the public works department. He is reported to have added jokingly: "We may get it fixed in a month or so."

There was a change for today's session but not in size. The felt covering was switched from blue to verdant green.

"The old cover was faded," a member of the building staff explained.

Said Premier Bennett of British Columbia: "It's not the size or the color, it's what's on the table that counts."

U.S. Army Officer Seized in Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Armed terrorists seized Col. James K. Chenault of the U.S. Army mission today and spirited him away.

"We just want him for propaganda purposes," a Spanish-speaking caller later telephoned the embassy. "Don't worry. We are not going to harm him."

Four men seized Chenault, 45, as he stepped from his home, overcame his Venezuelan chauffeur, disabled the engine of the colonel's car, then sped off with him in a 1952 model white car. The car later was found abandoned.

Presumably the seizure is the work of the Armed Forces for National Liberation which is carrying out a terror campaign in an attempt to sabotage the Dec. 1 presidential election and to overthrow President Romulo Betancourt. The AFNL has sworn allegiance to Fidel Castro's Cuba.

A chauffeur and neighbors saw Chenault seized and telephoned the police.

The U.S. Army mission is here at the request of the Venezuelan government to train and advise the Venezuelan army.

KOREAN KIDDIES FUND

Eight Cents Delays Hunger for One Day

A child without food can hope but a child without hope has nothing.

Two-thirds of the world population have known the pangs of hunger. Now they face a world which offers little or no hope.

"How long can this inequality go on?" asked Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova on her recent visit to Victoria.

Social workers in Korea stand by helplessly wondering when help will come.

In a letter to Dr. Hitschmanova, the Norwegian director of USC in Korea said:

"The food situation in this country is becoming worse every day and we are all very much concerned, so much so that all our other problems seem small in comparison.

"Yes, it is rather difficult for me to turn my mind to Canada and Norway—it seems you are so far away from me and that it is impossible for our friends abroad who have not faced hunger for many years to understand what this big problem is."

A month later he wrote:

"We are having such a hard time because of the lack of food and the sky high prices. A bag of rice which cost $15 when you were here last winter now costs $46. One bag of rice costs more than a month's salary for four laborers.

"Since you were here we have also had a flood disaster and in one school we have 900 people we cannot feed. Yesterday we gave each one cup of milk but we do not think we should start to give out the barley for we do not know what will happen in the days and weeks ahead."

It is up to Canadians to determine what will happen in the days and months ahead.

Eight cents, less than the price of a cup of coffee, will buy enough barley to feed one Korean for a day.

The Times sponsored campaign for USC funds, which began Monday and ends on Christmas Eve, now totals $1,103.27.

Donations should be sent to the "Korean Kiddies Fund" care of the Times, 2631 Douglas. Acknowledgement of gifts will be made in a daily list published in the Times and tax deductible receipts will be issued. The Bank of Montreal main branch, Yates and Douglas, will accept donations.

Donations of clothing should be delivered to Dowell's Cartage and Storage, 1117 Wharf St. (See list of donors on page 2.)

Next time politicians want t' hold a meetin', th' Admiral better tell 'em t' go hire a hall.

With all them first ministers gettin' t'gether, Ottawa must be pretty well primed.

Weatherman sez t'morrow we c'n go back t' complaining it always rains in Victoria.

TEXT OF JOHNSON ADDRESS TO U.S. CONGRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Text of President Johnson's address to a joint session of Congress today:

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, members of the House and Senate, my fellow Americans:

All I have I would have given gladly not to be standing here today.

The greatest leader of our time has been struck down by the foulest deed of our time. Today John Fitzgerald Kennedy lives on in the immortal words and works he left behind. He lives on in the hearts of his countrymen.

No words are sad enough to express our sense of loss. No words are strong enough to express our determination to continue the forward thrust of America that he began.

The dream of conquering the vastness of space, the dream of partnership across the Atlantic and across the Pacific as well, the dream of a peace corps in less-developed lands, the dream of education for our youth, the dream of jobs for all who seek them, the dream of care for our elderly, the dream of an all-out attack on mental illness, and above all, the dream of equal rights for all Americans, whatever their race or color—these and other American dreams have been vitalized by his drive and dedication.

I know the ideas and ideals which he so nobly represented must and will be translated into effective action.

Shown Courage

Under John Kennedy's leadership, this nation has demonstrated that it has the courage to seek peace, and the fortitude to risk war. We have proved that we are a good and reliable friend to those who seek peace and freedom. We have shown that we can also be a formidable foe to those who reject the path of peace and who seek to impose upon us or our allies the yoke of tyranny.

This nation will keep its commitments from South Viet Nem to West Berlin. We will be unceasing in the search for peace; resourceful in our pursuit in areas of agreement even with those with whom we differ; and generous and loyal to those who join with us in common cause.

In this age where there can be no losers in peace and no victors in war—we must recognize the obligation to match national strength with national restraint—we must be prepared at one and the same time for both the confrontation of power and the limitation of power—we must be ready to defend the national interest and to negotiate the common interest. This is the path that we shall continue to pursue.

Those who contest our courage will find it strong and those who seek our friendship will find it honorable. We will demonstrate anew that the strong can be just in the use of strength—and the just can be strong in the defence of justice.

We will carry on the fight against poverty and misery, ignorance and disease — in other lands and in our own.

We will serve all of the nation, not one section or one sector, or one group, but all Americans. These are the United States—a united people with unity or purpose.

Have Differences

Our American unity does not depend upon unanimity. We have differences; but now, as in the past, we can derive from those differences strength, not weakness; wisdom, not despair. Both as a people and as a government we can unite upon a program which is wise, just and constructive.

For 32 years, Capitol Hill has been my home. I have shared many moments of pride with you — pride in the ability of the Congress of the United States to act; to meet any crisis; to distill from our differences strong programs of national action.

An assassin's bullet has thrust upon me the awesome burden of the presidency. I am here today to say that I need your help. I cannot bear this burden alone. I need the help of all Americans. This nation has experienced a profound shock and in this critical moment it is our duty, yours and mine, as the government of the United States, to do away with uncertainty and to show that we are capable of decisive action; that from the brutal loss of our leader we will derive not weakness but strength; that we can and will act and act now.

From the chamber of representative government let all the world know, and none misunderstand, that I rededicate this government to the unswerving support of the United Nations, to the honorable and determined execution of our commitments to our allies, to the maintenance of military strength second to none, to the defence of the strength and stability of the dollar, to the expansion of our foreign trade to the re-enforcement of our programs of mutual assistance and co-operation in Asia and Africa, and to our alliance for progress in this hemisphere.

'Let Us Continue'

On the 20th of January, in 1961, John F. Kennedy told his countrymen that our national work would not be finished "in the first thousand days. Nor in the life of this administration, nor even perhaps in our lifetime on this planet." But, he said, "Let us begin."

Today in this moment of new resolve, I would say to my fellow Americans: let us continue.

This is our challenge—not to hesitate, not to pause, not to turn about and linger over this evil moment but to continue on our course so that we may fulfil the destiny history has set for us. Our most immediate tasks are here on this hill.

First, no memorial oration or eulogy could more eloquently honor President Kennedy's memory than the earliest possible passage of the civil rights bill for which he fought. We have talked long enough in this country about equal rights. We have talked for 100 years or more. Yes, it is time now to write the next chapter — and to write in in books of law.

I urge you again, as I did in 1957, and again in 1960, to enact a civil rights law so that we can move forward to eliminate from this nation every trace of discrimination and oppression based upon race or color. There could be no greater source of strength to this nation both at home and abroad.

And second, no act of ours could more fittingly continue the work of President Kennedy than the earliest passage of the tax bill for which he fought, a bill designed to increase our national income, our federal revenues, and our insurance against recession. That bill, if passed without delay, means more security for those now working and more jobs for those now without them.

Time for Action

In short, this is not a time for delay. It is a time for strong, forward-looking action on the pending education bills to help bring the light of learning to every home and hamlet in America—strong, forward-looking action on the pending foreign aid bill; making clear that we are not forfeiting our responsibilities to this hemisphere or to the world, nor erasing executive flexibility in the conduct of foreign affairs—and strong, forward-looking action on the remaining appropriation bills.

In this new spirit of action the Congress can expect the full co-operation and support of the executive branch. And in particular I pledge that the expenditures of the government will set an example of prudence and economy. This does not mean we will not meet our unfilled needs or that we will not honor our commitments. We will do both.

As one who has long served in both houses of the Congress, I firmly believe in the independence and integrity of the legislative branch. I promise you that I shall always respect this. It is deep in the marrow of my bones. With equal firmness, I believe in the capacity and the ability of the Congress, despite the divisions of opinion which characterize our nation, to act—to act wisely, vigorously and speedily when the need arises.

'Ask Your Help'

The need is here. The need is now. I ask your help.

I know we meet in grief; but let us also meet in renewed dedication and renewed vigor. Let us meet in action, in tolerance and mutual understanding.

John Kennedy's death commands what his life conveyed—that America must move forward. The time has come for Americans of all races and creeds and political beliefs to understand and respect one another. Let us put an end to the teaching and preaching of hate and evil and violence. Let us turn away from the fanatics of the far left and the far right, from the apostles of bitterness and bigotry, from those who pour venom into our nation's bloodstream.

I profoundly hope that the tragedy and torment of these terrible days will bind us together in new fellowship, making us one people in our sorrow. Let us here highly resolve that John Fitzgerald Kennedy did not live—or die—in vain. And on this Thanksgiving eve, as we gather together to ask the Lord's blessing, let us unite in those familiar and cherished words:

"America, America,
God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good
With brotherhood
From sea to shining sea."

ROUND-A-BOUT

By DOUGLAS HILLSIDE

You may remember this column's advertising slogan for what used to be the Roundabout — get lost five ways better, fast.

And also that we asked for suggestions for a new name for this famed intersection.

The response has not been overwhelming, but it is interesting, to say the least.

Our two favorites so far:

From E. L. Strudwicke, 1891 Quamichan: "What's-it-all-about?"

From Anonymous by Request (the request: No names, please. My kids think I'm corny enough without my breaking into print and convincing them): If the city's automatic sensing signals ever go haywire we could re-christen the Roundabout the Wreck-tangle.

Any more bright ideas from you out there in readerland?

Approximately 30 seconds after we typed the above, over the transom came this answer from readerland:

"If you were scared to go through the roundabout before, now you can get a little bolder."

Sticks of spaghetti presented an unusual problem for a group of Canadians in Greece a while back.

Victoria Scout Master David Barker attended the Boy Scout Jamboree in Greece last summer and is now showing a collection of color slides taken during the trip.

One of the photos shows the Canadian contingent hosting scouts of many other nations and all enjoying a handsome spread of strictly Canadian hors-d'oeuvres.

"We didn't have any toothpicks to hold the various ingredients together," explained Scout Master Barker, "so we used sticks of dry spaghetti."

That was fine . . . for about 15 minutes. After that, the spaghetti sticks became soggy and limp and no longer served their purpose.

Some of the nine young debutantes who will curtsey to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor at the annual Military Ball, postponed until Friday, Dec. 6, are more than a mite disappointed about the whole affair.

It seems that their escorts (with whom the young ladies are well pleased) now have to "bow out."

They're officer cadets at the Canadian Services College Royal Roads where it will be examination-writing time with "no time off" for anyone!

Meanwhile, the executive of the ball's sponsors, United Services Institution of Vancouver Island, are contemplating a hasty survey of eligible bachelors among officers of the three services.

TV ADDRESS THURSDAY BY NEW PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson will make a television address to Americans Thursday night, the White House announced today.

The 15-minute address, scheduled for 6:15 p.m. EST (3:15 PST) Thursday night, "will be a Thanksgiving Day message to the people" from the new president, press secretary Pierre Salinger said.

The broadcast will be made from the president's oval office in the White House. It will be carried live on the National Broadcasting Company and Columbia Broadcasting System networks.

. . . RIGHTS BILL

Americans in carrying out his new responsibilities, Johnson said:

"An assassin's bullet has thrust upon me the awesome burden of the presidency. I am here today to say that I need your help; I cannot bear this burden alone. I need the help of all Americans."

Declaring that the nation "has experienced a profound shock," Johnson said it is a national duty at this time "to do away with uncertainty and to show that we are capable of decisive action — that from the brutal loss of our leader we will derive not weakness but strength—that we can and will act and act now."

In addition to calling for top-priority action on civil rights and tax-cut legislation, Johnson said action also is needed on pending education bills, the youth employment opportunities bill, the foreign aid program and the remaining appropriation bills.

Will Serve All of the Nation

"We will carry on the fight against poverty and misery, ignorance and disease—in other lands and in our own," he pledged. "We will serve all of the nation, not one section or one sector, or one group, but all Americans."

Stating his own philosophy toward government fiscal policy, Johnson said "in particular I pledge that the expenditures of the government will be administered with the utmost thrift and frugality."

He said the federal government "will set an example of prudence and economy" and will get "a dollar's value for a dollar spent."

Johnson also promised to respect always "the independenceand integrity of the legislative branch"—something he said is "deep in the marrow of my bones" after 32 years on Capitol Hill as house member, senator and vice-president.

Though Johnson called for national unity, he said this does "not depend on unanimity," adding:

"We have differences; but now, as in the past, we can derive from those differences strength, not weakness; wisdom, not despair. Both as a people and as a government we can unite upon a program which is wise, just and constructive."

From his experiences at the Capitol, Johnson said he had pride and confidence in the ability of Congress to meet any crisis and to "distill from our differences strong programs of national action."

deficits which Ottawa would like to reduce.

Mr. Gordon told a reporter he advised the conference the federal deficit would be close to $700,000,000 in the current fiscal year.

"That means there is not too much loose change lying around. It's an argument which is based on fact, but which is not greeted with much enthusiasm."

Discussions on the tax-sharing issue was led off by Mr. Pearson, with provincial spokesmen following in rotation.

One official said later that the provincial positions followed closely the opening statements by premiers.

"I don't think anybody is tipping his hand yet," the official said. But there was a feeling "that the conference ought to get as close as possible to a resolution of some of the problems."

Attorney-General Bonner of B.C. told reporters that in the conference he had urged modification of the equalization formula if it is not to be abolished. The present formula is "crude in the extreme," he said.

HELL . . . FURY . . . WOMAN

TORONTO (UPI)—A Toronto beauty considered herself scorned and proved the old saying about hell, fury and woman.

Dorothy Whiteman flung a bouquet of roses at the judges of a beauty contest after she placed third Wednesday night.

She then picked up her heels and stalked off the stage.

A blonde dance instructress, Krista Kinkar (36-25-36) was named Miss Yule, in a contest sponsored by the annual German Christmas fair.

Why in Mexico?

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Mexican and U.S. authorities launched an investigation Tuesday to find out what Lee Harvey Oswald, presumed slayer of President Kennedy, did in Mexico for a week between Sept. 26 and Oct. 3.

Mexican officials have confirmed a report Oswald was in Mexico City during that time, and that he tried to get a visa for a trip to the Soviet Union via Havana.

The Cuban and Soviet embassies here said Oswald had applied for a visa but left in anger when told it would take from 10 days to several months to clear his application.

It was learned top Mexican investigators have been assigned to co-operate with the FBI in tracing Oswald's movements on his visit to Mexico City. The Cuban and Soviet embassies have denied Oswald saw any higher officials than clerks assigned to visa work.

Oswald, in trying to get quick action on his visa application, told officials at both embassies that he was a Communist, was married to a Russian and formerly had lived in the Soviet Union.

Could One Do It?

VIENNA (Reuters). — An expert rifleman says he doubts Lee Harvey Oswald was alone when he allegedly assassinated President Kennedy.

Olympic champion Hubert Hammerer said Tuesday any sharpshooter could have targeted the first shot under the conditions in Dallas, Texas. But he said it was unlikely one man could have triggered three shots within five seconds with the weapon used, particularly because it had a telescopic sight.

It meant, he said, that time had to be taken to aim after each reloading.

'Would Take True Expert'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A gun expert said Tuesday it would be possible to fire three shots in about five seconds with the type of bolt-action rifle allegedly used to kill President Kennedy.

But he said such rapid and accurate fire as was displayed would seem to require "a true expert, which Oswald did not seem to be" on the basis of his record in the U.S. Marine Corps.

Leonard Davis, an official of the U.S. National Rifle Association, gave these technical opinions in response to questions.

Davis, a former marine, explained that four motions are required for each shot with a bolt-action rifle—raise the bolt lever, draw it back, move it forward and move the bolt lever down to lock the cartridge in the breach."

UNDERWORLD NARCOTICS FROM COMMUNIST LAND?

MONTREAL (CP) — Patrick J. Biase, 34, a United States narcotics agent, testified in court Tuesday he was told that the heroin involved in an $8,000,000 drug racket and seized in Paris earlier this year came from behind the Iron Curtain.

Biase was testifying at the preliminary hearing of Roger Lapierre, a Montreal garage owner charged with conspiring to import 22 pounds of heroin into Canada and with trafficking in the drug.

Lapierre was one of four Canadians arrested following a huge narcotics seizure in Paris Aug. 7. The others were Roger Laviolette, 43, and Alain Phanauf, both of Montreal, and Anatole Ethier, 31, of Hull, Que.

A fifth man, Roger Coudert, 68, a Paris restaurant owner, was also arrested.

MAINLAND MUDSLIDES CUT ROAD, RAIL LINKS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mudslides caused by torrential rains cut off highway traffic east of Chilliwack for several hours Tuesday and a 78-foot section of Canadian National railway track was washed out in the Fraser Canyon.

CNR trains were rerouted over Canadian Pacific Railway tracks.

Later the Canyon Highway leading into Vancouver, where heavy traffic is expected later in the week with Grey Cup football game visitors, was opened to one-lane traffic in the canyon area, 100 miles east of Vancouver.

U.S. SATELLITE

Solar Flare 'Vane' in Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An interplanetary monitoring platform soared through space today on a radiation-sensing mission vital to the lives of travellers to the moon.

The platform's prime assignment is to determine if satellite instruments can forecast solar flares on the sun. Flares spew torrents of radiation into interplanetary space.

The platform is a step toward a U.S. goal of foolproof solar flare forecasting before 1968-69 when the first three-man project Apollo teams are to take off for the moon. During these years, flare activity will be at a peak, with explosions possibly occurring as frequently as every 20 minutes.

A 90-foot-tall Delta rocket propelled the platform on its voyage at 9:30 p.m. EST. Project officials reported that radio data indicated the three-stage rocket performed flawlessly.

The officials said the exact path of the satellite will not be known for a day or two. The platform was aimed on a course ranging from 125 to 173,000 miles high.

Once the orbit path has been established, the platform will receive the official Space Agency designation of Explorer 18. Seven similar satellites are planned in the next several years.

City Shipyard Unions Urge New Contract

Victoria shipyard unions are seeking merchant fleet construction and subsidized operation to stave off unemployment.

The 11 unions in the Metal Trades Council Tuesday night discussed the implications of increasing lack of jobs.

Tuesday, the Times was told by the manager of a Seattle tour company that a $5-million cruise ship planned for spring construction at VMD will probably never be built.

VMD general manager H. S. Hammill said this would throw about 300 men out of work if no other contracts are obtained.

Metal Trades Council represents 1,500 men.

Unions will wire Prime Minister Pearson urging construction of a merchant fleet, federal subsidies for operation, and the restoration to Canada of a contract to build RCN submarines.

The contract, worth $33-million, has been awarded to Britain, for three Oberon-class submarines.

U.S. Backing Charged As Traitor Sentenced

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A Cambodian charged with trying to overthrow his country's government with official American backing has been sentenced to death, Radio Phnom Penh reported today.

The official station in the Cambodian capital said the prisoner, Preap Inn, 35, a nurse, was convicted Monday in Phnom Penh's permanent military court.

Inn was arrested Nov. 17 in the Cambodian province of Takeo, which adjoins South Viet Nam's An Giang province. On the strength of Inn's alleged confession, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the Cambodian ruler, broke off all aid relations with the United States Nov. 17 and ordered the flying of "Yankee go home" banners in Phnom Penh.

The United States has denied involvement in any plot against Sihanouk. It has acknowledged that it knows of a rebel organization of which Inn supposedly was a member, however.

The full text of Inn's detailed "confession" was broadcast by Radio Phnom Penh today.

The text said that Inn's guerrilla organization, the Khmer Secret (Free Cambodians), had two major objectives—fighting the Vietnamese Communist guerrillas and overthrowing Sihanouk.

WHO WILL BE LITTLE MISS GREY CUP?

Eight to Tackle Crown Contest

Eight young Victoria girls will match their looks and charm for Miss Little Grey Cup Thursday night.

The coronation will be one of two highlights of the banquet at the Empress Hotel, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Guests will also hear Winnipeg Blue Bombers' star quarterback Kenny Ploen speak on his favorite subject.

He arrives here tonight at 11:30 by TCA with his wife, and will stay until Saturday morning.

IN PARADE

Ploen and the successful Miss Little Grey Cup contestant will form part of the combined Little Grey Cup-Santa Claus parade through the city Friday night.

Girls are Dawn Eby, 15, of 1744 Gonzales; Judy Arthurs, 16, of 2716 Scase Road, Langford; Leila Lumatta, 1504 Oakland Avenue; Diana Ferguson, 16, of 734 Lily Avenue; Marlene Casilio, 17, of 1150 Union; Pat Ridings, 944 Darwin Road; Sharon Unwin, 18, of 638 Lampson Street; Dianne Pick, 3523 Cardiff Place.

Judging them will be CHEK-TV's Ida Clarkson, Jaycee president Bryan Holliday and Mrs. Irene Warren, Hudson's Bay Co.

Also on the banquet program is a 20-minute film "The Lions' Story." Coaches and captains of the Little Grey Cup teams will also be present.

Teams for this year are Nanaimo's Redmen, juvenile champions for Vancouver Island, and Manitoba's Fort Garry Lions.

The Fort Garry players will take part in the parade, but special activities in Nanaimo will keep the Redmen from arriving until the last minute.

8:30 START

The game will start at 8:30 p.m. Friday when the parade reaches Royal Athletic Park after a half-hour trip along Douglas Street from the provincial government car park.

The Chamber of Commerce hopes to have Miss Little Grey Cup represent the Island at Grey Cup celebrations in Vancouver Saturday morning.

The winner will receive gifts of clothing and accessories from downtown businesses, and each contestant will also receive a small token.

Shareholders Seek to Block Takeover Bid

CALGARY (CP) — Two shareholders of Northwest Nitrochemicals Ltd. of Medicine Hat have started action in Alberta Supreme Court to crush a bid for complete takeover of the fertilizer-manufacturing company by its parent firm. The shareholders, John E. Long of Edmonton and Milton H. Staples of Calgary, were granted an interim injunction by Mr. Justice W. J. C. Kirby of the Alberta Supreme Court halting the exchange of Northwest shares for preferred shares in Commercial Solvents Corp., of New York, until the case is heard.

The Tasks Ahead

ON THE SHOULDERS OF THE man who last Friday assumed, through tragic circumstance, the presidency of the United States, lies a great and terrible burden.

Lyndon Baines Johnson takes up his position as well prepared as any man before him and better than most. He is highly-skilled in the arts of politics, he is dynamic and intelligent, he both gives and commands in others loyalty to the causes in which he believes. Those who know him well say that he has courage and integrity; that he is not a man to compromise his high principles for political expediency.

Furthermore — thanks to the wisdom of his predecessor — President Johnson had for three years played an active role in the councils of government and statecraft far surpassing that of any vice-president before him. He travelled widely throughout the world on behalf of President Kennedy and was well-briefed on every issue of importance which confronted the president.

Nevertheless, and despite all the fine attributes of mind and personality, training and experience, which are possessed by President Johnson, the whole world will watch and wonder in the coming months how the man will measure up to the isolation and loneliness, to the crushing responsibility of leadership of the United States and the free world.

In his conduct of domestic affairs, President Johnson will be granted a period of several weeks, free from political partisanship, in which to take up the threads of office. He has pledged himself to push through Congress the late president's legislative program and he should, in fact, have little trouble with such important measures as the civil rights bill or the tax cut bill. The opponents of these measures will be wary, at this time when the mind of the nation is still filled with grief over the untimely loss of President Kennedy, of being counted among those who fought against measures which the late president believed so necessary to the social and economic welfare of his country.

This political truce, however, cannot and should not last long. It is as essential for the survival of good government that honest and informed opposition to the new administration should not be too long inhibited as it is that there should be a "breathing space" in which the people, their representatives and their leaders can soberly assess the meaning of the tragedy which has overtaken them.

It is an inescapable fact that however much Lyndon Johnson desires to pursue the aims and policies of John Kennedy, he must place the stamp of his own personality on the administration and, in so doing, and influenced by changing events, subtly alter those aims and policies.

This alteration is likely to be seen most rapidly and most noticeably in the area of greatest concern to those of us outside the United States—in the field of American foreign policy. Here there will be no discernible pause in the fight for leadership of Europe, of Asia, of South America—or of the whole world.

World events do not wait for a new American president to gather up the reins of power. The pressure on Berlin is not relieved, the subversion of Latin America continues unabated, the fighting in Viet Nam is not halted. Indeed, the Communists may see in the death of President Kennedy an opportunity for gains which cannot be resisted and they may feel the necessity to probe, where the risk is not too great, for any signs of weakness or lack of resolution on the part of President Johnson.

Fortunately, as the record shows, weakness and lack of resolution have never been part of the new president's personal or political life. As a young man he labored in difficult jobs to finance his education, he was decorated for bravery during Second World War duty as a navy pilot, and he never turned away from a tough decision in his years as a congressman and a senator. He seems to be a firm, but not precipitate, man in whom the free world can repose considerable confidence.

President Johnson will need the confidence and co-operation of the free world in the months ahead. In his absorption with domestic affairs and the threat of increasing Communist pressures, he will have little time for the bickering of those who consider themselves the friends and allies of the United States. These friends, among whom Canadians proudly count themselves, must not take American unawareness of their problems for slight, or preoccupation with greater problems for indifference, in the difficult months ahead.

Canadians First

MR. PEARSON HAS SET AN admirable example of flexibility which could give constructive purpose to his current meeting with provincial premiers in Ottawa.

In their hands lies the potential to solve many of the problems facing the country and to remove strains which threaten to tear it apart. But the potential will be realized only if they, in turn, respond with a flexibility of their own, work toward solutions of problems through reasonable discussion and try in concert to surmount obvious barriers which have been raised against unity and cohesion in Canada.

These problems will not all be solved by dollars and cents. It is apparent, however, that economics, and that branch of them expressed in taxes, will play a major part in any worthwhile solutions. In recognition of that fact the premiers have taken to the national capital briefs containing the views of their individual governments on how present tax arrangements should be changed to mutual advantage.

Mr. Pearson has told them that his government is not committed to any particular fiscal arrangement for sharing the tax dollar and sees the possibility of "entirely new approaches to the tax arrangements of Canada and the provinces."

No satisfactory agreements, however, should be expected overnight, or as the result of a few days' discussions. Nor can they be expected at all if the conference turns into a wrangle in which each provincial leader insists on acceptance of his viewpoint.

This is a time for co-operation, understanding and a recognition of explicit Canadian facts. Among these is the single, over-riding fact that we who live in Canada are Canadians, whether our residences are in Victoria or St. John's. The money we pay in taxes of various sorts to the federal government becomes Canada's money. And it must be used for Canada, with due consideration given to those parts of our country which need special help. The rich must share with the poor.

Adjustments there may be in formulas for collecting and distributing the funds needed by Canada. But no equitable arrangement can be made if provinces adopt the position that the federal treasury is a grab-bag from which each must seize as much as he can, with the devil taking the hindmost.

The opportunity is presented at Ottawa this week for a strong, unifying effort to reshape Canada into a more viable state. But the opportunity will be lost if provincial premiers see the occasion solely as a chance to grab the most they can for their separate regions and fail to recognize their roles as Canadians first.

Wise Move on Police Station

THE CITY COUNCIL HAS acted wisely in asking Victoria ratepayers to approve a $375,000 money-bylaw to renovate and expand the city police station.

This is an essential development if the City Hall precinct is to measure up to what is expected of it, and a necessity if magistrate's court and local police operations are to receive the attention they deserve. Stemming from yesterday's decision may also come a solution to the problem over use of Saanich courtroom facilities for Greater Victoria cases.

If Fisgard Street facilities are made adequate, the return of the court to the city would be a natural sequence. The downtown location is obviously more convenient and has been sought by bar association spokesmen and others.

Provided the council's action wins property-owners' support on December 12, a remedy will be provided for one of the very serious deficiencies noted by Mr. George Archer in his scorching report on police facilities here.

Moreover, construction and renovation, in addition to improving the precinct in general, will provide suitable quarters for the magistrate and his staff—a welcome relief from the unsatisfactory accommodation with which they have had to cope.

"In French or English?"

U.S. EFFORTS IN EUROPE

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Replaying Scene That Once Brought Fame

NO FRENCHMAN pretends to believe that France can afford to match Soviet or American nuclear power. The candid Gaullists with whom I have talked regard their small striking force as "independent" in a special and peculiar sense. Shocking though it may sound to Americans, they expect this small force to give France the ability, on its own initiative, to press the trigger that would compel the United States to go into an all-out war. Strictly speaking, what France is seeking to create is not an independent French nuclear force, but an independent detonator of the American nuclear force.

Lippmann

Will Not Press Trigger

In these matters of the life and death of nations and of civilization itself, we can allow no such dangerous illusion to persist. However, I am not sure how seriously the whole business is to be taken. Thus, when I pressed the matter, pointing out that the United States would not surrender its independence to Paris and that we have many ways of asserting our independence, a Gaullist official with whom I was talking admitted quickly enough that France had no intention of pressing its trigger.

The French are just as much afraid of a nuclear holocaust as are the rest of us. The purpose of creating the trigger, he assured me, is not to pull it—ever—but to negotiate with the United States and the Soviet Union on the basis that France possesses such a trigger and has a finger on it.

I don't think this is going to deceive anybody very much, and there is no need, I conclude, to be too excited in Washington over the French nuclear deterrent, or over the British. They are not military instruments. Their main purpose is to give weight to French and British diplomacy in all the steps that will lead up to an eventual accommodation. Though the accommodation is not yet in sight, it is believed to be not too far below the horizon.

In the meantime, the security which results from the existing balance of nuclear power is so great that General de Gaulle feels quite free to dismantle the postwar structure. He does believe in the alliance between Western Europe and the United States—in the commitment to go to war together if war breaks out—and he insists that he proved it in the Cuban crisis. But he does not believe in the NATO establishment which General Eisenhower once commanded. He regards it as obsolete and as an undesirable prolongation of American hegemony in Western Europe.

He does not believe in the ideology of the Common Market and in the political aspirations toward European union which accompanied its birth. And so he may break up the Common Market if Chancellor Erhard does not sacrifice the German farm bloc to the French farm bloc.

He does not believe in the United Nations as a peace-keeping organization, and he has little respect for it as a debating forum, because it contains so many new and weak governments.

Against Negotiations Now

He does not believe in negotiating with the Soviet Union now, because he does not think anything will be lost if we do not negotiate.

Moreover, there is a profound difference between his views of West Germany and the current American view. We tend to think of Germany as purged and recovered and as the leading power of Western Europe. The real Gaullist view, so I have come to realize, is that West Germany, after the criminal orgy of Nazism, after the shock of defeat and with the open wounds of partition, is a big, deeply-perturbed invalid who must be nursed, guarded and tranquilized lest he relapse into his old illusions.

That is why the general thinks that our attitude toward West Germany is simple-minded and dangerous.

Rejects U.S. Leadership

So one may say that he dislikes practically everything that Truman and Acheson, Eisenhower and Dulles constructed when Western Europe was poor, prostrate and defenceless. And now that Western Europe is prosperous and feels itself secure, the general rejects entirely the late President Kennedy's assumption that he was the leader and protector of the Western society.

General de Gaulle is not very kind about it all, and he does nothing to make it easier to come to an understanding—to agree, let us say, on the idea that the postwar structure was the salvation of Europe, but that it has served its purpose and must be radically transformed before we shall begin to see the permanent shape of European-American relations.

But however lacerated our feelings, the evidence is, I think, unmistakable that the Europeans have turned a corner and that the postwar era is over. Seen from Europe, our own efforts to revive the Western alliance as it was in the 1950s tend to sound like the old soldier fighting all over again the battles of the wars he went to stop. And our speeches often sound like those of the old actor who is playing a return engagement in a role which once made him famous.

FROM BOMBAY

By ASHWINI KUMARI

Nehru—Survival and Regeneration

INDIA is witnessing an unmistakable revival of Nehruism. The prophets who a year ago predicted that the military reverses suffered at the hands of the Chinese would lead to a decline in Mr. Nehru's popularity and the emergence of a strong alternative leadership have been proved wrong.

Mr. Nehru seems not only to have salvaged his reputation from the debris of his China policy but is in a far stronger position than ever before. For the first time there is no talk, not even a whisper, of succession, and the familiar question "After Nehru Who?" has receded into the background. Instead, talk revolves round the potential scope of Mr. Nehru's current party purge. Which cabinet minister will Mr. Nehru sack next? Whom will he choose next for the governorship of Maharashtra State?

Earlier Talk

As Mr. Nehru marched past President Radhakrishnan in the Republic Day parade on January 26 at the head of some 300 MPs and over 250,000 Delhi citizens, he seemed overburdened and tired. The diplomatic corps in the capital and the foreign correspondents all too readily assumed that the Nehru era was coming to a close. There was talk that Dr. Radhakrishnan had become a real power, that Mr. Nehru would be slowly edged out and that the ruling Congress Party was crystallizing in favor of rule by a combination of moderates and rightists.

Also, for the first time, public criticism of Mr. Nehru had become vocal. Though no politician or newspaper openly called for his resignation, opinion was that the Himalayan reverses had shown him up as a poor protector of national sovereignty. People could be heard loudly berating the prime minister. This was so even in remote villages where his image had remained that of a pristine hero.

Like the Hindu religion which has absorbed a hundred invasions and assaults, Nehruism appears to have some built-in secret of survival and regeneration. When Mr. Nehru celebrated his 74th birthday a few days ago, there was a mass outburst of adulation. There were children's rallies, exhibitions of his photographs (one in Bombay was entitled "Many Moods of Nehru"), public dinners and processions. In Madras women broke coconuts before a Nehru painting as it he were some deity.

Some observers think that far from disclosing Mr. Nehru's strength, the current revival of Nehruism reveals a disturbing weakness in the functioning of Indian democracy. They point out that the initiative would not have passed into Mr. Nehru's hands once again, at any rate not so firmly, had the country's politicians done some heart-searching.

Physically, too, Mr. Nehru seems to be back in form. On a single day recently he addressed three public meetings, talked to separate groups of politicians and planners, shook hands with 500 visiting peasants, disposed of a big heap of diplomatic files and found time to finish a book on modern technology.

But with so many calls on his time and energy and fewer of his colleagues doing their homework, Mr. Nehru has been giving an impression of impatience and superficiality. This was clearly shown by the Voice of America controversy. He admitted that he had given his approval to the project (the setting up of a VOA transmitter in Calcutta) without actually studying the Cabinet papers. New Delhi had to request Washington to shelve the deal in the wake of the public clamor that followed the first announcement.

Unrealized Expectations

The expectation that Mr. Nehru would be able to decentralize his personal authority in a country where there is almost a crippling tradition of domination by elders has not materialized and seems an even more distant prospect. For 16 years Mr. Nehru's advice, rebukes and displays of indignation have been the catalysts of administrative efficiency and they continue to give substance and speed to Indian recovery.

Whether it is an engineering project, railway construction, a slum-clearance project, child welfare, the dismissal of a corrupt politician, the pruning of a provincial cabinet, the people directly concerned who ought to make the decisions have a habit of seeking Mr. Nehru's "guidance." "All progress stems from Panditji's indignation," said a Bombay columnist.

Some commentators point out that while this almost pathetic national dependence on Mr. Nehru weakens the foundations of Indian democracy, it must also overtax and weaken Mr. Nehru himself.

One cabinet minister told me: "Don't think that we are not aware of these things. We would like Panditji to delegate more and more of his authority. We are also anxious that he should not over-exert himself." Pausing for a few moments, he added: "But who is to tell him?"

The Whole Firm

In the announcement in connection with our participation in the design of Centennial Victoria Square, credit was given only to myself, in the form John Wade and R. W. Siddall, Architects.

It has caused me personal distress and the firm has been embarrassed by the omission of the proper credits. These should read "Wade Stockdill & Armour and R. W. Siddall Associates, Architects."

I trust you will be able to publish this letter to set the matter straight and that future mention of the project may be made accurately.

Not First Sub Commander

In your article "Submarine Goes Under the Knife," in the last paragraph about Lt.-Cdr. George McMorris being the first Canadian to serve as commanding officer of an RN submarine is quite incorrect.

Lieutenant-Commander F. C. Sherwood was the first Canadian Volunteer Reserve officer to join submarines as a lieutenant and he also had the distinction of being the first VR officer to have a command in late 1943 or early 1944. I know, I was in the submarine service for three and a half years during World War II.

Remembered Lines

The sudden tragic death of one of America's greatest presidents brings to mind James Shirley's (1596-1666) immortal lines:

The glories of our blood and state
Are shadows, not substantial things;
There is no armour against fate,
Death lays his icy hand on kings.

Or Sir Walter Raleigh's (1552-1618) great lines on death:

O eloquent, just and mighty death! Whom none could advise thou hath persuaded; What no man hath dared, thou hast done: and who all the world hath flattered, thou only hath cast out of the world and despised. Thou hast drawn together all the far stretched greatness, the pride, cruelty and ambition of man and covered it over with these two narrow words — HIC JACET.

With Full Hearts

By AIR VICE-MARSHAL G. R. HOWSAM, CB, MC (R't'd.)

Last weekend, the United States Comamnder-in-Chief died by gun-fire. It was probably more than a shot by a crack-pot, and more unbelievable than the "Day of Infamy." For when the final funeral rites were finished at Arlington, and a trumpet sounded the Last Post, that trumpet call rang round the world with amazing clarity.

We can never forget that burst of gun-fire at Dallas. Neither can we forget that, as the Commander-in-Chief died doing his duty, so do many obscure American soldiers, sailors and airmen continue to die week after week—in the remote corners of the earth—in the defence of our way of life. Surely the least of these matter also. For no act of any government, by cloaking a man in uniform—makes that man dispensable.

As a fellow soldier and airman, I salute the many tip-top Americans who came to Canada and served in the British Royal Flying Corps in the First World War, and again in the Royal Canadian Air Force in the Second World War. Further, as the proud Air Officer Commanding of the Air Staging Route to Alaska from June, 1942, to January, 1944, in which many Americans were serving—and also as the humble and proud holder of the United States Legion of Merit in the Degree of Commander—may I reassure our good American friends that all Canadians are as one with our prime minister in extending Canada's deepest sympathy to them in their—and our—great loss.

That trumpet call at Arlington will be heard in far places for a long time. Certainly never since Pearl Harbor has this continent been so closely and firmly united. Perhaps at no time since the Second World War have the peoples of the Western world been so close to each other. The vast assemblage of the world's captains and kings to pay their respects to the fallen American Commander-in-Chief, bore signal witness to this unity.

Now the measured tread of marching men, and the muffled drums are silent. Now the captains and the kings have departed, but we shall remember the fine example set by the man, who thought only of what he could give to his country. That example shall always stand as a tall monument, not only to him but also to his countrymen everywhere, whether within the United States, or on duty at the farthest outposts of defence for the Western world.

We Canadians salute our friends and good neighbors with full hearts. We shall remember.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

Like to Know About 'The Peace'?

WHEN he lived across Crescent Road and up Gonzales Hill from me a few years ago, Gordon Bowes was a member of our back-of-the-bus discussion club.

Stott

On the way into town in the morning we'd talk over the early run of the news, sometimes take stands and occasionally argue.

Gordon had a disconcerting habit in argument. You might be building a relatively cohesive case when he'd interrupt with the question: "But what are the facts?"

It was not advisable with him to follow the policy of an old-time friend of mine who, lacking statistics and data to support his position, merely invented what he needed. Gordon wanted something better than the creation of an advocate's imagination. He wanted the facts nailed down.

* * *

I thought of this characteristic as I read the opening chapters of "Peace River Chronicles" which Gordon collected, edited, had printed in Victoria by Charlie Morriss and bound as an admirable book for anyone interested in British Columbia and particularly the Peace River area.

As far as my former neighbor, and present member of the B.C. Hydro staff in Vancouver is concerned, the volume is not fiction. It goes to original sources.

I don't know how a researcher and historian finds the time and patience to cull through ancient documents to produce original sources for a work of consequence. This is no job for a dilettante, an intellectual butterfly who pauses only briefly in a random flight to nowhere. This is a task for somebody who has perseverance and discipline enough to carry through to the objective.

Gordon has written an interesting preface and clear, concise explanatory material for many of his chapters. But the bulk of the work is reproduction of old documents, journal entries, other published work.

"Some of it," he told me, "has appeared before. Some of it is new insofar as it has not previously been reprinted from the original documents. I wanted to get an authentic story."

He has done that, and in the process has brought to narrative the truth that is often better than fiction—the story, in many cases, of the classic conflict which is man's struggle for survival.

This, in some instances, is the rough, rugged compilation of a fragment of history hacked from unyielding forests, poled up and down all but impassable rapids, hewn from the hard stone of the Rockies and piled from the talus debris of great canyons. It is a western story of adventure the more improbable because it is true. And it is written by first-men-on-the-ground whose literacy varied but whose strength was sufficient to keep them alive and usually the men with them.

It is not all history. Some may be legend in as much as the "original sources" may, at times, have found the play of their own imaginations too strong for dry, statistical reporting.

* * *

I think of Gordon devoting almost all his spare time to the task of digging out incidents and events, characters and historical trends after his full day's work at the office. I think of him doing this for several years.

I wonder, a little, how Stephanie, his wife, became enmeshed in the project, and how his two sons were conscripted into some of the physical labors of preparing the book for distribution.

I hope the labors of all of them earn their just reward. And I am convinced that people here—and wherever the story of the explorer, the early pioneer and the developer of a new country claim interest—will be well recompensed for reading the graphic pieces Gordon has selected. It's a good book.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

Coldframe to the Rescue

For those gardeners who have what we call a heavy garden soil, there are ways of getting an early start next spring.

Hilda

Deprived of the pleasure of sowing seed of the hardy annuals out of doors in April or in late fall, it will still be possible to have them flowering by early June.

By using that greatest boon of the amateur gardener—the coldframe—seeds sown during December will be ready for transplanting whenever the heavier garden soils have dried out sufficiently to be worked.

Many of the hardy annuals which we don't see too often can be raised in this way. The modern larkspurs for instance, which come in lovely colors and double blossoms are well worth a try.

Sow the seed thinly in flats of sifted sandy soil. Firm well with a block of wood and place in a coldframe.

Aim to keep out excessive wet, but do not otherwise coddle the seedlings. By the time your heavy soil is workable in spring, they will have developed ample roots for transplanting but not too much top growth.

Many gardening articles state that larkspur seedlings are difficult or even impossible to prick out or transplant, but I have handled many hundreds with perhaps a loss of one per cent.

Apart from larkspur, seed of calendula (improved strains of this Scotch marigold are seldom seen in gardens), godetia (choose a soft pink for all summer mass of color) and the new strains of annual chrysanthemums may be sown now in flats for spring transplanting.

Keep the flats in as much light as possible in the coldframe, and have the covers raised to permit cold air to circulate yet at the same time keep out rain.

Thin sowing of the seed will prevent too great a tangling of roots among the seedlings.

A sprinkling of water may occasionally be needed during winter after the seed has germinated.

Australia Election Saturday

MELBOURNE, Australia (Reuters) — Millions of Australians will go to the polls Saturday to elect a new federal House of Representatives now dominated by a precarious one-man majority of the ruling Liberal-Country party coalition.

The coalition leader, Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies, called the election a year ahead of schedule to enable Australia to adopt foreign and defence policies "managed by a government which has a clear mandate from the Australian people."

House elections are held every three years and voting is compulsory.

The three main issues Menzies was reported to have in mind were the newly-formed Federation of Malaysia, a United States Navy signals base to be set up in western Australia and a proposed nuclear-free zone in the southern hemisphere.

However, the final stages of the election campaign have been dominated by a vote-catching barrage of promises on the domestic front, which has cast a virtual smokescreen over foreign policy issues.

8 Die In Crash

NEW DELHI (AP) — An Indian Air Force plane, missing since Friday, was located Monday, crashed in the Himalayas. All eight occupants are believed dead, the defence ministry said. The plane was flying from Srinagar, Kashmir, to Jammu.

EYES ON SOUTH-EAST ASIA AS CHINA MOUNTS PRESSURE

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China has thrown down the gauntlet to President Lyndon B. Johnson. He faces the prospect of stepped-up warfare in South Viet Nam and Laos and possibly new crises in Korea and Cambodia.

The Peking regime has made clear it is determined to probe for any sign of U.S. uncertainty or weakness in Asian policy following the death of President Kennedy.

The Chinese swiftly denounced Johnson as a supporter of Kennedy's "various reactionary policies." This has been followed by hostile appraisals of Johnson from North Viet Nam and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao of Laos.

North Korea has not reacted officially to the American change of leadership, but has stepped up the virulence and volume of its anti-U.S. campaign.

The war in South Viet Nam is a prime proving ground for China's tough revolutionary theories. North Viet Nam, which directs and assists Communist subversion in the south, quickly announced the fighting would continue as it had when Kennedy was directing U.S. assistance to South Viet Nam's anti-Communist forces.

CONTINUE FIGHT

Said the official Communist organ Nhan Dan: "Kennedy is dead, but (the people of the world) do not relax in their struggle against U.S. imperialism and for national independence, democracy and socialism."

To underline this threat, the Viet Cong guerrillas mounted powerful attacks on strategic hamlets in the south, dealing the young military regime some of the heaviest blows of the war.

In Laos, the Pathet Lao Tuesday removed all doubts about where its allegiance lies. Once supported by the Russians, it now echoes Peking's line.

The Pathet Lao radio said:

"The U.S. imperialists will continue their policy of intervention in Laos and become more inflexible. Under such circumstances the Laotian people should never harbor any illusions about Johnson. No matter who becomes president, the nature of U.S. imperialism remains unchanged and its policy will continue to be aggressive and bellicose."

This means that the Pathet Lao no longer will respond to Soviet attempts to check its aggressive moves.

RENEW ATTACKS

Kennedy's death was the signal for harsh, new attacks from North Korea calling the Americans "the most knavish murderers, brigandish marauders, inveterate enemy of the Korean people and the common enemy of mankind."

The North Koreans, without apparent reason, have staged several shooting incidents on the 38th parallel in recent months. Now they may again test military reactions in their sector.

The Laotian, South Vietnamese and Korean problems have plagued American administrations for many years. To them now is added that of little Cambodia whose leader, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, cabled Peking a few hours after the Kennedy assassination his gratitude for "its determination to oppose the criminal designs of the imperialists. . . ."

Should Sihanouk call for Peking's help against a real or fancied incursion by South Viet Nam or Thailand, Johnson would be confronted with a situation in which a misstep could lead to a military showdown with Red China.

Ratepayers In New Plea For Stoplight

View Royal Ratepayers' Association and Community Association are making another plea to the highway department of the provincial government for a push-button stoplight at the Helmcken Road intersection of the Trans-Canada Highway.

New executive were also asked to prepare plebiscites for the installation of street lights and sewers in the area and to take action against the smoke nuisance of the Plumper Bay sawmill.

Joseph Sutherland was elected president, Russell Stark, vice-president, and Mrs. Archibald Kay, secretary.

Victims Identified

PENTICTON (CP) — Two men, killed in a head-on car-truck crash four miles south of here, were identified by police Monday as Andrew George Christie, 45, and Barry Raggett, 22, both of Penticton.

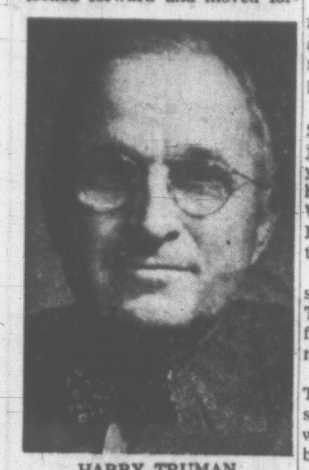
In Another Era, Similar Words

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "We must carry on. Our departed leader never looked back. He looked forward and moved forward. That is what he would want us to do. That is what America will do."



HARRY TRUMAN
. . . in 1945

These words were spoken by a new president to a joint session of Congress on the occasion of the sudden death of his predecessor in office.

It was former President Harry S. Truman who stood before a joint session of Congress 18 years ago. Four days before, he had been summoned to the White House to hear Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt say, "Harry, the President is dead."

At the time, Lyndon B. Johnson was a congressman from Texas, called back to his seat from wartime service in the navy.

The men who stood behind Truman when he opened his speech with the words "It is with heavy heart that I stand before you" are gone.

Democrat Sam Rayburn occupied the Speaker's chair, Sen. Kenneth McKellar, D—Tenn., was president pro tempore of the Senate. Both are dead.

NERVOUS

In his memoirs, Truman admitted to nervousness. As he put the finishing touches on his speech in a train taking him back to Washington from the Roosevelt funeral in Hyde Park, N.Y., he noted that he hoped it would go well.

It did, but Truman got off to a rocky start. He entered the chamber to a standing ovation, but was "so affected" that he forgot an important bit of protocol.

Striding to the rostrum, he began to speak immediately. "Mr. Speaker," he said, but at that point Speaker Rayburn leaned over and whispered: "Just a minute, Harry, let me introduce you."

The microphones were open and Rayburn's words carried out over the chamber and to the nation via a radio hookup.

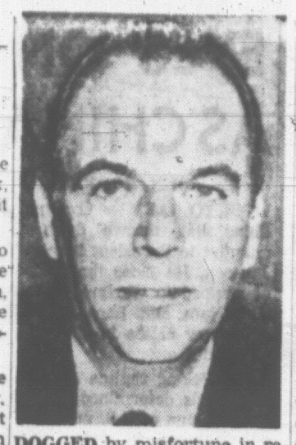
TRIASSIC ORIGIN

Lizards and snakes both belong to the Squamata order, which probably originated in Triassic times, about 200,000,000 years ago.

NINE-NATION TALKS CALLED

LONDON (Reuters) — Cambodia has proposed a nine-nation conference to reinforce her neutrality, authoritative sources said here today.

A foreign office spokesman declined comment beyond saying that a letter was received from Cambodian Foreign Minister Huot Sambath.



DOGGED by misfortune in recent years, Richard A. Mack, 53, one-time member of the Federal Communications Commission in the U.S., was found dead in a shabby room in Miami Tuesday. A jobless alcoholic since he resigned, police said Mack apparently died of natural causes. Mack quit his post under charges of conspiring with long-time Miami lawyer, the late Thurman Whiteside, in the awarding of a Miami television licence.

Court Shuffle Opposed

Saanich Reeve Stanley Murphy Tuesday dashed hopes that the four councils would agree to put Family Court in Saanich and the magistrate's court back in the city.

Reeve Murphy said the Saanich facilities were not suitable for a family court and such a tribunal should not be placed in a police building in any event.

He said any such shuffle would be "at complete variance with the instruction which our council received from the attorney-general's department two months ago and upon which we authorized a $2,000 shared expenditure," said Reeve Murphy.

"The municipalities have every right to expect the attorney-general's department to meet this unnecessary expense."

Victoria council, at a special meeting, gave approval to a $375,000 money bylaw for reconstructing the city police station and adding a two-storey court building alongside it, subject to assent of the ratepayers Dec. 12.

Mr. Bonner put himself on record in a letter as approving the move.

Reeve Murphy agreed with a suggestion by Oak Bay Reeve George Murdoch that a new family court building should be erected between the city's Cook Street health and welfare centre and the newly-opened joint juvenile detention home.

MPs Accept Independent Redistribution

By ROBERT RICE

OTTAWA (CP)—MPs of all parties agreed Tuesday to let independent outsiders draw up new boundaries of their constituencies in the light of population shifts in the last 10 years.

But they disagreed on who the outsiders should be, how many of them should be involved in the job and what the precise ground rules for redistribution of political seats should be.

The debate in the Commons was gentle and polite—a far cry from the political wrangling that dominated most of the nine previous redistribution debates when Parliament itself reset political borders after the 10-year censuses.

State Secretary Pickersgill, piloting the government resolution to establish the office of representation commissioner, said the government would accept any changes to its legislation favored by a majority of MPs.

He said the redistribution job would be tackled by 10 commissions, one for each province. Each commission would consist of three members, plus a fourth, almost certainly to be chief electoral officer Nelson Castonguay, who would sit as representation commissioner on all 10 commissions and act as national co-ordinator.

Mr. Pickersgill said the commissions would be impartial citizens, drawn from the judiciary and from such non-political institutions as universities.

OPPOSED THE IDEA

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker opposed the idea of 10 provincial commissions, contending that one national body of four judges plus Mr. Castonguay could do the job just as well and just as quickly.

A difference also loomed over the ground rules for reflecting the relative voting power of rural and urban electors—perhaps the most ponderous problem to be resolved in the coming redistribution.

He favored an increase in the number of seats in the Commons—now at 265 seats—so that each MP would represent 50,000 to 60,000 Canadians. In the present House, there is a wide range in representation—stretching from 12,500 people in Iles-de-la-Madeleine to 267,000 in York-Scarborough in the Toronto area.

The 10-commission concept, as well as Mr. Castonguay's role in the massive revision task, also was endorsed by A. B. Patterson (SC—Fraser Valley).

SUPPORTS THE IDEA

Gilles Gregoire (Creditiste—Lapointe) supported provincial commissions, but he insisted that all political parties in the Commons have a voice in the appointment of the commissioners.

Mr. Gregoire opposed any move to increase the number of MPs beyond the present total of 265, while seeking a guarantee that Quebec's representation would never drop below 75 MPs.

Of all problems, few have such a direct impact on MPs as the problem of setting the boundaries of their ridings. In the past, MPs themselves had a full hand in the redrawing of their electoral boundaries—and political chicanery often resulted.

Mr. Pickersgill said that the problem of Manitoba, with 14 seats, and Saskatchewan, with 17 seats, would have to be met, since both provinces now have roughly equal population.

At the same time, Alberta's 17 seats and British Columbia's 22 seats would have to be considered, since both provinces were substantially under-represented.

The constitutional guarantee of 10 seats for New Brunswick and four for Prince Edward Island would not be touched.

'PLAY THE GAME' WISH OF KENNEDY'S FAMILY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army-Navy football game at Philadelphia has been postponed for one week to Dec. 7.

The Pentagon issued a brief announcement which said:

"The secretary of the army and the secretary of the navy decided today the Army-Navy football game will be postponed one week in deference to the memory of President Kennedy.

"Consideration was given to cancellation of the game. However, President Kennedy's family requested that the game be played. The game will be dedicated to his memory."

Player Sent To Hospital After Melee

A player is in hospital with concussion following what has been described as "one of the roughest hockey games ever played in Memorial Arena."

Larry Biggs is in "good condition" in Royal Jubilee. Biggs was struck from behind, fell head-first to the ice in the third period of a Pacific Coast Junior Hockey League game between New Westminster and Victoria. New Westminster won 8-4.

Referees Eric Rossiter and Bob Reid assessed 11 minor penalties, four majors, two misconducts and two game misconducts. Victoria coach John Bond was given a game misconduct with less than five minutes to play in the game.

Hockey officials disagreed today on what kind of game it was.

Ivan Temple, B.C. Amateur Hockey Association secretary-treasurer, said "it got out of hand, possibly from the bench." Temple didn't identify "the bench." Normally this would refer to the coaches, Bond of Victoria and Bob Fenton of New Westminster.

Temple said the official score sheet did not contain the signatures of the coaches as required.

Memorial Arena manager Jack Morgan disagreed militantly with the "roughest game ever" label. "It was a tough game," Morgan said. "But one fight led to two others—all in the last period. Up to then it had been alright."

Temple said he would send the referees' report to Don Winslade of New Westminster, president of the Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey Association.

GOALIE IN FIGHT

Temple said the PCAHA should deal with the report since the Pacific Coast Junior Hockey League doesn't have a president at the moment. Temple resigned recently because of pressure of business.

Temple said no penalty was called when Biggs was struck down. Biggs was said to be standing near the boards, a spectator at a fight involving the Victoria goalkeeper and a New Westminster player, when an unidentified New Westminster player struck him over the back of the head.

Temple and Morgan said Biggs didn't "know his name" after the game.

Psychological Warfare, Ticat Reply to Skrien

Leos' Coach Claims Odds Should Favor Hamilton

VANCOUVER (CP) — Whoever made British Columbia Lions favorites to win the Grey Cup didn't talk to the head coach.

The odds should lean to Hamilton Tiger-Cats, says B.C.'s Dave Skrien.

"I don't feel we can't beat them," he adds. "But on the basis of what has happened we'll be underdogs."

What happened was a 38-21 victory by Ticats over Lions in their interlocking Canadian Football League game Sept. 21.

No one can ignore that 17-point spread in predictions about Saturday's Grey Cup final, says Skrien.

Bookmakers in Toronto are quoted as giving Lions a slight edge. Jake Gaudaur, president of the Tiger-Cats, said Tuesday that the teams are remarkably even and he made it 6-to-5 and take your pick.

How anyone can ignore the thrashing by Hamilton is beyond Skrien.

"Smokescreen," said Hamilton coach Ralph Sazio of Skrien's remarks.

"Psychological warfare," commented Gaudaur.

Homer Sidelined

As Ticats arrived in town Tuesday evening, Lions worked out under lights at the Callister Park soccer field near the game site, Empire Stadium.

Missing were flanker Sonny Homer, with a knee injury, and corner linebacker Paul Seale, who has aggravated his shoulder injury. End Pat Clardige ran his pass patterns but he kept his right arm protectively close to his chest to prevent aggravation of a healing shoulder separation.

Two members of the club await the word today on voting for the National football awards. Quarterback Joe Kapp opposed quarter Russ Jackson of Ottawa as Canada's outstanding player, and inside linebacker Tom Brown had tackle Angelo Mosca of Hamilton to battle for outstanding lineman honors.

Field 'Deplorable'

Tiger-Cats are staying at a hotel near a Stanley Park practice field and Lions move Thursday into a motor hotel not far away for the final two days before the 1 p.m. PST kickoff Saturday. The game will be televised on both the CBC and CTV networks.

Sazio said he figures the game will be close, if field conditions are good. If conditions are bad, anything could happen. It was pretty hard to make game plan for a bad field.

Gaudaur, who came here Monday, said the field is in "deplorable" condition. Sazio will look at it today.

The Pacific National Exhibition, owner of the stadium, is blowing hot air onto the turf beneath a plywood cover in an attempt to dry it. It was turned into a mud bath in places because of continuous rain and poor drainage.

Tiger-Cats Healthy

Sazio said: "It is difficult to say who would suffer the most from a bad field but it was certain that B.C. all-star back Willie Fleming would be slowed down.

"In poor conditions the game would deteriorate to straight-ahead basic plays with some passing."

He said a slippery field would mean that Hamilton would not use the "counter" offence which was effective against Ottawa Rough Riders, defeated 63-38 by Hamilton in the Eastern two-game, total-point final.

Hamilton arrived here healthy except for Ronald Ray, Canadian end who is out for the season with an injury. Ray arrived with the team, however.

Up to Mayor To Ensure Ticat Victory

HAMILTON (CP) — This city is planning a civic reception Monday to welcome its victorious Tiger - Cats back from the Grey Cup in Vancouver.

Mayor Victor Copps was directed by council Tuesday night to go to Vancouver and to make sure the team is victorious. Just how was left up to the mayor.

The city made similar advance plans two years ago but the Tiger-Cats lost to Winnipeg Blue Bombers. Hamilton found itself left with 40 civic rings it couldn't get rid of.

No advance plans were made last year when Hamilton again lost to Winnipeg.

Dynamos Win

MOSCOW (AP) — Moscow's Dynamo team won the Russian soccer championship for the 10th time by tying Kairat of Almta Ata, 0-0 Tuesday. This clinched the title for the Dynamos, who have one game to play, Tass reported.

GREASY KID STUFF . . .

. . . has nothing on the appearance of Empire Stadium turf after sluicy, juicy, November rain. Workman pushed fork into soggy turf to encourage drainage . . . as the rain poured on. In background, hot-air blowers under raised protective covering attacked the soggy mass.

Redmen Won't Worry If Skies Keep Dripping

Weary of November rain?
Hoping for a return of sunny skies?

If so, you have a lot of company in these parts but you won't find sympathy for anti-sogginess sentiments in one corner of Nanaimo.

In that corner are coach Ed Bourke and his Nanaimo Redmen, who play host to Fort Garry Lions Friday night at Royal Athletic Park in juvenile football's fourth annual Little Grey Cup game.

Bourke and his Vancouver Island champions won't mind a bit if there's gooey going when they start chasing their second straight triumph over the kingpins of Manitoba's juvenile pigskin ranks.

The reason is simple, Lions have played on dry fields all season and the Redmen figure the visitors are liable to find their razzle-dazzle running attack tossed out of timing by mud and moisture.

'WE'LL TAKE LIONS'

"We'll take the Lions if the field is heavy," says Bourke. "We'll show them last year was no fluke."

For the record, Nanaimo gave the Island its first win in the series last season by nipping Winnipeg West End Rams 7-6 after the Manitoba invaders had won the first two Little Grey Cup tussles.

Regardless of ground conditions, the Lions should find the Redmen tough to handle. Just about matching Fort Garry's heavy line with a forward unit that includes 245-pound Bill Clift, Redmen have the talent to launch a versatile attack.

YANIW KEY MAN

Key man for surprise sorties is quarterback Kent Yaniw, whose ability to either pass or run can keep defenders guessing. Yaniw is a threat every time he rolls out on option plays. He can fling passes on the run and, when he gets an opening, he has the speed to ramble for long gains.

However, the backbone of the Nanaimo attack is still their running game. Al Matson and Larry Biggs are probably the two main threats when the Redmen go on the ground. They were prominent as Nanaimo won all but one game this season while averaging 30 points per game and yielding an average of only six.

Coach Gary Hobson and his Lions, who arrived in Victoria this afternoon, aren't too worried about the Redmen. They have the confidence that goes with a successful season, which brought them the Manitoba crown and a 28-16 exhibition triumph over Point Clair Avengers, the Quebec champs.

For whatever the Redmen pull out of the strategy bag at 8:30 Friday night, the Lions believe they will have the answer.

Detroit Thanksgiving No Fun for Packers

DETROIT (AP)—Green Bay Packers are quitting the traditional series of U.S. Thanksgiving Day games at Detroit—but Detroit Lions have one more chance Thursday to spoil the holiday for Green Bay fans.

The Lions banished Green Bay's holiday cheer last Thanksgiving by dumping the National Football League's Western Division leaders 26-14. The Packers still finished first but the Lions won in embarrassing style.

Detroit is in a better position to ruin the Packers this season, since a loss would all but knock Green Bay out of the title running.

The Packers, with a 9-2 record, are on the heels of the division-leading Chicago Bears, who have a 9-1-1 mark. They need three victories and a Chicago loss to win the division title.

Claiming that the Thanksgiving Day game at Detroit doesn't give him enough time to get his men ready, Green Bay coach Vince Lombardi has been trying for years to get out of the game.

He convinced NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle that after Thursday, the Western Division teams should take turns playing at Detroit on Thanksgiving Day.

Week Tacked On To AFL Schedule

NEW YORK (CP) — Commissioner Joe Foss has announced a revised schedule for the American Football League necessitated by the league's decision to cancel last weekend's games out of respect to the late President Kennedy.

The season will be prolonged one week through Sunday, Dec. 22, the original date of the championship game. Foss said a new date for the title game will be set shortly.

Leos Won't Voice Fears for Field

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia Lions will keep any qualms about Grey Cup field conditions under their collective hat this week.

Coach Dave Skrien said Tuesday that now a decision has been made on how to improve the Empire Stadium gridiron, the subject is closed.

"I'm happy they've come up with the best solution to drying the field," Skiren said. "They feel this is going to assure the best results."

The Lions and Skrien wanted the muddy centre of the field returned for Saturday's game against Hamilton Tiger-Cats, but officials responsible for the decision ruled otherwise Monday. The field has been covered by plywood and tarpaulin and is being dried by oil and propane blowers.

BACK INTO MUD

Skrien suggested Monday that dried mud would turn immediately back into mud with any rain Saturday.

"We naturally felt the best method was the one we proposed but apparently this was not so," Skrien said. "It had nothing to do with me. And there's nothing that can be done now."

The coach has other problems that he can attend to, such as catching up on his study of the Ticat game films.

Veteran members of the Tiger-Cats will likely feel a trifle strange when they once again try for the Grey Cup Saturday.

It will be the first time in seven attempts during a 10-year span they won't be looking down the throats of hungry Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

In fact, if you go right back to 1934, each of Hamilton's eight tries for the cup, emblematic of the Canadian football championship, has been against a Winnipeg team.

Hamilton met Winnipeg in the Grey Cup in 1953, 1957, 1958, 1959, 1961 and 1962. They won only in 1953 and 1957 (32-7).

GENTILE TRADED

Bucs Raid Cash Box To Aquire Freese

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Reds sold veteran third baseman Gene Freese to Pittsburgh Pirates today for cash and a minor league player to be delivered later.

The amount of cash was not disclosed but it was described as "substantial."

In Pittsburgh, general manager Joe L. Brown of the Pirates said it was the largest amount of money the club has paid for a player "since I've been in Pittsburgh—a little over eight years." Brown also declined to disclose the amount.

In going to the Pirates, the 29-year-old Freese will be returning to the club with which he started his major league career in 1955. He also has played with St. Louis Cardinals, Philadelphia Phils and Chicago White Sox.

The Reds obtained Freese from the White Sox in December, 1960. He was a key figure in Cincinnati's drive to a National League pennant in 1961, batting .277 with 26 home runs and 87 runs batted in.

ORIOLES GET SIEBERN

It was the second major transaction in two days.

On Tuesday, Jim Gentile, the moody slugger of Baltimore Orioles was traded to Kansas City Athletics for Norm Siebern. The Orioles also turned over an undisclosed amount of cash in the swap of first basemen.

The trade was the second big one for the Athletics this month. They swapped second baseman Jerry Lumpe and pitchers Dave Wickersham and Ed Rakow to Detroit Tigers for heavy-hitting Rocky Colavito and pitcher Bob Anderson on Nov. 18.

Gentile, rescued from the minor leagues by former Oriole manager Paul Richards in 1959, was the hero of Baltimore fans during his first two seasons.

But he had fallen from favor during the last two years because of both his slump at the bat and his attitude on the playing field.

KEGLERS CROSS OCEANS . . . . . FOR BIGGEST TENPIN EVENT

Bowling Blossoms Into International Sport

By BILL McCORMICK

CHICAGO (NEA)—Bowling probably originated when some sports-minded ancient started knocking over sticks with the skull of a next-door neighbor who had hammered after hours on a mastodon-bone marimba.

Through the centuries the sport became as American as buckwheat cakes with maple syrup, until a highly refined version was reintroduced abroad at the turn of of this decade.

Now kegling has become so cosmopolitan that the biggest tournament of them all, the World's Invitational Match Game championships, draws able competitors from foreign countries.

High rollers from Finland, Australia, Japan, Mexico and Canada will be among the 128 men and 64 women competing in the Bowling Proprietors Association's seventh annual big show that started here last Thursday and winds up Sunday night.

None of the five male invaders is liable to dethrone amazing Don Carter, who won the World's title five times in the past six years and was runner-up in 1958. Neither do any of the three women visitors figure to supplant grandma Marion Ladewig, who also won the crown in 1957 and 1960. Nevertheless their presence officially lifts bowling from the provincial to the international.

Tauno Nieminen of Helsinki has long been one of Europe's best. He won the championship of Finland, averaging 227, and was winner of the International Match Game Tournament in Brussels in October, where he averaged 201 for the 26-game finals and had a 498 for a two-game block.

John Fitch of Sydney won the Australian National All-Star singles title, averaging 199 for 32 in the finals.

Kojiro Wada, 23, is a student at Meiji University in Tokyo. He beat 150 of his country's top rollers in a special qualifying trial for the World's, averaging 191 although still recovering from an automobile accident that kept him hospitalized 45 days.

Tony Chibi, from Leamington, Ont., is Canadian Masters singles champion. Tony Reynolds, the Mexican representative, won the world's amateur singles and doubles titles in Hamburg. He was on Mexico's eight-man winning team.

The women's invasion is headed by Maria Louisa Anaya, 40, who has been All-Events champion of Mexico seven times. Competing in a men's tournament in 1959, she averaged 191 for 54 games. She won the women's world's amateur championship in Hamburg in 1959 and was named her country's Woman of the Year in 1962.

Pearl Sullivan of Melbourne won the women's singles title in the same tournament that her teammate, John Fitch, competed. She averaged 188 for 28 games in the finals.

Nancy McAlpine of Toronto is the top girl tenpin performer in Canada.

The United States field includes the winner of every major individual championship in this country.

The men will roll 100 games apiece, the women 72. Total prize money is $48,240, with the man champion receiving $7,500 and the woman winner $4,000.

Men's and women's finals, head-to-head matches between the No. 1 and No. 2 survivors, will be nationally telecast.

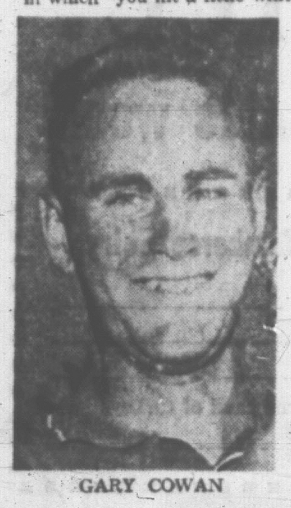
TEE TOPICS

By ERNIE FEDORUK

A non-golfing friend happened to be around the other day when golf was being discussed. Near as I can recall, it was mentioned that Dick Munn, a professional, and William Wakeham, the amateur, had tied for low gross honors in Victoria's most recent Monthly Medal round.

The non-golfer, a lady who knows golf only as the sport in which "you hit a little white ball around a pasture," was perplexed. She was under the impression that all superior golfers are professionals.



GARY COWAN

She got the message, that all good golfers are not necessarily professionals, but the conversation did bring out a good point.

Since the Second World War, so many good players have turned pro that the big amateur events, and the simon-pures themselves, have become lost in the shuffle of the money players' tournament every Thursday.

I think that the Canadian Amateur, fortunately, still stirs as great an interest as ever. The U.S. Amateur, which for years attracted as much attention as the U.S. Open, is a different story.

Now and then, such events as the Walker Cup matches come along to remind us that not all of the good ones are professionals.

Started to Hop With Sam Urzetta

Lawson Little began playing for pay after winning both the British and U.S. Amateurs in 1934-35. The amateur kings really started to hop to the pro circuit with Sam Urzetta in 1950. He was followed by such as Billy Maxwell, Gene Littler, Arnold Palmer, Jillman Robbins and Jack Nicklaus.

There has been no continuing amateur tradition such as there was in the years of Bobby Jones. The public doesn't get to know the amateur star. For one thing, match play can't be televised due to the fact that there is no telling when a match may be terminated.

Yet, from a standpoint of interest and excitement, it is hard to top a match-play affair. The Times Island Open and the B.C. Amateur are prime examples of how much interest match play creates.

But let us not digress. Back to the amateurs . . .

Prize money is now so rich that a top amateur hardly can afford not to turn pro. Nicklaus, a veritable child on the professional circuit, already has banked over $100,000 this year. Tell me, at 23 did you make $100,000?

Those Sharks Make It Tough Life

Standout shot makers who remain amateurs generally are men who don't have to play golf for a living or care to join the pro rat race. Others—the younger ones—are simply biding their time before making the move.

Still others feel it's a tough way to make a decent living, particularly with sharks like Nicklaus, Tony Lema, Palmer and Gary Player around.

The fact remains, however, that when some of the amateurs warm up and take their occasional whack at the buck-chasers they show flashes of brilliance. The final 36-hole match of the 1959 U.S. Amateur between Nicklaus and willowy Charlie Coe of Oklahoma is regarded as one of the finest ever contested. (Nicklaus won with a birdie on the last hole.)

Some of the U.S. Walker Cup stars could make a decent living on the gold trail. And up here in Canada, the likes of Bill Wakeham, Nick Weslock and Gary Cowan need not take a back seat to any native pro, Stan Leonard, Al Balding and George Knudson included!

It's true some may be lost in the shuffle, but amateurs remain the lifeblood of the game.

Denver Invades Upper Brackets

By The Canadian Press

The Western Hockey League's newest entry, Denver Invaders, is again invading the higher strata of the standings.

On home ice Tuesday night the Invaders defeated Portland Buckaroos 6-3 to assume second place, two points behind Los Angeles Blades who edged the Canucks 3-2 at Vancouver.

Gordy Vejprava scored two goals and Bruce Carmichael the other for Los Angeles. Buddy Boone and Larry Popein tallied for Vancouver.

The result gave Blades 23 points. Denver has 21, San Francisco Seals 20, Seattle Totems 19, Portland 15 and Vancouver 14.

TAKE EARLY LEAD

The Invaders, in taking their sixth victory in seven games, collected three first period goals—two by Rudy Migay and the other by Sandy Hucul.

Sid Finney got one back for the Bucks early in the second but it was answered by Garry Jarrett at the 10-minute mark.

Tom McCarthy and Finney drove two more home for Portland in the third but Migay and Lou Jankowski got those back for Denver to sew things up.

Vancouver goes to Seattle tonight.

Harvey, The Legend, Chopped by Rangers

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Several years ago an Australian who knew little or nothing about hockey was a visitor to the Montreal Forum for a game between the Canadiens and Detroit. He was asked to pick the three stars.

"Howe, Richard and that fellow on the Montreal defence who plays with his head," he said.

The man who played "with his head" was Doug Harvey, perhaps the greatest defenceman in the history of the National Hockey League. Seven times he won the Norris Trophy as the top rearguard and 11 times he was named an all-star.

But today Doug Harvey is unemployed. The New York Rangers, whose defence has always been in need of a boost, announced Tuesday they had no use for the former star rearguard Eddie Shore once called "the best defenceman I ever saw."

CHOSE RELEASE

Harvey, who turns 39 next month, was given his unconditional release by the Rangers. He chose this himself, rather than go into voluntary retirement or report to New York's American League farm team in Baltimore.

His performance to date "has been disappointing," a team spokesman said.

Harvey couldn't be reached for comment in New York and in Montreal his wife said he hadn't called home yet. But she said Floyd Curry, coach of the AHL Quebec Aces, had called.

Harvey's business problems in Montreal prevented him from attending the Rangers training camp and he played in the minors to get into shape before joining the team after the season started. But then the Rangers went into a tailspin, losing seven straight, and Harvey was the target of jeers in Madison Square Garden.

CAREER AT END?

Is Harvey's illustrious 16-year career at an end or will he come to terms with one of the other five teams, especially Boston and Toronto, who expressed interest in him at the NHL summer meeting?

It's doubtful. All five teams passed him up when he was offered for the $20,000 waiver price last week.

"Definitely not," was the reply of Kenny Reardon, vice-president of the Canadiens, when asked if Harvey would be welcome on the team that traded him to New York three years ago.

To replace Harvey, the Rangers called up 21-year-old Mike McMahon Jr. from St. Paul. His father once played defence for the Canadiens.

McMahon will go into action tonight when the Rangers take on Detroit in New York in the only NHL game scheduled.

THREE CHOICES

Muzz Patrick, the Rangers' general manager, said Harvey had been granted three choices. He chose outright release instead of unconditional retirement or being shipped down to the Rangers' Baltimore farm in the American Hockey League.

"If he had preferred to go to Baltimore," said Patrick, "the Rangers would have continued to pay him at his present salary. He chose his outright release and this gives him the freedom to deal with any other club in professional hockey."

Harvey came to the Rangers from Montreal in the summer of 1961 in a trade for defenceman Lou Fontinato. In his first year as player-coach, he led the Rangers into the Stanley Cup playoffs.

TALKED TO SELKE

Rocket Eyes Blake's Job

QUEBEC CITY (UPI)—Former Montreal Canadien hockey great Maurice ("Rocket") Richard indicated Tuesday in an interview with sports columnist Claude Larochelle of "Le Soleil" that he would be interested in coaching the Canadiens.

Richard told Larochelle in a telephone interview that Canadiens' general manager Frank Selke had spoken to him about succeeding coach Toe Blake by offering him a post in the organization.

Richard said however that Blake would stay as coach as long as the club ended up in first, second or third place and would only leave when things went bad.

DON'T BLAME HIM

"I don't blame him, I would do the same thing," Richard said. "But it would interest me less to take over the club when things are going bad."

The interview came about when several readers wrote in to Larochelle suggesting that "The Rocket" replace Floyd Curry as coach of the Quebec Aces, currently in fourth place in the five-team American Hockey League.

MISUNDERSTANDING

Asked if he would like to coach the Quebec club, Richard replied that he liked Quebec City but that there had been some misunderstandings between him and the city. He did not elaborate.

Richard said that Selke had already asked him if he wanted to coach a team in the Canadiens' organization but the former Canadiens' star right-winger said it might interest him if he didn't have to leave Montreal.

Richard said that as much as he liked hockey he would prefer to stay far away from it while he could continue to make a living some other way. He told columnist Larochelle that after his years of tensions and worry as a player he wanted to have a two or three-year breather.

He presently writes a sports column and does promotion work for a bowling firm.

Whiz-Kid Best Gridder

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Staubach, the quarterback who pilots second-ranked Navy with reckless abandon and amazing success, was named 1963 winner of the Heisman Trophy as the U.S. college football Player of the Year Tuesday.

The junior whiz-kid from Cincinnati received 1,860 points and 517 first-place votes in the balloting by sports-writers and broadcasters.

Another quarterback, versatile Billy Lothridge of Georgia Tech, was Staubach's nearest competitor, receiving 504 points and 65 first-place votes.

Kelso Repeats As Year's Best

NEW YORK (CP) — Kelso, winner of 31 of his 45 lifetime starts and with a bankroll of $1,581,702 has again been named horse of the year.

The six-year-old gelding, with a 1963 record of nine victories and two seconds in 12 races, was the unanimous selection of the 36 taking part in the poll.

He also was named the best handicap horse of the year, rounding out four straight years of topping American thoroughbred racing.

Fort Garry Team Tops Guest List

"East is East and West is West and ne'er the twain shall meet . . ."

But tonight the Mid-West meets the Far-West and, in the process, hockey mixes with football.

Fort Garry Lions, who play Nanaimo in Friday's "Little Grey Cup" football games at Royal Athletic Park, have been invited to attend tonight's Victoria Hockey League doubleheader at Memorial Arena.

On-the-ice action will see Eddy Dorohoy's Mercuries tackle the league-leading Canadians at 8:15. In the second game, Johnny Bond's spirited Cougars run up against Dorman's Cavaliers.

Mercs and Cavaliers face the tough assignments. It's up to Mercs to stop Canadians, who have won four of five starts, from running away with the lead.

Dormans face a big chore in trying to hobble the hot Cougar trio of Paul Bion, Les Johansen and Buzz Wilson. That line has scored 23 of Cougars' 29 goals.

Eagles Team Helps Widow

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pete Retzlaff, president of the National Football League Players' Association, says President Johnson has expressed approval of a plan by Philadelphia Eagles' players to donate part of last Sunday's pay to the widow of J. D. Tippet, the Dallas, Tex., policeman slain after the assassination of President Kennedy.

Cliff Carter, one of the president's aides, called Retzlaff to tell him the president wants to join with the players in contributing to a fund for Mrs. Tippet and her three children.

Retzlaff said he expects to raise about $2,000 from within the players' ranks.

Eagles lost to Washington, 13-10, before 60,671 at Franklin Field.

MINOR HOCKEY

Cougars Show Class In Higher Sections

A step up into higher classification doesn't mean a thing to Victoria Minor Hockey Association all-star teams.

Cougar (all-star) teams won three of four inter-division games played in the past week. Only the peewee pup Cougars, clipped 3-1 by Maroons of the regular peewee division, missed the victory parade

The Peewee Cougars embarrassed the bantam Buckaroos 4-0, the bantam all-stars edged the midget Indians 3-2, and the midget select dropped Vics of the juvenile league 3-1.

Other scores and this week's schedule:

Peewee Pups—Red Wings 2, Quakers 3; Maple Leafs 3, Flyers 7; Bruins 8, Stampeders 11; Warriors 5, Rangers 1.
Peewees—Bombers 2, Royals 1; Aces 1, Flyers 0; Senators 2, Capitals 1.
Bantam — Blades 5, Stampeders 3; Quakers 3, Canucks 2.
Midget—Bisons 5, Bears 1; Barons 3, Hornets 3.

City Planner Wins Promotion

City planning officer Roderick Clack was promoted to architectural and special projects consultant by city manager Dennis Young, Tuesday.

Mr. Clack was detached from the engineer's department in which he was employed previously and given his own staff.

This will give Mr. Clack more time to co-ordinate planning of the Centennial Victoria Square, downtown paint-up campaign and restoration of Bastion Square.

RODERICK CLACK
. . . autonomous

Mr. Clack's previous responsibility for zoning and town planning will be undertaken by Tony de Jong as acting planning officer.

Mr. Clack's shift into an autonomous position, directly under supervision of Mr. Young, completes a chain of events that began more than a year ago with a shake-up in the engineer's department.

It involved him and traffic engineer Norman Worsley.

The two men had been considered the "young Turks" at City Hall from whom emanated a stream of ideas for rejuvenating downtown Victoria.

Mr. Worsley's sudden resignation, for which he would give no official explanation although it became obvious that it resulted from internal friction between city engineer J. C. Garnett and some members of his staff, resulted in council ordering an outside investigation of the engineer's department.

This resulted in several criticisms of the department and recommendations for more emphasis to be devoted to planning and traffic matters than had been previously shown.

Injustice Protested In New Pension Plan

Canada's proposed social security plan is contrary to all accepted principles of social justice, a local insurance man told Kiwanis Club Tuesday.

Bill McColl, speaking at a Kiwanis luncheon, said the new plan proposed by the federal government would favor the rich.

The plan would provide a pension of 30 per cent to the person who earns up to $4,000 over a 10-year period. He would get a pension of $100 a month in addition to the old age pension.

He would contribute 1 per cent of his income and his employer an equal amount to finance the plan.

Mr. McColl complained that the contributions would not be enough to completely finance the scheme.

This, he said, was like a swindler paying "dividends" out of capital collected from "investors" which was never, in fact, invested in anything.

Mr. McColl also complained that lower wage earners would get lower pensions.

"A small struggling farmer" whose income was so low he couldn't contribute to the plan wouldn't get anything, he claimed.

"This to start with is completely contrary to all accepted principles of social justice," Mr. McColl said.

Student Play Called Tribute to Kennedy

Sympathy of the University of Victoria was wired to the widow of President John Kennedy soon after news of the assassination reached Victoria.

An administration spokesman said the telegram expressed sympathy to Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy on behalf of the senate, board of governors, student body and faculty.

Acting president Dr. W. H Hickman wrote:

"He will be remembered and mourned as a man of the highest moral stature who devoted himself to those principles for which universities stand: the right of all human beings to seek the good."

The university cancelled social functions, except for the Players Club presentation of The Birds, a political satire based on a classic Greek comedy.

STAGED AS TRIBUTE

Students felt the play expressed much of the feeling supported by the late president, and staged it as a tribute to him.

Only two lines, dealing with the Kennedy administration and a reference to national cemeteries, have been cut from the script. A portion of the U.S. national anthem was deleted Friday night, but restored for the rest of the run, ending this week.

FEAR WITCH HUNT

A student described the general feeling of her classmates: "They were so shocked. I've never seen anything like it. They stood around the corridors and the Quad listening to transistor radios.

"Later they discussed what the president's death means to us. Kennedy was the only strong leader in the West. Some professors were fearful the assassination would touch off a ridiculous witch hunt in the States."

CENTENNIAL SQUARE MEMORIAL PROPOSED TO 'SWEET CAMOSUN'

Chance Seen to Soothe Spirit of Wronged Princess

By HUMPHRY DAVY

A fountain featuring a bronze figure of Victoria's legendary Indian princess is proposed for the city's centennial square.

Chief John Albany and other members of the Songhees band said today a figure to commemorate "sweet Camosun" would enhance Victoria's romantic past, and perhaps right a wrong that has been done her.

Old-timers like Jimmy Fraser, famous Indian weather prophet and storyteller, say a Camosun fountain would bring good fortune to Victoria.

Camosun is the name of a Songhees princess who lived here many years ago.

When Fort Victoria was established in 1843, the area was known as the Land of Camosun. Hence the fortification was established at Camosun, but not so named as some people mistakenly believe.

The princess, according to the Songhees, was a wise and prophetic woman who ruled in accordance with the democratic ways of her people—that is through persuasion and advice.

Many old Indians like Jimmy Fraser also claim all the gifts and amenities enjoyed by Victoria today are due to this princess.

Here is one of Jimmy's legends about Camosun:

Many years ago, Kaals, the transformer, arrived in Victoria and was so struck by the beauty and wisdom of the princess that he offered her anything she wanted.

Victoria then, the old Indian relates, was not as interesting a place as it is today. Only fir trees grew in the area, there was no harbor and the climate was cold and damp most of the year round. It was just a plain miserable country.

Camosun, with the welfare of her people in mind, asked Kaals for trees which would "clutch the sky", flowers to cover the rocks, a good harbor to protect the canoes of the tribe and for milder and warmer winds.

Kaals promptly changed some of her people into trees known today as Garry Oaks. He transformed others into flowers, such as blue camass and the Easter Lily, and bade the northwest wind warrior spirit not to deal too harshly with the land of Camosun.

He made the harbor and the Gorge inland waterway next.

Kaals then asked her what fish she liked most. The princess, after trying several species, settled for herring. He promised her that henceforth herring would come up the Gorge every year—enough to provide for the wants of her people.

As a final act, Kaals transformed the princess into a spirit rock, giving her the Gorge as her abode. This was done to insure Camosun that her spirit and the amenities that were given her people would live on forever.

Jimmy's tale ends here but unfortunately there's an aftermath to the story.

A few years ago a Gorge boathouse owner blew off the top of the Camosun spirit rock under the Gorge Bridge on the grounds that it was a menace to navigation.

Now many residents along the Gorge claim the waterway has never been the same. Erosion of the banks has increased, they say. Tidal currents are swifter and there aren't as many fish.

The spirit of Camosun has been offended. Perhaps her wrath would be appeased through the erection of a Camosun fountain in Centennial Square.

CHIEF JOHN ALBANY
. . . right the wrong

Victoria Daily Times

VICTORIA, B.C., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1963—PAGE 13

Arthur Mayse

The time has arrived when something must be done about the magazine heap which started as a molehill in our basement, and over the years has grown to a mountain.

Out it must go, to make a bonfire in our wildlands unless someone with a use for old magazines wants to truck my horde away.

That removal will hurt, let me tell you. I don't like to think of all those Norman Rockwell covers, the LeMay westerns, the Paul Gallico short stories withering to ash. Same for Tugboat Annie, Glencannon of the Inchcliffe Castle, and a host of other characters who walk those pages.

The tales they inhabit were not written for the ages, it's true. Only a very few of them made the anthologies.

Even so, they offered to a great many people a brief enchantment, and the least I can do, as their smoke drifts through the weeping woods, is grant them Salome's epitaph:

'They danced and pleased.'

★ ★ ★

Presently we'll have another bonfire. This one will consist of the elephant jokes I was so rash as to solicit a while ago.

These rate no sentimental send-off: after today, I'd prefer not to see, hear, or be reminded of that outrage against humor which our young have classified as the elephant joke.

The jokes have been tumbling in from contestants whose ages range from eight to 80. Some are obviously home-made. Most fit into one or other of the patterns I offered as specimens when we first ventured on this tangential departure from reason, logic and sanity.

Picking a winner from among the herd was no easy matter for news editor Bill Walker and myself.

We finally emerged, badly shaken, with this sample of ivory-carving sent in by Maria Hickling, who lives at 81 Maddock West:

Q.: What's the difference between an elephant and a grape?

A.: They're different colors.

Q.: What did Tarzan say when he saw the elephants coming?

A.: Here come the elephants.

Q.: What did Jane say when she saw the elephants coming?

A.: Here come the grapes. She was color blind.

★ ★ ★

So to Maria, for an entry which captures the elusive spirit of the elephant joke, congratulations and five dollars from the Times.

It just happens we also have a second and third prize kicking around, so don't go away.

Runner-up is Karlina Wymore, 203 Quebec, who dizzied us with this contribution:

Q. How does an elephant get up a tree?

A. He sits on an acorn and waits for a squirrel.

Three dollars to Karlina for that one, and to Nigel Goode, 3190 Ripon, a two-spot and the title of second assistant elephant boy for this:

Q. How do you make an elephant float?

A. Two scoops of ice cream on an elephant.

★ ★ ★

Thanks, kids, and may you do as well on your Christmas exams. Home now, going 'Zub-zub-zub.' You know, like a bee flying backwards?.

Jet Crash Scene Investigated By Naval Team

Bodies Retrieved From Mountain Top

A five-man team of navy investigators was flown today to the scene of the T-33 training jet crash on Mt. Strachan which took the lives of two RCN officers Saturday.

Headed by Cmdr. Don Shepherd, HMCS Venture, the team left Patricia Bay by navy helicopter at 7:30 a.m.

Their findings at the site will decide whether or not pieces of wreckage will be brought out for study.

BODIES RETURNED

About mid-morning an RCAF helicopter brought out the bodies of the first and second pilots, Lieut. N. J. Ogden, 33, and Lieut. Don S. Clark, 29, both of Victoria.

The widely-scattered wreckage was spotted late Tuesday by Sub.-Lieut. Ian Powick of Victoria, from a navy search helicopter, when clouds which had obscured the mountain lifted momentarily.

Mt. Strachan is about five miles north of the chairlift on Hollyburn Mountain. An RCAF crewman, lowered to the wreckage by hoist, reported both men died instantly.

PRACTICE APPROACH

The plane was making a practice ground controlled approach to Vancouver Saturday as part of a flight from the naval air station at Patricia Bay to the mainland.

As it swung in from Howe Sound behind Hollyburn, the aircraft came over a ridge at the 4,500-foot level, snapped off two trees and disintegrated. Red, yellow, silver and green fragments were scattered over a wide area.

Ogden, 33, and Clark, 29, lived within a block of one another in Oak Bay's Carnarvon Park area.

Ogden left a widow and five children at 1702 Newton. Clark's widow, Doreen, is at 1697 Carnegie, with their two children, one aged three months.

Retired Men Die After Car Mishaps

Former Skipper Hit Railway Car; Ex-Officer Hurt Remembrance Day

A retired army officer and a retired tugboat skipper died within an hour of one another Tuesday afternoon, victims of two recent traffic accidents in the city.

Dead are:

Col. Ernest Jones, 92, of the Beverley Hotel.

Wilfred Prudhomme, 61, of 210 Montreal.

Mr. Prudhomme died at 2:15 p.m. at St. Joseph's Hospital after being involved in an accident early last Saturday morning. His car went over an embankment on Esquimalt Road and crashed into a railroad car on the E & N track.

PASSENGER

Col. Jones died an hour later at Royal Jubilee Hospital. He was a passenger in a car driven by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. G. E. P. Jones, 1724 Lulie, that was in collision with another car on Remembrance Day.

The accident occured at Fort and Bank. Driver of the other car involved was Frank McClement, 1033 Pemberton.

No decision has been made about an inquest into Mr. Prudhomme's death but one will likely be held into the cause of Col. Jones' death, according to Inspector Brooke Douglass, head of city police traffic department.

Col. Jones was born in England, educated at Oxford University and Sandhurst Military Academy, and he served in the Boer War, India and the First World War.

RETIRED 25 YEARS AGO

He worked as an engineer in the construction industry across Canada and pioneered in railroad development in the Fort William-Port Arthur area. He retired 25 years ago and had lived in Victoria since 1957.

Col. Jones is survived by the widow, Mrs. Mabel Jones of Ottawa; two sons, George, the chairman of the B.C. Purchasing Commission, and Sidney of Ottawa; two daughters, Dorothy and Lillian; six grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Arrangements for his funeral will not be completed until a decision has been made as to whether there will be an inquest.

Mr. Prudhomme was a tug boat skipper on the West Coast in his earlier years but had retired and been in bad health for many years. He was unmarried.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. F. J. Nobbs and Mrs. Wayne Eland, both of Victoria, and two brothers, Hector and James, both of Vancouver.

Prayers for Mr. Prudhomme will be said at 7 p.m. Friday at Thompson & Irving, funeral directors, and a Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 9 a.m. Saturday in St. Andrew's Cathedral. Burial will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Appeal Total Creeps Up To $373,000

Late returns are still adding small amounts to the United Appeal fund, and the final figure won't be known for several days.

The figure at present is $373,000, about 93 per cent of the goal.

The budget committee executive will meet Tuesday to begin studying allocation of money available for the 24 member agencies.

REVIEW SET

An official said the preliminary reports of each section will be reviewed. Possible surpluses in individual agency funds will affect the amount they receive from the United Appeal.

There will be no set percentage lopped from every agency allocation.

Allocations should be made before the end of January, an official said.

Gas Price Probe Gets New Delay

Hearing Next Year Says Judge

Start of the royal commission into B.C. gasoline prices has been delayed until next year.

Judge C. W. Morrow said today he has been asked by several companies planning to appear at public hearings for more time to prepare their briefs.

At least one of the firms is a major oil company, he said.

He earlier set a Nov. 30 deadline for submission of briefs and planned to begin public hearings this year.

TWO ONLY SO FAR

Only two briefs have arrived so far.

One is from a Qualicum service station operator, the other from a man in Nanaimo.

Judge Morrow said he has not fixed a new deadline, but has asked the companies involved to get their briefs in as soon as possible.

This means he won't even be able to schedule hearings until sometime in January, and the hearings themselves may be later still, he said.

TO OPEN ON COAST

Judge Morrow said he expects the first hearings will be on the coast.

He will come to Vancouver Dec. 9 to consult with lawyers to plan to appear.

He was appointed sole commissioner by the provincial cabinet in October.

Mail Gives Clue To Lonely Death Of Ex-Teacher

Dead is Miss N. Margaret McKillican, 1178 View Street.

She lived alone and police said it appeared she had been dead for several days.

Miss McKillican, who was retired, taught at South Park and Girls' Central schools.

WILLIAM J. HAMILTON

Hamilton Quitting Commission

William Hamilton today announced he will retire next month after 12 years on city police commission.

Mr. Hamilton's current term as government appointee on the commission ends Dec. 31 and he will be ineligible for re-appointment due to loss of property qualifications.

Mayor R. B. Wilson, chairman of the commission, said he regretted Mr. Hamilton's loss.

"Mr. Hamilton has contributed tremendously to the police department and he will be a hard man to replace," he said.

SUCCESSOR SOUGHT

The commission referred the situation to the attorney general's department to give it time to find a successor.

Mr. Hamilton, in his letter, praised officers of the department, including former chief John Blackstock, and said he was sure the re-organized department under Chief J. F. Gregory would be "second to none."

He urged ratepayers to approve the $375,000 money by-law for reconstructing the police station.

Traffic Inspector Brooke Douglass gave qualified support to a city parks committee request that commissionaires be empowered to issue traffic tickets within Beacon Hill Park.

Parks committee said at present commissionaires have no power to enforce traffic regulations in the park, with the result that cars are parking on the grass instead of parking areas.

Insp. Douglass said although decentralization of police powers may not be desirable, the request would be a practical method of overcoming manpower shortage for patrols of the park.

The commission, noting that the policemen's union may protest, asked city solicitor T. P. O'Grady for a legal opinion before making a decision on the request.

★ ★ ★

Insp. Douglass was authorized, on Chief J. F. Gregory's recommendation, to attend the 10-week general policing course at the RCMP college in Regina commencing Jan. 20.

★ ★ ★

Lorne Shandley was re-elected president of the policemen's union for the coming year, commission was informed.

Other union officers are: Bonar Hannay, vice-president; Lorne Johnson, secretary-treasurer; Peter Voth, recording secretary; and trustees Frederick Acreman, Clifford Harrison and Russell Redman.

Police Surgeon Dr. E. L. McNiven's offer to charge a flat $10 per call fee instead of the present sliding scale ranging from $7.50 to $15 was accepted.

YALE GOES TO NDP . . . FINALLY

The New Democratic Party finally won the election in Yale today—almost two months after polling day.

The B.C. Appeal Court dismissed the appeal of Social Crediter Irvine Corbett against a County Court recount.

The recount gave Yale to William Hartley of the NDP by six votes.

The first count, on Sept. 30, had Mr. Corbett ahead by four.

Mr. Corbett was in Victoria today on business for one of his former constituents. He had been MLA for Yale since 1952.

He said he was naturally disappointed in the court decision, but more disappointed that the three appeal judges had apparently failed to make any ruling on spoiled ballots for future guidance.

ACCEPTED IN RECOUNT

His appeal was based on grounds that spoiled ballots had been accepted in the recount, conducted by Judge F. K. Grimmett.

Mr. Corbett said his lawyer advised him there is no machinery for a further appeal. However, he could launch a petition seeking to upset the election in Yale.

"I think there are plenty of grounds to start a petition, but I feel I have gone far enough," he said.

Mr. Corbett said the judge accepted ballots on which a vote for him had been crossed out and a second X marked for Mr. Hartley.

USED PEN

However the judge threw out ballots correctly marked for Mr. Corbett because voters had used a pen instead of a pencil.

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan's reaction to the result was:

"I'm very pleased Mr. Hartley's election was confirmed," he said.

"I've known him for years. He is an able, capable person, very hard working, and I know he will do a good job for the constituents and will be an asset to the Opposition."

The standing in the new legislature will now be: Social Credit 33, NDP 14, Liberal 5.

Mr. Corbett said he will devote himself more fully to his business ventures which include a building supply firm at Hope and a variety store at Merritt.

TOPICS of the DAY

A worker on a Pacific Pile Driving dredge was injured about the leg and shoulders this morning when a line snapped during dredging operations in the Upper Harbor.

Robert Southwell, 50, of 130 St. Giles, was taken by towboat to Island Tug and Barge jetty and from there rushed to Royal Jubilee Hospital in a police ambulance.

He is reported to be not seriously injured.

The dredge was working in the waters off McCarter Shingle Co. Ltd. when the accident occurred.

A youth who broke into Cedarworth Grocery, 3011 Gosworth, late Tuesday night, threw away his loot as he ran from the scene after police were called.

A neighbor, who heard the sound of breaking glass, called police, but by the time they arrived the prowler had gone.

He was seen silhouetted against the doorway and was reported to have escaped into nearby bushes.

Police found food and cigarettes in the bushes which the thief had apparently thrown away in his flight.

BEACHCOMBERS NEVER had it better than today, with every yard of waterfront covered with driftwood chunks large and small, with lots of the piece de resistance—slow burning bark. Winds averaging 35 to 40 miles per hour, with gusts to 63, pounded new treasures ashore during the early hours of Tuesday evening, and bright sunshine this morning encouraged 'combers to get to work. But look out; today's period of sunshine is slated to be replaced by more Novemberish weather. Forecast is for clouds and rain Thursday. (Times photo.)

Ask The Times

Q.—Were pheasants first introduced to Canada in Victoria?—E.M.T.

A.—Although no official game records were kept during Canada's early days, it is believed pheasants were first introduced from Europe near the shores of Lake Erie.

Pheasants were first introduced to Victoria when C. W. R. Thompson released 25 brought over from China in the year 1883.

Q.—What is the largest ship in the world?—A.V.

A.—World's biggest ship is the 132,000-ton Japanese tanker ST (steam turbine) Nissho Maru.

AFTER JAN. 1

Belts to Hike Car Prices?

Because of B.C.'s new seat belt law all American and Canadian car prices are expected to go up about $20 on Jan. 1.

All new cars sold after Jan. 1 must have two front seat belts under a law passed last spring by the legislature.

According to Attorney-General Robert Bonner at that time, the onus is on automobile dealers to install belts before selling a car.

The managing director of one Victoria firm selling British cars said today seat belts are standard equipment on all models and the prices have not been increased.

However, a spokesman for another local firm which deals in U.S. made cars said seat belts will be "100 per cent optional"—that means they will be in the cars, but the public will have to pay extra for them.

He said this is the same as a heater—in the car, but essential.

George Hankinson, president of the Victoria Automobile Dealers' Association, said directors of the B.C. association will meet probably in the third week of December to decide what to do about the new law.

TO SET POLICY

He said the association was still not clear, despite the Attorney - General's statement, where the responsibility for installing belts will lie—with dealer or buyer.

He said the type of belt approved by manufacturers and the Canadian Safety Council costs between $19.50 and $22.50, depending on the make of car involved.

At present, he added, no Canadian or U.S. car includes belts as standard equipment.

"But I haven't sold a 1964 car without seat belts," Mr. Hankinson said.

"The public generally is taking it very well."

Mr. Hankinson said he believes that nobody will offer free belts next year.

"If the manufacturers include them, they will raise their base prices. They can't supply a high class item like that that's free," he said.

CHARGE EXTRA

Dealers, too, will charge extra if they have to install belts, he anticipated.

However, one bright sign, $20 may save a lot of lives.

Seat belts are believed responsible for a dramatic drop in road deaths during October in B.C.

The toll was 24 compared with 44 deaths in October 1962.

"I can't say it is—but it could be seat belts," said George Lindsay, B.C.'s Superintendent of Motor Vehicles.

U.S. MARKETS WILL CLOSE THURSDAY

NEW YORK (AP) — All major U.S. security and commodity exchanges will be closed Thursday, Thanksgiving Day in the United States.

These include the New York Stock Exchange, the American Stock Exchange and other security markets throughout the country, the Chicago Board of Trade and other commodity exchanges in New York and elsewhere.

BEFORE PROBE

Pulp Group Urges Wide Tax Cuts

OTTAWA (CP)—Headed by a major reduction in corporation taxes, a series of tax cuts was recommended today by the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association which advocated the moves as a means of stimulating economic growth.

The first recommendation of the association, in a brief to the royal commission on taxation, was that corporate taxes be set at a flat rate of 40 per cent, including provincial taxes. The federal rate now is 50 per cent on incomes over $35,000 and 21 per cent on figures under $35,000. Provincial taxes add one or two percentage points to these rates.

Since the bulk of corporate tax revenue is gained from the higher bracket, this proposal would mean a decrease of $239,000,000 in revenue, the brief said. But the association advanced additional recommendations that would change this.

It suggested that an "equalization tax" be imposed on dividends paid to foreign investors to bring their tax rate to the same level that applies to corporations in their own countries. Based on 1962 figures, said the brief, this would add $127,000,000 to federal revenue.

However, the present withholding tax now applied to the dividends of foreign investors should be eliminated—it is "discriminatory" — and this would cost the revenue department $75,000,000.

The revenue department would lose another $358,000,000 by treating corporation tax as a deduction at source on personal dividend income.

CLAIM A REFUND

"The investor, in computing taxable income, would add the corporation income tax at the current rate to any dividend received. . . . If the credit was in excess of the personal tax liability, the taxpayer would be entitled to claim a refund.

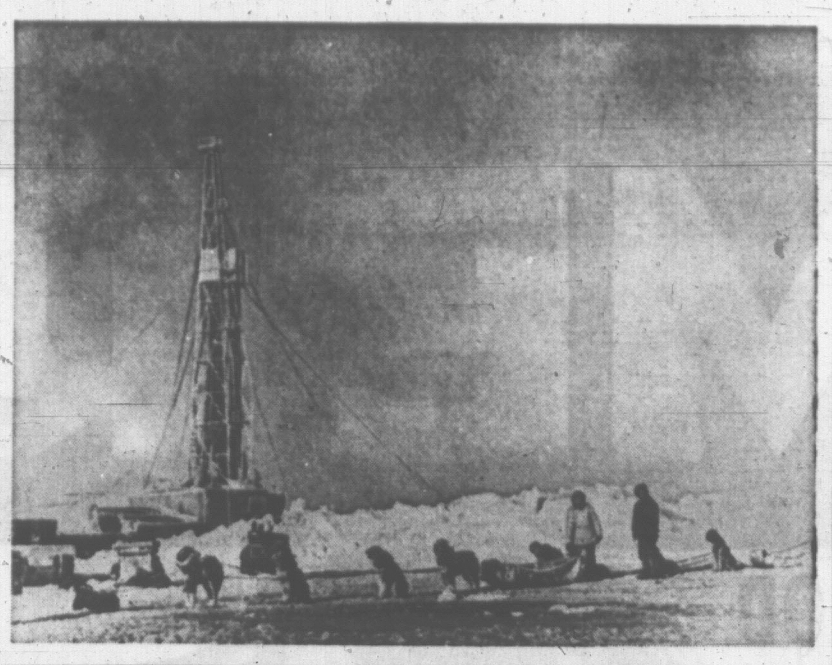
This would be coupled with the elimination of the present 20-per-cent dividend tax credit, which would add $179,000,000 to revenues.

The end result of all the proposals would be a loss of revenue totalling $366,000,000.

The association said it was confident these measures would exert enough upward leverage on the economy to "make a substantial contribution toward recovering the lost revenue. Full recovery could be achieved by a five-per-cent increase in the gross national product.

The measures would result in increased employment, said the association. "In our view, the major target should be to restore full employment because the structure of government finance is such that under full employment conditions, revenues would tend to outrun expenditures — provided spending is held within the bounds of rising population and increasing per capita productivity."

If additional taxes had to be applied to make up the deficit, the brief suggested that the base of the sales tax be broadened to include services. Revenues could be increased by applying the tax at the wholesale or retail level rather than the manufacturers' level.



Exchange Supervises Liquidation of Firm

NEW YORK (AP) — Ira Haupt and Company, a 36-year-old Wall Street securities firm, will go out of business in the first liquidation ever arranged by the New York Stock Exchange and carried out under exchange supervision.

Late Monday the exchange announced a liquidation plan "beginning promptly." It calls for the exchange and four large New York City banks to advance a maximum of $36,000,000 to protect Haupt's 20,000 customers.

Haupt was suspended from dealing on the exchange last Wednesday because its capital requirements failed to meet exchange standards.

Under the unprecedented liquidation plan the exchange will advance $7,500,000 in cash at first and another $4,500,000 if necessary. Bank creditors of Haupt will defer collection of $2 in loans to Haupt for every $1 put up by the exchange.

OIL HUNT in Arctic continues with two groups—Dominion Explorers Ltd. and Lobitos Oilfields Ltd. — drilling and 13 other groups planning to drill. It is estimated there is 100,000 million barrels of recoverable oil but no one has ever seen a drop of it. Rig above on Melville Island reached 12,543 feet before Dome Petroleum abandoned search. New Home Recipe Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naran Plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Car Maker Will Pay Cash Bonus

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. said Tuesday that 5,640 salaried employees will receive an average cash bonus of $58 in addition to stock and other benefits as their share of the company's 1963 profit-sharing plan.

Profit results for the last fiscal year, AMC president Roy Abernathy said, would enable the company to provide improved pension and insurance benefits, stock and cash bonus.

The company's profits after taxes for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30 were $37,800,000 an increase of 10.4 per cent over the previous fiscal year.

Star of Opera Dies at Age 81

LA JOLLA, Calif. (UPI) — Amelita Galli-Curci, whose name symbolized the skill and temperament of opera glamor for decades, died Tuesday at the age of 81.

AMELITA GALLI-CURCHI
. . . 'Opera is corny'

Private funeral services are to be conducted tomorrow.

The petite, still youthful-appearing coloratura soprano had been afflicted during the past 10 years with a lung condition.

Born in Milan, Italy, Mme. Galli-Curci—who often criticized American opera as too stilted—reached the peak of her fame in the 1920s when she gave as many as 100 concerts a year.

At first rejected by the Metropolitan Opera, she was a diva for that famed group from 1926-1930 and frequently sang with the Chicago Opera where she had gained her first American success.

Of American opera, she had said: "They are afraid of being corny. They should be corny. Opera is much like that."

And of audiences, she said: "Audiences are alike, all people have heart."

Repeated concert tours made her a world favorite, with 97 concerts alone on a tour in 1935 that took her to Japan. She made a total of 144 phonograph recordings at a time when the industry was relatively young. Among her most famous recordings were "The Bell Song" from "Lakme" and "Caro Nome" from "Rigoletto."

"Santa Claus business is changing", Santa tells reporter Millin.

'SOME THINK I'M A SKUNK' SAYS SANTA

Ho-Ho-Ho's Don't Satisfy Gimme-Gimme Kids

By LESLIE MILLIN
Times Staff Reporter

NORTH POLE — Ho-ho-ho's are out, electric racing sets are in, and a lot of children these days think Santa Claus is a skunk.

Things were quiet in the Santa trade the other day, and there was plenty of time to interview the jolly old saint.

He was sitting on his throne, idly curling a finger through his beard at the time.

"What's the trend? These racing car sets for the boys," he said.

"Lots of guns and weapons too; they seem to be having a bit of a comeback.

ALWAYS DOLLS

"And the girls want dolls—they always want dolls.

"There's a big demand for construction sets, things that can be put together and taken apart. The kids want something to build."

Piled up already in department store toylands in Victoria are all the latest things from Santa's workshop, as well as the old reliables.

Dolls are there—the kind you dress, the kind you undress, the kind that squeal and wet, the kind that sing, and the life-size ones that just lie there, breathing and writhing.

THEY TALK

Not too far away are the plush animals that squeak and say "I like carrots," and the glove puppets that deliver an entire script at the yank of a ripoord.

Santa has also shipped set after set of building materials—bricks for making houses, boulders for making stone houses, straws for making designs, gobs of goo for making gobs of goo . . .

And then there's the three-year-old's dream: a horse operated by a six-volt battery, steered by an ear-cum-handlebar attachment to the head.

TAKING OVER

You can even get an electric train if you want it.

"But the electric racing car sets are taking over from the trains," said Santa.

"There's the competitive aspect of racing cars along a track that electric trains never had, and doing away with the old steam engines didn't help either."

Educational aspects of toys are being brought out a lot now.

Perhaps the ultimate in this is represented by the "transparent" plastic models of men, women, dogs, horses and so forth.

SEE-THROUGH

These come in a see-through plastic shell, and you fit together the parts—plastic representations of heart, lungs, liver, medulla oblongata and intestines.

"Yes, the toys have changed," said Santa Claus.

"So has the business of being Santa Claus. I don't say ho-ho-ho much any more.

"When the little ones come up on my knee to see me—most aren't older than seven or eight—they come with long lists.

"I have to tell them that no matter how good they've been, they can't have it all.

"I tell them there'll be a big surprise for them on Christmas morning. Often they go away thinking Santa Claus is a skunk."

Santa curled his finger through his beard again and looked down to where a little line of moppets waited to see him. The Santa business was picking up again.

IN RESPECT

Imitation Kennedy Stopped

NEW YORK (AP) — Vaughn Meader, who rose to fame and collected a fortune through his recordings spoofing President Kennedy and his family, says he never expects to do the imitation again.

Meader said through his manager Tuesday that in respect for the late president, he has requested postponement of two nightclub appearances.

In his nightclub routine, Meader devoted about five minutes of his hour-long stint on stage doing the imitations of President Kennedy which made him famous.

His record, The First Family, sold more than 5,000,000 copies since it was put on the market Nov. 7, 1962, to set an all-time high for record sales in the United States.

A second album made by Meader and his group, entitled The Kennedy Family, Volume Two was put on the market in mid-summer and sold less than 300,000.

A spokesman for Booker-Doud Organization Incorporated which wrote the album and produced it through Cadence Records, said "no new records of either album will be produced ever again under any circumstances."

Air Pact Signed

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Cambodia and Communist China signed a commercial aviation agreement Monday. Planes of both countries will fly routes between Canton, Shanghai and Phnom Penh.

Eye for Accuracy Sharpens Drylanders

By LESLIE MILLIN

Drylanders is the National Film Board's first try at full-length feature entertainment, and it's a first-class start.

Written, produced, directed, acted and screened by all-Canadian help, the 90-minute production is based on a true Canadian story—the story of the people who tore up the naked Saskatchewan prairie for fertile farmland.

Photography is excellent and acting good.

Kingpin part is that of Frances Hyland, the bank clerk's wife who came out with her husband to the prairie she loathed so he could grow the wheat he came to love.

EYE FOR ACCURACY

The problems and the triumphs of those who tried to farm dry land are chronicled with an eye for accuracy that reminds the viewer of the movie's National Film Board documentary heritage.

And the depiction of the drought of the 30s gives a new meaning to "Drylanders."

Historical accuracy combined with straightforward and convincing acting are the strong points of the film, and they make it the powerful and moving understatement of pioneer courage that it is.

Every Canadian should see it, even the ones who think no movie about pioneers is complete unless the Indians surround the wagon train and stampede the horses.

There are no Indians in this movie—just good acting used to portray a living piece of Canadian history.

On the same bill at the Royal Theatre is Fields of Sacrifice, a National Film Board featurette produced at the request of the veterans' affairs department.

TOO LONG

It's a 20-minute tour of cemeteries and war memorials in Europe (and one in Hong Kong) to the 110,000 Canadian dead who fell in two world wars.

Newsreel-type flashbacks, both real and apparently simulated, are used to lend action to a rather stifling subject.

But the movie is too long, and the background music—unfortunately so loud as to be more foreground — make it seem even longer.

Forest Products Buys Companies

FORT ST. JOHN (CP)—Canadian Forest Products Ltd have concluded negotiations for the purchase of all the shares of the Fort St. John Lumber Company, Peace River Forest Industries and Junction Mill Limited, it has been announced.

J. G. Prentice, president of Caadian Forest Products said the combined lumber production from the newly-acquired companies is in excess of 50,000,000 board feet a year.

Gordon Moore, former president, will continue as director of Fort St. John Lumber and Peace River Forest Industries Ltd.

Price of the sale was not disclosed.

'GALLANT BOY' OF PEACE' MOURNED

NEW YORK (AP)—"What a terrible thing has happened to us all: To you there, to us here, to all everywhere."

Thus Irish playwright Sean O'Casey, 83 and almost blind, mourned the death of John F. Kennedy.

In a letter to a friend, Miss Rose Russell of New York, O'Casey said:

"Peace, who was becoming bright-eyed, now sits in the shadow of death: Her handsome champion has been killed as he walked by her side. Her gallant boy is dead."

Is your dog a home-wrecker, too?
MILK-BONE satisfies the bone hunger of your dog.
A dog needs to chew, and knows it. In the absence of a bone, even the best-trained dog will find something else to chew—often something he shouldn't. But there are few bones in today's kitchens. Many that are available are not safe or good for your dog. That's why the modern dog goes bone-hungry.
The answer is MILK-BONE—the biscuit with the real bone shape that makes wonderful chewing, without a real bone's tendency to splinter or upset the digestion. MILK-BONE also gives your dog all the important nourishment found in milk, meat, bone-meal and vegetables. Get MILK-BONE in the biscuit size that suits the size of your dog—regular or large.

Mourning Kennedy Family to Gather for Thanksgiving Day

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy, accompanied by her daughter Caroline, trudged up the slope to the grave of her husband at Arlington National Cemetery Tuesday.

It was Mrs. Kennedy's third appearance on the hillside overlooking Washington where President John F. Kennedy is buried. It was Caroline's first.

After Monday's graveside services, Mrs. Kennedy returned just before midnight to place flowers there.

Tuesday, at 5 p.m., the cemetery was closed to the public. About two hours later, Mrs. Kennedy appeared with Caroline. They stayed about 10 minutes.

Thursday, Mrs. Kennedy keeps alive a family tradition for Caroline, six today, and John Jr., 3, taking them to their grandparents' home on Cape Cod for U.S. Thanksgiving. No birthday ceremonies are planned.

The grieving Kennedy family will gather as they have for years at the big oceanfront home of the late president's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, at Hyannis Port, Mass.

Mrs. Kennedy will return to the White House Monday to complete plans for moving out to make way for the family of the new president, Lyndon B. Johnson.

Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said Mrs. Kennedy probably will finish moving by Thursday of next week and it is expected she will take up residence in Washington.

It was also announced that, with the approval of the Johnsons, the White House school Mrs. Kennedy started in 1961 for Caroline will continue at least until Christmas. And, perhaps, if Mrs. Kennedy does make her future home in Washington, Caroline will continue to attend its classes.

Mrs. Kennedy moved Tuesday to boost one of Kennedy's favorite political projects — the Alliance for Progress.

When President Johnson called a meeting of leaders from alliance countries who had come here for the Kennedy funeral, Mrs. Kennedy suggested they should meet in the East Room where Kennedy launched the project early in his administration.

Then, she showed up, too, while Johnson reaffirmed this country's backing of the alliance.

In the East Room, where her slain husband had lain in state only three days ago, Mrs. Kennedy, speaking in Spanish, expressed deep appreciation to the Latin American leaders who had come to the funeral.

36 SCIENTISTS ON JOB

Canada Leads the Way In Submarine Defence

Canadian Press reporter Rod Currie was with Canada's five-ship contingent in NATO exercises off northern Scotland. In this story he reports on the navy's future role as a defensive force in the nuclear-submarine age.

By ROD CURRIE

ABOARD HMCS BONAVENTURE (CP)—This year's NATO sea exercises in the North Atlantic prove more emphatically than ever that what the NATO can do it can do very well.

It is what it cannot do, and indeed what no force on earth can do, that presents a big question mark in Western defences.

At the heart of the matter are the big, highly sophisticated, nuclear - powered and nuclear-armed submarines that could, with comparative safety, launch a nuclear attack.

No navy could, with any degree of certainty, claim to be capable of locating and destroying them in time. While this balance of power, or, more exactly, lack of power, continues it constitutes in itself a sort of mutual defence.

But Commodore R. P. Welland, in command of Canada's five-ship contingent in the NATO exercises off northern Scotland, does not believe it will always be so.

COMMODORE R. P. WELLAND

SEEK A-SUB DEFENCE

"I do not subscribe to a current notion that the nuclear-propelled submarine is invulnerable now and always will be," he said in an interview aboard the aircraft carrier Bonaventure as the six-nation exercises drew to a close.

"The solution to these problems, as with any problem, lies in the energy of those whose task it is to solve them.

"I quite honestly believe we know what needs to be done. Doing it, of course, depends on what kind of people we are—and whether we think the problem needs solving."

NATO does believe it needs solving and for the last four years 36 scientists from nine countries, including Canada, have been working in the naval base at La Spezia, northern Italy, seeking to find an answer to the nuclear missile-carrying submarine.

Present sonar equipment emits sound waves which produce echoes on striking an underwater object and has been highly effective in sub-killing, a department in which the Canadian navy specializes. To improve on it, the scientists are studying factors influencing the propagation of sound in the ocean, including water temperatures, saline content and wave motion below the sea's surface.

The Canadian navy is already well ahead of others in the sonar field and both the Royal Navy and the United States Navy have expressed interest in acquiring equipment of Canadian design.

Conventional sonar equipment, fastened to the hull of a ship, is seriously limited in penetrating various sea depths where change of temperature and other conditions cause interference.

The newest Canadian development consists of sonar equipment capable of being lowered to sound different levels of the sea.

It is a breakthrough that has proved extremely successful in sounding wide areas — and depths—of ocean. But a major problem remains — all sonar equipment becomes ineffective above a speed of 15 knots, when water pressure causes interference.

Meanwhile, the NATO navy strives for perfection in the more conventional aspects of war at sea that would be of supreme importance in any conflict this side of nuclear warfare.

LOCATED SUBS

In these exercises the Canadians showed up well, said Welland, a native of Oxbow, Sask., and senior Canadian officer afloat (Atlantic).

"We found a good number of submarines," he says. "We found them in very adverse weather conditions. We were able to harass and 'attack 'them with the aircraft of Bonaventure.

"We were able to direct destroyers in close contact for further tormenting them. We were able to achieve this kind of result repeatedly, not just once."

The opinion in some quarters that even the conventional subs are practically invulnerable gets little support from Welland.

"In fact, the conventional diesel electric submarine is, in my view, in a tenuous position against modern forces.

"Were there to be a shooting contest, their losses would be high—I am sure of it."

MIGHTY FALLS

A maximum of 75,000,000 gallons of water a minute thunder down Victoria Falls in Africa during the November-December period.

Atheism Blocks Adoption

BARRIE, Ont. (CP)—Simcoe County Children's Aid Society trustees voted Tuesday to reject an application from a Toronto couple to adopt a child because the husband is an atheist.

Don Jackson, the society's administrative director, said the couple, both university graduates, was acceptable in every way except for the husband's atheism.

The wife attends a Protestant church and the couple is willing to sign an affidavit that the child would attend church with its mother, he said. But they would not agree to exert pressure on him to remain in church when he was an adult.

The couple's name was not revealed.

At least one trustee voted in favor of the couple's application.

NO DRIVING UNTIL 18 FAVORED BY PTA

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver council of Parent-Teachers' Association Tuesday night narrowly approved a resolution asking provincial legislation to set the minimum age at 18 for driver's licence applicants.

Representatives voted 13 to 11 in favor of the proposal, with 31 abstentions. Safety committee chairwoman Mrs. Marion Whorral said the vote meant approval, and the proposal will now be presented to the B.C. Parent-Teachers' Federation.

30,000 Guests Hourly

OTTAWA (CP)—R. F. Shaw, deputy commissioner general of the 1967 Montreal world's fair, said Tuesday planners are designing a "monorail or similar system" to carry 30,000 visitors an hour between the downtown Montreal hotel area and the island site of the fair.

Directors of the Canadian World Exhibition Corporation were to receive a completed master plan of the system Dec. 20, along with basic designs for fair pavilions and other buildings.

Mr. Shaw, speaking to the 18th federal - provincial tourist conference, said fair directors can plan and operate the fair but "we look to you to bring our visitors to us in comfortable convenience, to take care of them while they are outside the gates of the exhibition and to persuade them to visit other parts of Canada before or after their visit to Montreal."

New Measles Vaccine Effective

MONTREAL (CP) — Two Montreal doctors say that a new measles vaccine studied here is nearly 100 per cent effective in preventing the disease.

Results of a two-and-a-half-year survey of children, described as the first of its kind in Canada, were reported by Dr. Hugh F. Brodie and Dr. Alan Ross of the Montreal Children's Hospital.

In the study, 150 children were vaccinated with live measles virus, the doctors said. Ninety-three per cent of the children had one or more symptoms following vaccination. Since the symptoms were "generally mild and limited," and offered future protection, the vaccine seemed to be a considerable advance in preventive medicine.

The doctors said they believe the live vaccine will give a lifetime of protection against measles. They were advising parents to have their children vaccinated with the live or killed vaccine, or a combination, depending on advice of the family doctor.

Since the study began, more than 500 Montreal children have been vaccinated against measles.

The study at the Montreal children's hospital, directed by Dr. Brodie, was a joint research project with the department of pediatrics at McGill University and the Child Health Association of Montreal.

$100,000 Split By Crash Victims

VANCOUVER (CP) — The B.C. Supreme Court Tuesday awarded $100,000 to six persons affected by a Vancouver Island highway accident Aug. 4, 1962.

It is one of the largest awards ever made in a B.C. highway accident.

Two persons were killed in the two-car collision near Nanaimo — Maurice McLeod, the driver of one car, and Joseph Plavetic, passenger in the other.

The five injured and Mrs. Sylvia Plavetic, widow of the killed passenger, sued Mrs. Dorothy Jean McLeod, representative of the estate of Mr. McLeod, and the Canadian Indemnity Company. The case was heard in Victoria and judgment handed down here.

A total of $43,642 was awarded to the Plavetic family. Of this Mrs. Plavetic was awarded $23,300; Ivan, 13, $3,600; Carolyn, 8, $5,400; Joseph Jr., born after his father died, $10,260. The money awarded to the children will be held in trust until they are of age.

John Ferenczi, 47, driver of the second car, received $10,206 and passengers John Marcusik, 35, $8,522; Steve Becir, 36, $10,106, Andrew Madarasz, 40, $10,826, Bela Palsak $14,401.

The amount of insurance coverage involved was not disclosed.

ON WELFARE

In Nanaimo Mrs. Plavetic, commenting on the award, said she and her three children have been living on $145 a month welfare payments since the accident.

Last Christmas was a bleak time and she was looking forward to another one.

"I'm sure we'll get some toys this Christmas," said Ivan.

The family came to Canada from Yugoslavia in 1958 to join Mrs. Plavetic's parents who also live in Nanaimo. Mr. Plavetic worked as a planer in a sawmill there.

The accident occurred at 12:40 a.m. four miles north of Ladysmith where Cedar Road intersects with the Trans-Canada Highway. There was some drizzle and fog at the time.

Police said at the time that a new pickup driven by Mr. McLeod turned into the highway and was in collision with the car driven by Mr. Ferenczi.

He and the others in his car were returning to Nanaimo from Chemainus, where all were employed by MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd.

CHIEF ADMITS FORGERY

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP)—A volunteer fire chief from Lantville, V.I., pleaded guilty Tuesday to 16 charges of forgery and false pretences involving about $3,000 in worthless cheques.

John Ryan, 34, also a civil defence co-ordinator in Lantzville, had come to Ontario several weeks ago to attend a civil defence course. His case was remanded for one week.

Police say Ryan opened a bank account in Peterborough under the name of a fictitious firm and then wrote cheques to fictitious names.

He was apprehended after a store manager copied down his B.C. licence number and turned it over to police.

DUNCAN VOTE DEC. 5

Clergymen Differ On Sunday Movies

DUNCAN — Duncan clergymen are split on whether the city should have Sunday movies.

A plebiscite on the matter is to be held in conjunction with the Dec. 5 civic elections.

Rev. W. H. Elfert, a Lutheran minister, said Tuesday he isn't "violently in favor of it, but I feel there is no valid reason why we shouldn't have movies on Sundays."

"But it must not be in competition with church programs."

Rev. Bernard Knipe of Duncan United Church declared Sunday movies would detract from family life.

"It would necessitate people working who would otherwise not be working."

NOT DEMOCRATIC

Rev. John Van Dykis of the Dutch Reformed Church opposed the holding of the plebiscite.

"Although it seems a democratic way," he said, "it really is not.

"The government should decide, as it reigns under the grace of God, and I feel movies and other entertainment businesses should be closed."

A spokesman for the Roman Catholic Church said the church has no objection to Sunday movies "as long as they do not interfere with church activities and as long as it is decent entertainment."

V.I. BRIEFS

Cricket Club Purchase Goes to Vote

DUNCAN — A referendum asking authority to purchase the Cowichan Cricket Club will be put to ratepayers in the Dec. 5 municipal elections here.

Council feels the 7.5 acres of property should be purchased for recreation. The land owned by the Cowichan Cricket Club is situated between Wharncliffe Road and the Cowichan River.

The exact purchase price is not known as it has yet to be appraised by an independent firm. Estimates have ranged from $15,000 to $22,000.

ADMIRAL CALLS IN COUNCIL

Silencing Charge Strongly Denied

Rear-Admiral W. M. Landymore's office became a political battleground a third time Tuesday as he called in the entire Esquimalt council to explain his actions in the current "silencing" controversy.

He confirmed that Reeve A. C. Wurtele came to his office Nov. 13 to complain about personal attacks against himself as a candidate for the Dec. 5 election by naval Lieut. J. A. Boyd. The lieutenant was acting as spokesman for the Esquimalt Voters' Association which supports Coun Bert Nelson for reeve.

The admiral, at the council's request, issued a press statement outlining his conversation with Reeve Wurtele and Lieut. Boyd at a second meeting in his office Nov. 14.

DECIDED BEFORE

In substance, Admiral Landymore statement denied that Reeve Wurtele asked to have Lieut. Boyd silenced and denied that he had ordered him to stay out of civic affairs. But he did note that Lieut. Boyd decided to drop out as EVA spokesman before and not after the meeting in his office.

But Coun. Bert Nelson, who attended the "clarification" meeting in the flag officer's office, said only the navy, and not Reeve Wurtele, had been exonerated.

'UNPRECEDENTED'

"It does not exonerate Reeve Wurtele's unprecedented action in attempting to use the high office of the Pacific Command to complain about the personal attack mentioned," claimed Coun. Nelson.

"I think the reeve should have thought of the implications before going to the admiral. I cannot condone his action."

Summary of Admiral Landymore's statement said:

"In all fairness to everyone concerned, I must underline the following points:

(a) At no time did Reeve Wurtele suggest that Lieut. Boyd should be silenced. Moreover, it will be clear from the facts as stated about Lieut. Boyd was not instructed in any way to curtail his activities or pursuits.

(b) A new spokesman for the voters' association was not appointed as a result of my meeting with Lieut. Boyd, for as previously noted, Lieut. Boyd indicated this had been considered before he saw me.

(c) Complaints made to the Navy, regardless of source or nature, and whether they are made orally or in writing must be investigated. No one is discouraged from making complaints to me as good relationships with the community depend on rectifying any faults which could affect this relationship.

(d) The Navy must be able to work effectively with the persons holding public office before and after elections and therefore cannot take any part in election campaigns, except that individuals within the service are always encouraged to exercise their franchise."

Reeve Wurtele added a postscript to the matter today.

"On behalf of the council, I would like to thank the admiral for arranging the meeting in his office. This was done without any request from council.

"A statement has now been given to the press covering all aspects of a controversy which has arisen in the past week.

"It is hoped that now this matter has been fully explained, we can get down to debating important matters of policy.

"I would hope this will be an end to bitterness and that we can conduct the campaign on a higher level from this point forward," the reeve said.

Go-Ahead Given Kuper Island Ferry Landing

DUNCAN—Construction of a ferry landing at Kuper Island by the federal department of public works was announced today by Ronald Sampson of Duncan, superintendent of Indian affairs.

He said the 300 residents of the island, whi make up the Penelakut Indian band, have been asking for a landing for several years.

Construction is expected to get under way by Jan. 15.

Mr. Sampson said the landing will be built for passengers, but not for motor-vehicles. The ferry will make two trips a day.

The dock will be paid for by the Indian affairs department, he said.

Joy of Festive Season Is In Doing for Others

By Elizabeth Forbes

The season of giving is ahead. Even now, most of us are looking forward to it.

Forbes

We're planning party fare, wrapping presents, addressing cards. Our homes are filled with the good odors that go with the making of Christmas cakes, puddings and mincemeat.

We will not be able to savor the joys of the festive season in full, however, if we do not give some thought along the way for those who through circumstances beyond their control, are unable to look ahead, as we are doing, to a joyous Christmas.

You know this well. I know it, too!

That's why I also know that when I pass the following request on to you, it will be read and acted upon.

It's from Gerry Webb, group worker and supervisor of group play at Seven Oaks Home for mentally disturbed children.

He's visualizing cupboards filled with used toys, in many family homes in Victoria. Toys that in many instances, will be discarded come Christmas Day.

"We need used toys out here," he says, "for boys and girls who are learning to play together in groups for the first time in their young lives.

"We need dolls, trucks, mechano sets, Tinker toys and blocks especially blocks all the things that could help youngsters from broken homes and with parents who care little for their needs, to win back to a well-balanced life."

Mr. Webb also says that a used electric, three-speed phonograph "would be manna from Heaven." It could be used to get the children interested in rhythm games and group songs.

Right now there are 13 boys and girls in residence at Seven Oaks Centre, aged from six to 12. Each one has been badly hurt by life and it is only through kind and understanding care that they will learn to smile again.

You'd like to help? Then take those used toys, or the phonograph that is gathering dust in your basement, to the Family and Children Service at Spencerhouse, corner of Cook and Pembroke Streets.

Tell the desk clerk that the items are for Seven Oaks Centre. You can be sure Gerry Webb and other staff members there will bless you and that you will find added joy in the festive season ahead.

Dinners at Admiral's House

Rear-Admiral W. M. Landymore, RCN, flag officer, Pacific Coast, and Mrs. Landymore, are entertaining at two dinner parties in Admiral's House, HMC Dockyard, one this evening and the other on Thursday evening. Covers will be laid for 14 at both parties.

Surprise Party

Victoria friends of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Roberts of Sooke gathered in their Billings Road home on Sunday to surprise them with a party to mark the couple's silver wedding anniversary and present them with a gift of television tables. Ron Burnside supplied music for dancing and games were played. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. K. Herrington, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lovery, Mr. and Mrs. M. Pederson, Mrs. D. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Oldnall and Miss B. Lawrence.

Feminine members of St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society are looking forward to their annual Christmas tea and fur fashion show, to be held on Saturday, December 7, in Holyrood House, commencing at 2:30 p.m. Committee members include, from the left, Mrs. J. Robertson, home cooking stall; Mrs. J. Anderson, aprons; Mrs. H. E. S. Blades, in charge of ticket sales, and Mrs. R. Baird, treasurer. Furs will be from Scuby Furs Ltd.

Wife of Negro MLA Works for Happiness

TORONTO (CP) — The wife of the first Negro member of a Canadian legislature is a hard-headed optimist.

"Life is a bowl of cherries but you have to work for them," said Ann Braithwaite as she relaxed in the living room of her comfortable split-level home in the Toronto suburb of Etobicoke.

It was in Etobicoke, a new constituency with no more than a handful of Negro families, that Leonard Braithwaite was elected as a Liberal member of the Ontario legislature Sept. 25.

"I wouldn't mind another campaign to keep me going," Mrs. Braithwaite remarked, recalling the whirl of coffee parties, door-to-door canvassing and barrage of telephone calls that helped her lawyer-husband to victory.

The tall, slender 30-year-old woman, whose singing "hello" and ready smile are familiar to neighbors and friends, learned the meaning of hard work when she was a young girl, second oldest in a poverty-stricken family of eight in the coal-mining community of Glace Bay, N.S.

TOMORROW COUNTS

"We were very poor and I came to Toronto to finish my education," she said, indicating reluctance to discuss her childhood. "I always think about tomorrow, not yesterday."

Here, at 15, she began working as an office clerk during the day and attending night high school classes. Later she put herself through business school.

She became a secretary at a downtown legal firm and acquired experience that was useful when her husband, a graduate of Harvard business school and Toronto's Osgoode Hall law course, set up his practice in 1959.

"It's interesting being your husband's secretary after you're married," she said. "He never criticizes."

Her tour of duty in her husband's office is past now. The Braithwaites' three-year-old son Roger and a newly adopted 10-months-old boy keep her at home.

Mrs. Braithwaite describes her husband's entry into politics—2½ years ago he led the polls on his first try for board of education and last December he was elected to the Etobicoke council — as "part of our way of life."

'VERY LUCKY'

"We enjoy our community and our neighbors and wouldn't dream of being part of something and not giving in return."

She also voiced her appreciation for the opportunity to give, saying "we are very lucky being Canadians and living in a riding of intelligent people who know that capabilities are the most important thing."

Ann Braithwaite was asked whether she thought a sympathetic reaction here to the plight of Negroes in the southern United States might have helped her husband win the election.

It was evidently a question that had been asked before and she didn't answer directly.

Four Negro children had been killed in a church bombing in Birmingham, Ala., 10 days before the election here, and all she would say was that her husband refused to capitalize on the tragedy in his campaigning.

Apart from community and political activity, Mr. and Mrs. Braithwaite live quietly in the middle-class west-end suburb.

"We work and rest so that we can keep working," she said, returning to her basic philosophy.

Before her husband's political career began to make heavy demands on her time she was first vice-president of the Canadian Negro Women's Club, worked for the women's section of the United Nations Association, the women's auxiliary of the Kiwanis Club in which her husband is active, and the women's guild of St. Matthias Anglican Church where she still teaches the nursery Sunday school class.

She also helped organize a women's Liberal association in the new riding.

She runs her bright, gaily furnished home without help—"a cleaning woman is a luxury I can't afford"—and even sews many of her own clothes.

To her husband's delight, Ann's hobby is cooking. Even on election night, when 250 persons crowded into the Braithwaites' home, Ann was in the kitchen putting the finishing touches on a buffet of mushrooms in brandy, shrimp mould, devilled eggs and trifle.

Mrs. Ann Braithwaite, 30, helped her lawyer husband, Leonard, become the first Negro member of a Canadian legislature by working hard on his campaign. He won the new riding of Etobicoke, Ont., for the Liberal party.

Arbutus Club Entertain Menfolk

Program theme "Humor Oils the Wheels of Life" was presented by toastmistress of the evening, Mrs. H. L. Brigham, at annual gentleman's night of the Arbutus Toastmistress Club held recently in the Blue Room.

Club president Mrs. S. McCulloch presided and welcomed guests. Topic mistress Mrs. F. Dearman, who was introduced by Mrs. A. G. Higgs, took as the table topic, "Changes in Victoria."

Mrs. Brigham was introduced by Miss Hattie Jewell. Speeches were given by E. R. Ashbridge, Mrs. R. S. Butt, Mrs. E. Mansley and Mrs. J. Roberts. Speech evaluators were Mrs. D. L. Campbell, Mrs. B. Ince and Mrs. G. Love.

Toast to the guests was proposed by Mrs. H. Ker and the response given by L. Dunphy, member of Thunderbird and Victoria Toastmasters Clubs. Guest evaluator for the evening was V. Gilbert, past president of the 38th First Canadian Toastmasters Club and past area governor.

Victorian Wed at Prince George

A wedding of interest to Victorians took place at Prince George last Saturday when Judith Yvonne Barth exchanged vows with Malcolm Hume Mitchell in St. Michael and All Angels Anglican Church. Rev. E. S. Gale of Vancouver officiated.

Parents of the principals are Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Barth of Weston, Ont.; Mrs. William Mitchell, 52 Linden Avenue, Victoria, and the late Mr. Ion Mitchell.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She wore a pink brocade sheath dress and matching jacket that had a jewelled trim edging the neckline. Her embroidered tiara featured roses and pearls. A corsage of pink roses was pinned to the white fur muff she carried.

Evan Mitchell was best man for his brother and two other brothers, Angus and Bruce, acted as ushers. The best man proposed the toast to the bride's happiness at a reception which followed in the Simon Fraser Hotel.

After a honeymoon trip to Prince Rupert, the newlyweds will make their home in Prince George.

'Aboard Ship'

Gifts were in a model of a naval vessel when Mrs. W. P. McColl and Mrs. J. P. McColl entertained at a shower in the former's Springridge Crescent home in honor of bride-elect, Miss Moira McColl. Honor guest was presented with pink roses en corsage and her mother, Mrs. J. P. McColl Sr. received red roses. Also invited were Mrs. G. D. Bernard, Mrs. C. B. Williamson, Mrs. G. Mercer, Mrs. E. Bull, Mrs. D. Price, Mrs. P. McConnachie, Mrs. J. McPherson, Mrs. A. Currie, Mrs. P. Stephens, Mrs. A. L. Stevenson, Mrs. H. Hilditch, Mrs. G. Jackson, Mrs. J. D. Carlow, Mrs. B. D. Carlow, Mrs. D. R. Carlow, Mrs. C. Mills, Mrs. G. Weir, Mrs. R. Baiss, Mrs. W. Fulton, Mrs. W. Jenkins, Mrs. D. McColl, Mrs. W. McColl, the Misses Susan and Merilee McColl, Patsy Chu and Marion Stevenson.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Finer Points of Grammar!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You said it wasn't proper to say "Congratulations" to a bride. One should say "Best wishes" to the bride, and "Congratulations" to the groom. Then you said the person who said "Congratulations" to a bride might as well follow it up with, "I didn't think you could land him." I think you're all wrong, Abby. A bride DESERVES to be congratulated. In this day and age it is really an accomplishment to get a man to marry her. How about when a person graduates from high school or college? If I say "Congratulations" to someone, might I just as well follow it up with, "I didn't think you could make it"?

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: If you did, the graduate is likely to reply, "Thanks, neither did I."

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is getting married pretty soon. Her father has been locked up in a mental home for the past three years. When we make the announcement and send out the wedding invitations, should we use, "MR. AND MRS. SO AND SO"? According to the law, he is not responsible. He can't sign contracts or anything like that. If we didn't use his name, he couldn't be hurt because he wouldn't know the difference. Thank you.

HIS WIFE.

DEAR WIFE: Even though your husband is confined in a mental hospital, he is still alive. Announcements and invitations in such circumstances should read "MR. AND MRS." To deny his existence would be cruel.

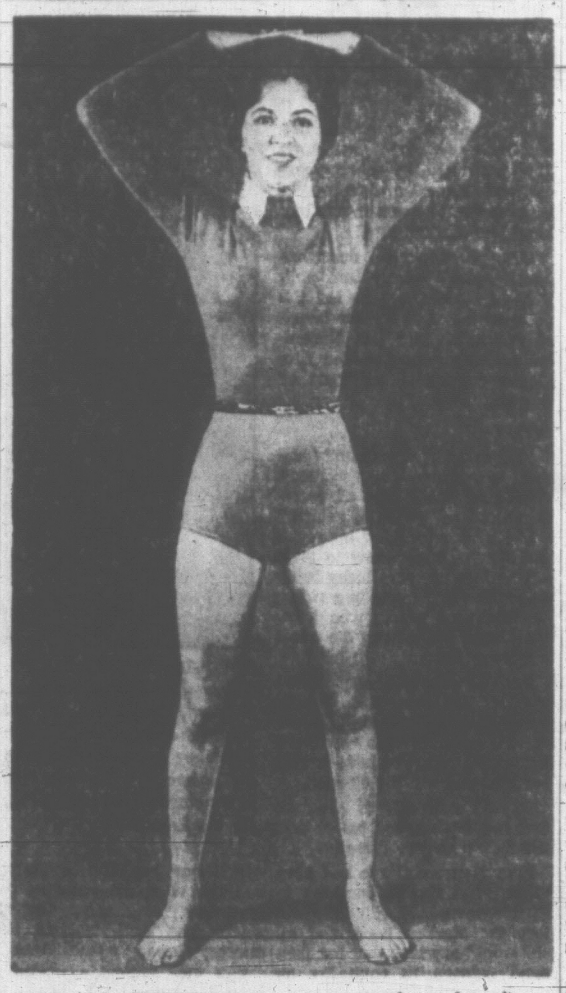
DEAR ABBY: I come from a large family. I have several older sisters and brothers who are married and have children. I am engaged to be married and want to know if, after I am married, my husband will automatically become an uncle to my nieces and nephews? I am only trying to prove a technical point. He says that MY kin will be no kin of his, and I say they will be HIS as well as mine. Who's right?

BIG ARGUMENT.

DEAR BIG: Your relatives will become HIS relatives. If your disagreement is only technical, that's one thing. But if he has mental reservations about your relatives, maybe you'd be wise to review your engagement.

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

"How long has it been since you changed the sauerkraut in the transmission?"



Here is the starting position for an exercise designed to eliminate those unwanted inches from your waist.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Here's a Figure Fault Fixing Trio!

The following is a walkie-talkie exercise which is reducing to the hips. You can talk while you do this exercise. Sit on the floor with your legs stretched out in front of you, knees stiff. Place your hands on the floor at your sides. "Walk" forward on your hips by rocking from side to side. With each rock thrust your leg forward from the hip. Many women do this exercise incorrectly, with a smooth movement. The rocking should be choppy. Your knees must remain stiff throughout the exercise.

Lowman

The following motion is splendid for slimming the waistline. Stand tall. Place your hands on the top of your head. Keep your hands in this position as you bend to the right as far as comfortable. Raise trunk. Bend to the left. Raise trunk and continue, alternating right and left. The hands remain on the top of the head and the knees must be stiff during this exercise.

At first you may not be able to bend very far over, but this will change with practice. If you keep your legs straight, you will gradually stretch your back leg muscles.

And here is a motion for a flat tummy. Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor, extending out from the shoulders. Bend both knees up close to your abdomen. Straighten the legs toward the ceiling. Slowly lower them to the floor with stiff knees. Stretch out, making yourself as long as possible. Continue.

If this is too difficult at first, bend one leg at a time, straighten toward the ceiling and lower to the floor, alternating.

If you would like to have my short routine of exercises which is corrective to the most usual feminine figure faults, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet number 19 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Madame Prefers the Demure When Choosing Her Nighties

Paris (Reuters) — Traditionally sexy French night-gowns have given way to high-necked garments of monastic purity, says Ingrid Rouge, the best known lingerie designer in Paris.

Mme. Rouge, owner of the Candide Lingerie Shop, numbers Brigitte Bardot, Elizabeth Taylor, Sophia Loren, Kim Novak, Michelle Morgan and Audrey Hepburn among her clients.

Most of these actresses have worn Candide nightgowns in their films. All are faithful clients in private life.

"Night-time is a world apart, a world of dreams," the attractive, blonde Swedish-born designer claims.

"To counteract the tempo of modern life, the women subconsciously wish to become children at night.

"Even the most sophisticated woman's personality becomes pure and simple again. A woman is only as old as her dreams."

Her gowns and negligees are cut as modestly as a child's nightgown, with added touches of Victorian romanticism in the shape of beaded ribbons, eyelet embroidery, smocking or frills of baby lace.

Mme. Rouge says modern brides still want elaborate trousseaus if they can possibly afford them.

She explains that it is not unusual for young French brides to order as many as 20 nightgowns.

Her first collection of inexpensive, ready-to-wear lingerie includes 40 garments, ranging from dormitory shifts and pyjamas in colorful stripes or prints, to charming little Victorian negligee and nightgown sets.

A practical and unusual innovation is the one-piece shortwaist-petticoat made of white cotton batiste trimmed with lace insets.

The combination blouse and slip can also be worn as a substitute for nightgown when travelling. It needs no ironing.

Bilingualism Counts

MONTREAL (CP) — Chief Stewardess Lois McDonald of Canadian Pacific Airlines says bilingualism has taken on a new importance in the recruiting of airline stewardesses. CPA stewardesses based in Montreal must speak French and English while girls who speak only English are based in Vancouver and are rarely put on the cross-Canada run.

Breaks Precedent

ABBOTS BROMLEY, England (CP)—Fifteen-year-old Susan Powell, member of a Staffordshire family connected for 430 years with the traditional horn dance, broke precedent by becoming the only girl ever to take part in the dance which dates back to pagan times. As part of the ceremony, Susan wore reindeer antlers weighing about 25 pounds.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Gifts for the Hobbyist Are Specialties of Shop

By PENNY SAVER

With the Christmas season now in full fling, mothers are frantically chasing from store to store in search of an appropriate gift for the junior members of the household.

Why not centre this year's shopping around the hobbies and crafts enjoyed by your youngsters?

Shop I was in stocks its shelves with almost every kind, size, shape and description of material to fulfil the needs of any young (or old) hobbyist.

Your little budding chemist would most certainly appreciate a chemistry set which comes in a metal chest and is complete with a non-spill alcohol lamp, scale, glassware and chemicals. Price ranges from $3.59 upwards.

Of course, if he already has the complete set but is lacking one or two accessories, individual pieces of lab apparatus are also available.

As well as chemistry equipment, the young scientist would undoubtedly be able to make use of a microscope.

These plastic or metal microscopes, priced from $7.25 upwards, are replicas of "the real McCoy" with slides, cleaners and dissecting tools.

To delight your pre-school children ask Santa to deliver a box of light-weight styrofoam building boulders. These interlocking blocks fit snuggly yet pull apart easily and build up to as high as six feet. Sets are priced at $7.95.

Pamper your men of any age with new soldiers to add to their old collections.

Soldiers are priced from 40 cents to $2 each and depict such periods of time as the Roman era, the Vikings and Normans, and up the ladder of history to present day.

To complete the collection, supply your man with heavy artillery such as field guns and cannons, or buy seige towers and old-time forts to provide the appropriate setting.

Help Santa in filling the Christmas stocking this year by calling Penny at 382-3131.

Community Leaders to End Up 'In the Book'

In between various ventures, Miss Lynn finds herself doing a great deal of entertaining for her companions, two cats named "Timothy" and "Tiger." Says their owner, "They bring in their freeloading neighborhood pals for smorgasbord dinners, especially if it's a fish day."

By PAT DUFOUR

If you've taken more than a passing interest in community affairs or made your mark in the business world, you'll probably be getting a phone call from Miss Margaret Lynn.

No, Miss Lynn is not heading another of Victoria's fund-raising campaigns. She's the "leg man" for a local publishing company that plans to bring out a revised edition of "Who's Who in British Columbia" next spring.

Last time such a book was published was 10 years ago and as Miss Lynn stresses: "It's definitely not a social register but more of a type of reference book, listing leaders of various communities."

Fee for recorded renown—a custom in the compiling of any such book—is nominal. "It will cost a person $25 to get their name in the book and $40 if they wish a picture to be used."

These prices, of course, include a copy of the provincial status symbol.

If Miss Lynn has her way, there'll be a slightly different flavor to the new edition. "I would like to see more women listed. It's only fair that they should be recognized for the outstanding work they do for their communities."

Miss Lynn called Vancouver home until 1958 when she decided to become a Victorian because "Victoria has such a happy small-town atmosphere. Nowhere else have I seen bus drivers stop to help elderly people get aboard."

Her first local venture was a boarding house for elderly women in her home at 548 Niagara Street.

Although keenly interested in helping others, she reluctantly decided to give up this venture. "I've never been partial to cooking and it was too much of a risk for the ladies to have to take. But, God bless 'em, they're all still alive. They pleaded to stay, even offering to do their own cooking."

An enthusiastic club woman, Miss Lynn was founder of the first Vancouver Toastmistress Club and was actively engaged with that city's Council of Women, Consumers' Association of Canada and Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

So far, she has restricted her Victoria club affiliation to the Association of Women Electors, a group which, she feels, "has attracted some very smart women who are doing a great job by making deep studies, on a non-partisan footing, of civic affairs."

She thinks that the group is also indicative of the fact that "women are gradually coming out of the lethargy they've been in for so long."

If Miss Lynn has her way, her promotion of Victoria will not end in the listing of its citizens' attributes.

"I would like to see Victoria transformed into a 16th century English town for a certain period during each summer tourist season.

"The stores would all have false fronts to help create the illusion. A "king" and "queen" would be elected and hold court for the period. There'd be pantomimes, chamber music at Craigdarroch Castle, masked balls and town criers. On the final night, any "native" caught downtown without period costume would have to pay a penalty, such as spending time in the "stocks."

"I think such a project would attract support from firms in other parts of Canada and once they had seen Victoria in festive mood they would probably be interested in starting modern industries here."

Meanwhile she's shelved this project as well as a children's book which she's been "forming up" during the last few months.

Right now, it's "Who's Who" and, as I've said before, if you are community minded, this could mean you!

Bazaar Planned In New Parish Hall at Langford

Saturday will be a gala day for the parishioners of Our Lady of the Rosary Church at Langford when they attend the first function to be held in the parish's new hall. All church groups will combine efforts for the bazaar, arranged to begin at 2 p.m.

In the words of the parish priest, Fr. W. J. O'Brien, "We intend to go whole hog and make this a day to remember."

Also assisting will be women of Sooke's Altar Society who will convene afternoon tea.

The many stalls will offer home baking, sewing, knitted goods, Christmas novelties, candy and many other items.

The Men's Parish Club will convene a smorgasbord supper to be served at 6 p.m. by the parish Guide company and Scout troop.

Evening's festivities will include games for young and old and an auction.

The $60,000 building, at 798 Goldstream Avenue, Langford, is planned as a recreational centre with three badminton courts, basketball space, large kitchen and cloakroom.

Official opening of the hall will take place in mid-December and will be attended by many church dignitaries and city district representatives.

TODAY'S RECIPE

SEA-GOING HOT DOG NEW FOOTBALL TREAT

It's hard to say which came first—football or the hot dog?

At any rate, the hot dog is standard football fare all over Canada — and approximately 36,000 will be devoured in the stadium at Saturday's Grey Cup game.

If you're watching the game at home, why not surprise the family with a toasty sea-going variety of the hot dog? Sneak to the kitchen at half-time and return with a plateful of easy hot seadogs, filled with a savory mixture of British Columbia pink salmon, cheddar cheese and pickles. Toasted in individual foil wrappers, hot seadogs score a flavor touchdown every time:

HOT SEADOGS

One can (7¾ oz.) British Columbia pink salmon, 1 cup grated cheddar cheese, 2 tbsp. chopped sweet pickle, 2 tbsp. chopped onion, 2 tbsp. prepared mustard, 6 buttered frankfurter rolls.

Drain and flake pink salmon. Combine with cheese, pickle, onion and mustard. Open rolls lengthwise and spread with salmon mixture. Tightly wrap each roll in aluminum foil and heat in hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit) for 10 minutes. Makes six servings.

Now that most window boxes are bare of flowers, there is the possibility that water dripping from the eaves will splash earth from the box onto the window. This can be avoided by covering the box neatly with a polythene drop sheet.

Carpet Comment

Dear Carpetorium:

I've heard a number of times of the terms "rug sizing" and "cleaned and sized." What do these terms mean?

MRS. G. N. F.,
VICTORIA, B.C.

Rug sizing is usually a starch-type compound that is applied to the backs of Wilton and Axminster rugs to give them body and to minimise wrinkling and buckling. A large percentage of the rugs being manufactured today have rubberised or plasticised backs. This type of rug should not be sized as the sizing could do more harm than good.

'Happy' Rockefeller In

NEW YORK (UPI) — The social register ousted prominent Americans by the score Tuesday but gave its seal of social approval to the marriage of Governor Nelson Rockefeller and Margaretta (Happy) Murphy.

The newly published 1964 edition dropped members of the Cleveland, Havemeyer, Lord and Houghton clans and even axed a Rockefeller cousin.

Society had feared the register's anonymous board, sensitive as a seismograph to to overly publicized divorces, might bounce the Rockefellers, both of whom were listed previously.

The unpredictable register bounced instead one of the governor's millionaire cousins, William Avery Rockefeller, presumably for marrying an unlisted bride. William Rockefeller, twice divorced, took Betty von Soosten as his third wife last year.

The 1964 volume failed to list post-deb Hope Cook of Mayflower descent whose marriage to the Crown Prince of Sikkim was the most publicized nuptial of the year. She outranks the Duchess of Windsor acording to protocol.

The register, which traditionally frowns on actresses, welcomed the daughter of actress Joan Bennett and film director Walter Wanger.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Marrion, 453 Arnold Street, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Linda Joy, to Mr. Murray Dennis Ruehlen, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ruehlen of Terrace, B.C. The wedding will take place on Saturday, December 28, at 2 p.m., in Fairfield United Church with Rev. H. Johnston officiating. Miss Marrion is a graduate of the 1962 class of Royal Jubilee Hospital Nursing School and her fiance is studying for his bachelor of commerce degree at University of British Columbia. He is a member of Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Tomlinson, 1041 Chamberlain Street, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Judith Mary, to Mr. Dennis George Stokes, only son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stokes of 3631 Elliston Avenue. The wedding will take place on Saturday, December 7, at St. Luke's Anglican Church with Archdeacon C. E. F. Wolfe officiating. (Kandid Kamera.)

Bazaar In Shady Creek Hall

Gay Christmas decorations formed a background for the bazaar and tea held Saturday at Shady Creek United Church Hall on East Saanich Road.

Rev. L. Clinton Johnston opened the affair and a sum of $400 was realized.

Attractive table centres in the tea room were entries in a contest amongst United Church women members. Judging was done by Mrs. E. Jones and prizes were awarded to Mrs. C. J. Allen and Mrs. K. Sedgman.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. H. Simpson, Mrs. J. G. B. Bompas, Mrs. V. A. Beaumont and Mrs. E. Wiltshire. Feature of the afternoon was an art and hobby show, with exhibits from various groups in the Shady Creek Church.

White House Chatelaine Waits Until Mrs. Kennedy Ready to Go

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson said Tuesday she and her family will not move into the White House until Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy has had time to wind up all of her affairs at her convenience.

"I wish to heaven I could serve Mrs. Kennedy's happiness," Mrs. Johnson told reporters in a brief statement.

"I can at least serve her convenience."

It is understood that Mrs Kennedy, in meeting with Mrs. Johnson during the trying days starting with President Kennedy's assassination, brought up the question of their discussing details of the changeover in the White House.

The 34-year-old Mrs. Kennedy indicated that she wanted to get together with Mrs. Johnson sometime this week to go over the details. But there has been no appointment set up as yet.

It was in response to inquiries from reporters about the changeover that Mrs. Johnson emphasized that her purpose is to be as helpful as possible to Mrs. Kennedy.

KNOWS PROBLEM

"I've had considerable experience in innumerable moves of children, pets and household things, and I know what moving involves," said Mrs. Johnson, adding:

"It is only when the last chore she (Mrs. Kennedy) wishes to do is done that I will contemplate moving."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Kennedy was remaining in seclusion in the White House.

It is not known where Mrs. Kennedy may go when she leaves the White House. The Kennedys own a cottage in the family compound in Hyannis Port, Mass., as well as a Virginia home.

There were reports, however, that, after a mourning period, Mrs. Kennedy may wish to settle down in Washington.

Must Take Larger Role

REGINA (CP)—Mrs. J. O. Asselin of Montreal, president of the Women's Liberal Federation of Canada, said Tuesday members of her group are not playing the full role of which they are capable.

"We have a much larger role than just making up telephone committees and doing the general donkey work at election times. I know the women of Canada and I know there is nothing they cannot do if they are united for a common cause."

Mrs. Asselin was speaking to the annual meeting of the Saskatchewan Women's Liberal Association.

"Our duty is simply to be as full and complete citizens as possible and avoid the trap of thinking of ourselves and our association as some sort of auxiliary, not quite as important as an association of men would be," she said.

Mrs. Asselin said it would be a great mistake for English-speaking Canada to discount the problems raised by Quebec.

"The English-speaking Canadians in Quebec recognize that Quebec's problems and rights have been ignored for too long. Perhaps it would have been a quiet evolution if the province had not been held back for so long by Premier Duplessis. But do not misunderstand Premier Jean Lesage. He is devoted to the idea of a united Canada."

Mrs. Lenore Andrews of Prince Albert, president of the Saskatchewan Women's Liberal Association, said she and members of her executive are doing more down-to-earth organizational work.

She said the women's group has been reorganized into eight provincial zones, each with a vice-president of the association at its head. There now are 35 women's Liberal clubs in the province.

FISH FARE

Smoked fish in a caper-cream sauce, served on toast, makes an easy, delicious, luncheon or supper dish. Simply add 2 cups (1 pound) flaked, cooked finnan haddie or smoked fillets to 1 cup of unseasoned, medium cream sauce containing 1 tablespoon chopped capers. Serve piping hot on toast, garnished with parsley.

A popular west coast dish is the Oyster Pepper Pan Roast, made like this. Fry ¼ cup each of chopped green pepper and onion in ¼ cup butter or margerine until tender but not brown. Add 1 cup of tomato catsup and 2 tablespoons of chopped parsley. Heat to simmering temperature, then add 1 pint of oysters which have been drained. Simmer for about three minutes, or until the thin edges of the oysters begin to ruffle. Serve on toast.

You'll enjoy the combination of flavors in this tangy, golden, Finnan Haddie Rarebit. Heat a small (6-ounce) can of unsweetened evaporated milk to boiling point and add 1 cup grated cheese, together with a dash of dry mustard. Stir until the cheese melts, then remove from the heat and blend in one beaten egg. Add 1 cup flaked, cooked or canned finnan haddie and heat gently for a minute or two longer. Serve on toast.

Goya Exhibition

Over 70 masterpieces by the great Spanish painter, Goya, will be on view at Burlington House in Piccadilly, home of the Royal Academy, this winter. Entitled "Goya and his Times," the exhibition will open on December 7, and will continue until the beginning of March, 1964. It has been planned in consultation with leading authorities in Spain following a visit to Madrid by Sir Charles Wheeler, president of the Royal Academy, in 1961. It is the first representative selection of Goya's works to be seen in Britain, and includes masterpieces from the Prado —several of which are insured for more than $900,000 each—which have never before left Spain.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of World Book Encyclopedia to Frank Eason, age 13, of Monroe, N.C., for his question:

Where do we find the amoeba?

He invades our homes and even our bodies, though he prefers life in the wilds. Outdoors, within the range of a mile, there may be more amoebae than there are stars in the sky. Hosts of them share our world, but they are microscopic animals, too small for eyes to see.

When his name is spelled amoeba, the plural is amoebae. When we spell it ameba, we may refer to his teeming relatives as amebas. His name means changing, for his microscopic body is forever changing its shape. He is a one-celled animal of the pylum Protozoa, and the average variety of ameba measures about one-hundredth part of an inch.

Amebas in teeming numbers populate the oceans. Others enjoy life in rivers and running streams, in creeks and stagnant ponds. Some live in moist soil and others inhabit the bodies of animals. There are amebas in your intestines, and as a rule they are quite harmless.

Every ameba is a small miracle. Under the microscope, he looks like a mere blob of jelly. He has no head, no real legs, and even the ameba does not know his front from his back. But he can travel, hunt food and digest it. He has no sense organs, but he turns from heat and cold and brilliant light. When prodded, he rolls into a ball.

The ameba's single cell is stuffed with soft cytoplasm, a magic jelly which assimilates food and oxygen, repairs itself and hands on life. These vital processes are directed and controlled by the cell nucleus, a dense spot of tissue embedded in the cytoplasm. The cell is sheathed by a thin membrane which lets in water, but prevents the valuable chemicals from seeping outside.

Can Live on Indefinitely

When the ameba travels, he sends forth flowing fingers called pseudopods. He can retract a pseudopod or allow his whole body to flow forward with it. From time to time the pseudopods flow and meet around a scrap of food, engulfing it into the cytoplasm where it is digested. When time comes to multiply, the nucleus and the cytoplasm divide in two. The ameba becomes a pair of twins and never dies from old age.

The ameba may be immortal, for he is rejuvenated every time he multiplies and becomes a pair of twins. Barring accidents, he can go on living indefinitely. If he is a pond-dwelling ameba, he can even cope with a long siege of dought. He simply encases himself in a crusty cyst and waits until water refills his private pool. Then he emerges from his cyst and continues the vital processes of life.

How to Treat Piles

without ointments, pile pipes or suppositories
Relieve Itching, Soreness and Pain

Here is a nice, clean, easy way to shrink swollen piles, relieve itching and soreness, even ease troublesome constipation — and all this without ointments, pile pipes or suppositories.

The secret of this convenient pile relief is in taking just one small HEM-ROID tablet two or three times a day. In a few days you may forget about those sore, burning piles. With gentle, but persistent INTERNAL action HEM-ROID helps break up and smoothly and painlessly pass off hardened intestinal waste, relieves itching, soreness and pain, shrinks piles and permits them to heal. HEM-ROID is so effective and pleasant to use many users have written us their thanks.

Now, treating piles with an INTERNAL treatment, like HEM-ROID may be new to you but in practice it is an old idea because HEM-ROID has been available in Canadian drug stores for over 35 years. Thousands of packages have been sold.

Why suffer needlessly? See for yourself how easy HEM-ROID is to use, how quickly effective it is. Costs only a few pennies a day. Full purchase price refunded if you are not pleased. All drug stores. Ask for HEM-ROID INTERNAL PILE TREATMENT.

'ACT NOW' ON PARKS PLAN, SAYS REEVE

Race Against Subdividers

Central Saanich Reeve R. Gordon Lee fully supports a proposal that Greater Victoria municipalities set up a special fund to buy Saanich peninsula land for park development.

The reeve described the proposal made last week by Hugh R. Stephen, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, as the "most practical and reasonable plan advanced so far for the preservation of green areas in and around the peninsula."

HALF-MILL LEVY

It calls for all Greater Victoria councils to levy a special half-mill tax annually. The money would be used to purchase green areas, beach accesses, woodlands and recreational areas in and around the peninsula.

An inter-municipal agency would be set up to administer the fund.

The reeve said now is the time to act.

The reeve warned that the urbanization of Central Saanich and unorganized territory will increase rapidly within the next 10 years.

FEARS SUBDIVISION

"Its a race against time," he said. "Unless we take action now, choice recreational areas will be subdivided."

The reeve said it was impossible for the municipality to purchase land independently for park use.

"We can't do it alone because of our small tax revenue," he said, "but all together something can be done to save beauty spots in Central Saanich and unorganized territory."

The reeve said the preservation of green areas will be brought at the next meeting of Central Saanich council.

Work Starts On $50,000 Municipal Hall

Construction started this week on Central Saanich's $50,000 municipal hall at Wallace Drive and Mount Newton Cross Road.

Contractor is Patterson Construction Ltd. The hall is expected to be completed by April 30.

Situated on two acres of land, the new hall will provide much-needed office space to carry on the administration of the growing municipality. The single-storey building has been designed with a view to easy expansion.

1,026 SQUARE FEET

It will have a floor area of 1,026 square feet. The building will be divided into four private and one general office and a council chamber.

It will replace the present municipal offices which are included in the police-fire hall at Saanichton. These include a general and municipal clerk offices with a total floor area of 360 feet.

The need for more office space became apparent two years ago due to increased demands for services caused by the expansion and development of residential areas in the rural municipality.

Family Homeless After Sooke Fire

A family of four has been left homeless by a fire in Sooke Tuesday night that destroyed the small house they were building.

Raymond Blancard left his home on Caldwell Road for 10 minutes and then, when he drove back again, found it in flames.

OIL STOVE BLAMED

The fire is believed to have been caused by an over-heated oil stove.

Mrs. Blancard was in Victoria with one of their children and the other was with Mr. Blancard.

The entire house and contents were destroyed. Mr. Blancard said he did not have insurance.

SIGN PACT

Norway, Britain, the Soviet Union, the Netherlands and Japan have signed a 1963-66 mutual inspection pact of Antarctic whaling.

Woman on Chair In Truck Cab Injured In Crash

A woman sitting on a lawn chair in the cab of a truck Tuesday afternoon was severely cut about the face when the vehicle stopped suddenly and she was catapulted into the windshield.

Mrs. Alexandra Leckie, 535 Brookleigh, is reported today in satisfactory condition at Royal Jubilee Hospital. She suffered concussion and received a bad cut above the lips.

Mrs. Leckie was in a truck driven by her husband when he braked sharply because he feared a collision with another car. There was only one seat in the cab and the lawn chair had been put in for Mrs. Leckie to sit on, police said.

The accident occurred at Bay and Blanshard.

TESTIMONY REPEATED

Jury Hears Admission Of Child Rape-Murder

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—For the second time in the capital murder trial of Kenneth Meeker an assize court jury Tuesday heard a confession given to RCMP that he took the life of 12-year-old Alice Mathers of Mission, last June.

A tape-recorded interview with Meeker taken by S.Sgt. J. W. Purdy in Cranbrook July 3 was played for the jury. In the interview Meeker was recorded as saying that he strangled the girl in a gravel pit near Deroche and left the body there.

The jury Thursday had heard another statement taken from Meeker by S.Sgt. E. D. Anderson in Kimberley in which Meeker admitted strangling the girl with his hands and a rope.

This earlier statement, S.Sgt. Anderson told the jury, had been taken on the night of July 2.

S.Sgt. Purdy, in addition to playing the recorded interview, also read to the jury a typewritten transcribed copy of the tape recording.

Both the recording and the transcribed statement had been the subject of a trial within a trial before Mr. Justice H. A. Maclean ruled they were admissible as evidence.

During the interview at Cranbrook, when S.Sgt. Purdy warned the accused that he faced a possible murder charge, the officer quoted Meeker as saying he wanted to tell the story.

"I can't take this no longer," Meeker was recorded as saying. "I've been drunk ever since then, until I got picked up last night."

S.Sgt. Purdy said Meeker appeared normal when he interviewed him.

The recording described how Meeker and his brother, James Lennard, picked up Alice Mathers on the highway near Mission and drove to the gravel pit east of Deroche.

(James Lennard Meeker has pleaded guilty to a charge of having unlawful intercourse with Alice Mathers and is awaiting sentence.)

The accused, according to the Cranbrook interview, told of having intercourse with the girl at the gravel pit and afterwards strangling her.

In the same interview, he was recorded as saying his brother was with him all the time, but that Lennard, was in their car and did not see the accused when he molested the girl or with the rope that he said he used in the strangulation.

The trial is continuing.

Man Held In Probe Of Blast

MONTREAL (CP) — Fire Commissioner John McDougall said Tuesday the hearing into the Oct. 20 explosion that levelled a two-storey west-end Montreal house claiming the lives of three members of a family of five was unable to conclude the blast was entirely accidental.

"The explosion was definitely a mixture of propane gas and air," he said, "triggered by a spark either from the oil furnace or by the turning on or off of an electric light."

Killed in the explosion were Mrs. Roland Haumont, 44, and her two daughters, Nicole, 17 and Leslie, 10.

Roland Haumont, a language professor at Harpur College, Binghamton, N.Y., and his son, Marc, 13, were injured in the blast.

Since his release from hospital, Mr. Haumont has been held without bail as a witness for the inquiry conducted by Fire Commissioner McDougall. The inquiry ended last Wednesday.

JFK FINISHED BOOK

SOUTH KOREA ELECTION

House Majority for Park

SEOUL (AP) — President-elect Chung Hee Park's party today won the National Assembly majority Park said he badly needed to continue his revolutionary program for the next four years.

With more than 85 per cent of the votes in Tuesday's country - wide elections counted, Park's Democratic Republican party had won 67 seats by direct voting, 22 by proportional representation and was leading in 17 other districts.

This assured the head of the military junta, who led the May, 1961, coup, a majority of possibly 37 votes in the 175-member assembly.

Political experts had expected Park's party to win the largest block of seats but to fall short of a majority.

Former president Yun Posun's Civil Rule party was running second with 22 members elected and five candidates leading in other districts. It may pick up as many as 16 of the 44 at-large seats allotted under the proportional representation system.

Four other parties had won other seats or were leading in scattered districts. They were former premier John M. Chiang's Democrats, the Liberal Democrats, the Party of the People and the Liberal party.

The assembly is scheduled to convene Dec. 17 to install a civilian government headed by Park, a former general who defeated Yun in the Oct. 15 presidential election by 153,000 votes.

Citizens Praised For Epidemic Fight

CASTLEGAR (CP) — Health officers have broken the back of a potential hepatitis epidemic in this village of 2,500.

The highly-contagious disease — a liver infection—has been contained through wide publicity in the area; extensive inoculation of potential victims, and through removal of excessive waste from septic tanks and catch-basins.

Medical health officer Dr. James McAnulty said Monday he is pleased with the prompt action by citizens and the village commission in helping remove the hazards to health through excessive sewage.

"At least 12 persons emptied their over-filled septic tanks," Dr. McAnulty said. "And the village arranged to empty nine catch-basins."

Three children and two adults contacted the disease and inoculating teams fought to immunize others with flu and bad colds.

As part of his campaign to make the community health-conscious, in face of the inadequate sewage system, Dr. McAnulty will address a public meeting Thursday.

"Apart from answering any questions citizens might have, I plan to commend them all for their prompt action," he said. "The village of Castlegar will be a city in two or three years. I was tough on them about their health hazards — but sometimes you have to be cruel to be kind. It could have been a wholesale epidemic."

On Dec. 5, a sewage system referendum will be placed before the voters for the third time. It has been unsuccessful twice before.

"I am confident most voters will vote for the village sewage system," Dr. McAnulty said. "They know now the danger of inadequate sewage disposal."

Ngo Children Moved

ROME (AP)—Two of Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu's four children flew to Paris Tuesday where they are expected to attend school. Their uncle, Archbishop Pierre Martin Ngo Dinh Thuc, put Le Thuy, 18, and Trac, 15, the eldest son, aboard the plane. The two younger children, Quynh, 11, and Le Quyen, 4, stayed with their mother.

WESTERN RED CEDAR
1½"x10" Sawn-textured
FOREST SIDING

How does "FOREST" compare with other sidings?

Its greater thickness adds structural strength to the building. Its snug "back to the wall" fitting makes for warmth and fast application . . . because it goes on like shiplap. The greater volume of "FOREST" siding gives a high insulation value.

When stain is applied to sawn-textured (sometimes known as rough faced) "FOREST" siding the distinctive character of the knots, burl and grain is emphasized. Stains come in a variety of colors such as Maplewood, Mahogany, Redwood Cedar, Wheat Tone and Flamingo. Maintenance costs are extremely low.

ELECTROHOME SPRINGAIRE
Air Circulator-Filter

Electrohome Springaire with the built-in Carbon Filter and the Permachem Filter gives you fresh, clean odor-free air all the year round . . . economically and efficiently. The Springaire is light enough to carry and provides fresh air where it's needed; whether it's in the kitchen, bathroom, smoke-filled living room during parties or just to filter out dust, lint and pollen before it can smudge up your home or aggravate allergies. The chores of dusting and wall washing can be reduced. Springaire filters out even the finest dust that settles on furniture, soils draperies, covers mirrors, windows and crystal.

Andy Stephen Looks at TV

It will cost ABC-TV $2,000,000 to settle with Jerry Lewis. The show business magazine Variety says this involves the remaining unplayed weeks of his 40-show firm deal and the expenditure of Jerry Lewis Enterprises in refurbishing the old El Capitan Theatre, which is under lease to ABC.

Stephen

After his last show Dec. 14, the Jerry Lewis Theatre sign will come down and the house will either revert to El Capitan or ABC Playhouse.

The network now has two hours of time to fill for the rest of the season. According to informed sources meetings are being held to come up with some decision.

Reports persist that 90 minutes of the time will be devoted to a variety show of the Ed Sullivan type. A name emcee is being sought to head the show. George "Sugar Throat Burns" has been proposed but others are also being considered. The 11-11:30 p.m. period may be turned back to network's affiliates.

Network officials feel they have a perfect theatre for a variety show so why not use it. One thing ABC is not considering is old films in the late Saturday period.

But no matter what it decides to do with the period after Dec. 14, Lewis is ahead of the game by 2,000,000 clams.

* * *

There will be no major cast changes on Bonanza. The show's family troubles have all been settled with the word that Pernell Roberts will remain with the show. Guy "Zorro" Williams had been signed as a possible replacement for Roberts to play Lorne Greene's brother. He will now be Greene's "nephew" in the series.

* * *

Angie Dickinson, John Cassavates, Claude Akins and Clu Gulager have joined Lee Marvin as stars of "Johnny North" the first two-hour show for next season. It will be the first of several joint productions of various lengths to be made by Revue in association with NBC-TV for next season.

The show is being shot in color and will be before the cameras four weeks, the longest time ever for a television show.

* * *

Roger Smith, former star of "77 Sunset Strip," will debut as a folksinger on the Ed Sullivan Show Jan. 12.

"Tom Harmon's Champions" is being planned as a half-hour documentary series at 20th-Fox TV.

Dina Merrill and Walter Matthau will guest star on "The Personal Touch," the initial show of "The Rogues" series on NBC-TV next season. Rotating stars are Charles Boyer, David Niven and Gig Young.

COLD AS A POLAR BEAR'S TAIL—
I have two little bungalows, just fifteen years old, stucco and hardwood floors, in a good residential location, the owner is out of town, and these miserable twins—side by side—need some loving care in the way of decorating, a crackling fire on each hearth, and two good wives cooking meat loaf and chili con carni respectively, in the kitchens. These cold and forlorn bungalows will repay you a thousand times for a little effort on your part. They are listed at $7,950 each, but we think a LOW DOWN PAYMENT and $65 per mo. with a full price of $7,000 each will probably buy either one. Each has a good living room with fireplace, two large bed rooms, a very large kitchen, utility, and a huge drive-in garage. These bungalows will compare most favourably with anything you have seen. They are vacant, and I have the keys, address gladly given. Please call Mr. Stothers, EV 2-2101 or GR 9-4487 eves.

Delegates Arrested

DUSSELDORF, West Germany (Reuters) — Two East German trade union officials have been arrested here on charges of trying to spread propaganda against West Germany during a trade union congress. Announcing this Wednesday, the North Rhine-Westphalia justice ministry said the two officials appealed to a local court against their arrest.

Copter Hits Line

NEW DELHI (AP)—A telegraph line strung across a narrow mountain valley was blamed Wednesday for a helicopter crash that killed five Indian general officers last Friday in Kashmir. The Indian air force pilot, who also was killed, evidently did not see the wire, Defence Minister Y. B. Chavan told Parliament. Chavan said a board of inquiry ruled out sabotage or mechanical failure.

NOTICE OF HEARING
VILLAGE OF SIDNEY BOUNDARY EXTENSION COMMISSION

At the sitting of the Commission on October 17, 1963, a petition from residents was received requesting that an area immediately to the south of the extension petitioned for by the Council of the Corporation of the Village of Sidney also be included in the Village.

A sitting of the Commission will be held at 2:00 p.m. on December 9 in the Banquet Hall of the Hotel Sidney, to hear representations regarding the propriety of including in the Village this area which is described as follows:

That area bounded on the south by McTavish Road, on the west by Canora Road (old Patricia Bay Highway) on the north by the northern boundary of the south half of Section 1, Range 3 East, North Saanich District, and on the east by a line drawn one thousand feet perpendicularly distant from and parallel to the high water mark in Bazen Bay, as shown coloured red on a map on display in the Village Office, Sidney, B.C.

Only representations with respect to this extension will be heard.

C. H. L. WOODWARD,
Chairman.

CASE NEAR END

'Bungling Murderer' Tells Story

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — With the testimony of a bungling killer in the record, the prosecution today neared the end of its case against T. Eugene Thompson, accused of arranging the murder of his wife.

"Bungled" was the word used by confessed slayer Dick W. C. Anderson who testified Tuesday.

Anderson, 36, a salesman who agreed to kill Mrs. Carol Thompson for $3,000, told of attacking the woman in her home last March 6.

After unsuccessful attempts to drown the victim and beat her into submission, Anderson said she appealed: "Oh, God, help me!"

Thompson, his hands and body trembling, cried in a quavering voice, "God help you!" His eyes caught those of the witness, then he buried his head on his arms and wept. Judge Rolf Fosseen quickly recessed the court for half an hour.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Thompson, 35, a St. Paul lawyer, is charged with first-degree murder. His attractive 34-year-old wife, mother of four children, was beaten and stabbed.

The prosecution claims Thompson arranged with Norman Mastrian, 40, to hire a killer, and that Mastrian contracted with Anderson to do the job. Mastrian and Anderson also are charged with first-degree murder.

The motive, says prosecutor William Randall, was $1,055,000 insurance on Mrs. Thompson, and Thompson's love for a former secretary in his office.

Anderson testified the side door of the Thompson home was left open in order that he could slip in easily.

There was a pre-arranged telephone call summoning Mrs. Thompson to the kitchen at 8:28 a.m. to enable him to climb the basement stairs and attack without warning, Anderson said.

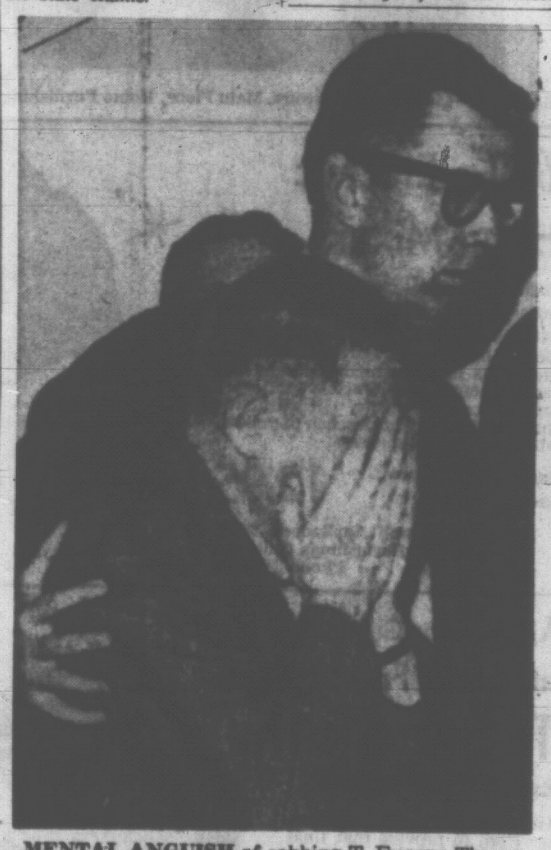
FILLS BATHTUB

And, he said, there was a bathtub partly filled with water to facilitate him in drowning Mrs. Thompson to make it appear to be an accident.

The prosecution contends Thompson saw to it the door was left open, that he made the phone call to his wife, and that he left water in the tub.

But Mrs. Thompson's stubborn will to live upset the plans, says the prosecution. Despite a severe beating and stabbing that left a paring knife in her throat, she fled to a neighbor's house.

Anderson fled, leaving clues as a rubber hose and the broken grip from a luger pistol with which he beat Mrs. Thompson, the state claims.



MENTAL ANGUISH of sobbing T. Eugene Thompson, accused of arranging murder of his wife, caused him to be led from Minneapolis court Tuesday by attorney William Fallon. Thompson broke down when hired slayer told of victim's struggles.

Hooten-Sally-Annies To Win Over Weirdies

LONDON (AP)—The Salvation Army is exchanging its traditional tambourines for electric guitars and, in the words of its new leader, is going to "get with it."

Gen. Frederick Coutts, 64, who took over the international evangelical movement Monday, met the press and sketched out a picture that is not too far from the picture in Damon Runyon's Guys and Dolls. He said:

"The whole church of Christ must speak to our own day and our own time.

"If I am to replace the 'firstly, secondly and thirdly' of Victorian speech and speak to the beardies and weirdies then I will do so. You can certainly say that I am going to get with it.

"We have to go where the young folk are. If they won't go to church and Salvation Army places of worship we have to go to them. The coffee bar or their other haunts are the places where in an informal way the gospel will be taken. The War Cry, the army's publication, will be sold in the coffee bars as well as in pubs."

Coutts, who has spent the past six years in Australia, said the army's street-corner trumpets and drums were not altogether on the way out, but jazz also could attract the faithful. Small groups now are experimenting with electric guitars, he noted, and he saw no reason why their use could not be broadened.

B.C. SEEN AS CHIEF TAIL-TWISTER

Premiers' Conference Off to a 'Good Start'

By PETER McCLINTOCK
Special Correspondent

OTTAWA — Shortly before 11 a.m. on Tuesday the sun broke through the grey overcast hanging over Canada's capital. It could have been an omen, for the Dominion-Provincial conference which got under way a few minutes later in the weathered grey stone West Block of the Parliament Buildings started in as cheerful and convivial an atmosphere as could be imagined.

The conference had received much advance billing as the most important since Confederation. The impression was that Canada as a nation might founder or survive on the outcome of the meeting.

But if Confederation is teetering on the brink, none of the 200 or so delegates seemed to be aware of it. They walked into the large conference room (nearly filled with a huge, oval, purple-clothed table) laughing and joking. Mr. Pearson talked amiably with Mr. Robarts of Ontario. The other provincial premiers chatted with newsmen and posed for pictures. There was much smiling and shaking of hands. A feeling of high good will and optimism filled the air.

Press Shooed Out

At 11 o'clock reporters and photographers were shooed out. At previous conferences of this kind it has been customary to permit the press to remain while the provincial premiers made their formal opening statements. But this conference started a day behind schedule, because of Mr. Pearson's attendance at the Kennedy funeral in Washington on Monday. To save time, the provincial briefs had been circulated in advance.

The conference thus was carried on in camera right from the start.

Perhaps it was wise, in view of the time element, to dispense with the reading of the statements, for in all they totalled 160 mimeographed pages. Longest was Quebec's—48 pages; shortest was New Brunswick's — three pages. Manitoba's was just about the average — 17 pages. The only province without a formal submission was Newfoundland; but Mr. Smallwood made his and his province's views quite clear whenever the occasion demanded.

The prime minister and the ten premiers contented themselves with making brief opening statements. Mr. Pearson made some of his remarks in French. Of the provincial leaders, Quebec's Mr. Lesage, New Brunswick's Mr. Robichaud, and Manitoba's Mr. Roblin spoke in both English and French.

Followed Pattern

The provincial submissions did not depart, on the whole, from the pattern that has been set at former conferences of this kind. Roughly speaking, the lineup was the have-nots versus the haves. The one thing the briefs had in common was an expressed desire for more money from the federal government. But how this money should be forthcoming was a matter that brought forth a very wide variation in proposals.

The maritime provinces and Newfoundland are dead against any deterioration of the taxing powers of the central government at Ottawa. This is understandable, for these provinces depend, in large measure, on federal money for their prosperity. If this source were diminished, the less-well-off provinces would feel the pinch.

The richer provinces, on the other hand, also want more money from Ottawa, but their method is for the central government to give the provinces a larger share of the tax revenues collected—or to let the province do the taxing itself

Lesage's Proposals

Mr. Lesage's suggestion is that the provinces get, as a minimum: 25 per cent of personal income tax collected; 25 per cent of corporation income taxes (which is about 10 per cent of taxable income), and all succession duties. This is considerably more than the provinces now get, and considerably more—it may be assumed—than Ottawa is willing to grant.

Saskatchewan backs Quebec's demands fairly closely. Manitoba has suggested changes that, if implemented, would mean a substantial increase in revenue for the provincial government.

The most extreme of all the provincial demands are those made by British Columbia. Premier Bennett does not want a larger share of federal taxes. He wants the provinces to have the right to levy and collect all direct taxes, and let Ottawa get out of this field. In his words: "British Columbia requests the government of Canada to vacate progressively the fields of direct taxation, so that the provinces may reassert their fiscal responsibility and rights of confederation."

Mr. Bennett would also scrap the principle of equalization—the system by which some provinces can recover some of the money that flows from them to other provinces in which company headquarters are located and which is not, therefore, taxable in the province in which it is earned. As the B.C. brief puts it: "British Columbia is opposed to federal equalization grants to the provinces . . . the grants are undue subsidies to certain provinces at the expense of others."

Bennett 'Bad Boy'

Mr. Bennett is playing his favorite political role of Peck's Bad Boy. As one observer commented, the B.C. premier is like the young girl who wanted only one thing in life — her own way.

Provincial premiers protested loudly in advance of the conference that there would be no ganging up on the federal government. That appears to be the case. The provincial briefs show that the provinces are in agreement on practically nothing except the need for more money to operate.

Each has its own ideas about taxation, the division of revenue, provincial responsibilities, formulae for equalization and so on. One federal official said on Monday night: "I hate to think what it would be like if there were only two provincial governments instead of ten."

After lunch the gathering got down to business. Federal cabinet ministers made statements on the state of the Canadian economy; they dealt with employment measures, unemployment, economic and industrial policies. After the federal ministers had spoken, the provincial premiers made their replies.

Knuckle-Rapping Seen

The feeling of cordiality and good will continued to prevail, according to delegates. But the provinces did not hesitate to tell off the federal government and some of its ministers for what the provinces said was a lamentable lack of consultation. This knuckle-rapping was particularly evident when Ottawa's newly-formed department of industry was discussed. Some provinces believe that this department, headed by C. M. Drury, is working at cross-purposes with its provincial counterparts because Ottawa has not been consulting the provinces.

As the first day's sitting broke up towards 6 p.m. the consensus seemed to be that a good start had been made. Nobody expects too much out of what may happen between now and the close of the conference, probably on Friday or Saturday. One provincial delegate said: "I don't expect our province to get more money out of this conference. But that's not the important thing at the moment. What is important is the spirit that has prevailed in the presentation of the province's problems to Ottawa and vice versa."

B.C. HOUSE RENOVATION APPROVED

The B.C. government is spending $36,500 to renovate its "embassy" in London.

A cabinet order approves the expenditure—to cover architects' fees, furniture and improvements to the foyer of B.C. House on Regent Street in the heart of London.

Included in the plans are new reception rooms for visitors.

B.C. House is occupied by J. V. Fisher, B.C.'s agent-general in Britain.

Funeral Held For Former Fairbridge Man

DUNCAN—Funeral services were held at Duncan United Church Monday for George Duncan Burns, who died in King's Daughters' Hospital at the age of 73.

Rev. Bernard Knipe officiated.

Born in Maybole, Ayrshire, Scotland, Mr. Burns came to Alberta 50 years ago, and to B.C. in 1930. He arrived in the Duncan area in 1937, and worked as a supervisor at Fairbridge Boys' School during Second World War. Later he worked for the Vancouver Island Poultry Co-operative.

He served overseas during First World War with a machine gun battalion of the Canadian Expeditionary Force. Mr. Burns was a member of Sidney Lodge No. 143 A.F. and A.M. He was also a former member of the Royal Canadian Legion.

He is survived by his wife, Kathleen; a stepson, commander Geoffrey Davidson, RCN (retired), Hamilton, Ont.; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Eileen Clairmonte, Ottawa, and Mrs. Stella Tate, Toronto, and seven step-grandchildren.

Night Ditching Exercise Set For Thursday

Another in the Department of Transport's continuing series of night "ditching" exercises will be carried out southeast of Brotchie Ledge Thursday evening.

Taking part will be the weathership CCGS St. Catharines and an RCAF Albatross from RCAF Station Vancouver.

The ship will sail from Esquimalt at 4 p.m., ending the exercise at about 7:15 p.m.

The Albatross will simulate an aircraft forced to come down at sea. Rockets will be fired and flares dropped.

The weatherships, while on station in the Pacific 900 miles west of Cape Flattery, serves as guard ships for aircraft passing overhead.

THURSDAY MEETINGS

S.S. Beaver Kiwanis Club: 7:30 a.m., Tally Ho; meeting will be addressed by Major H. George Wright of the Salvation Army.

Victoria Rotary Club: 12:10 p.m., Empress Hotel; H. Bryan Renwick, "Current Status—Air Transportation."

Oak Bay Kiwanis Club: 6:15 p.m., Oak Bay Beach Hotel; Owen Karn, "Comments on Canada's Pension Act."

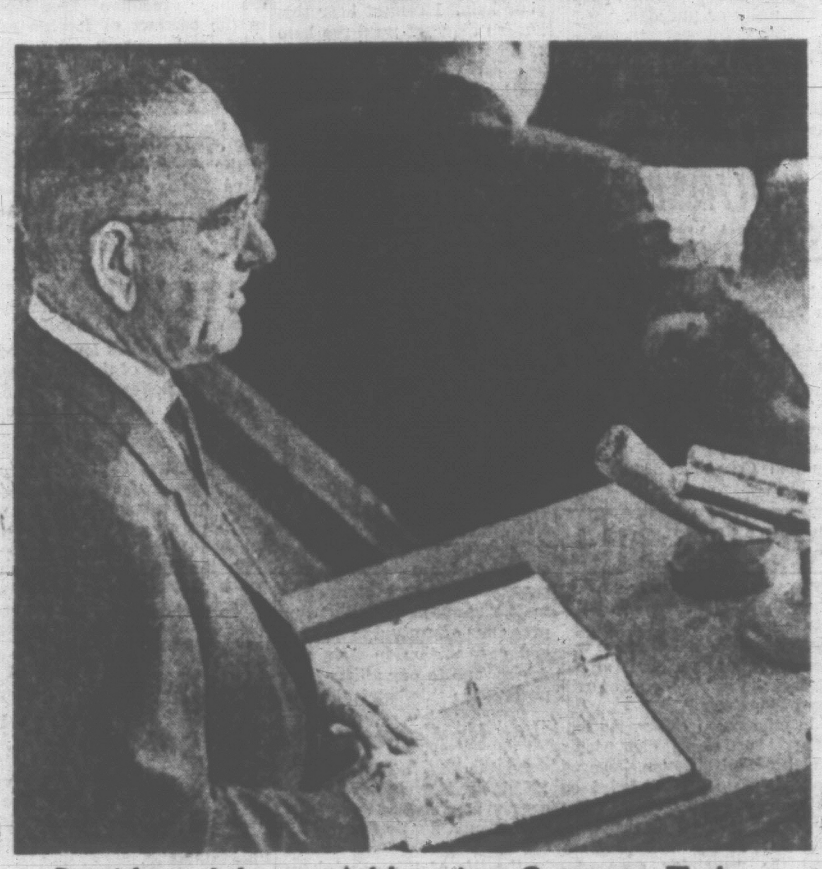
Johnson Pleads Rights Bill As Memorial to Kennedy



President Johnson Addressing Congress Today

'Let Us Turn From Fanatics'

(Times News Services)

WASHINGTON—President Johnson today called on Congress to enact John F. Kennedy's civil rights bill as a legislative memorial to the assassinated chief executive.

Resolving that John Kennedy should not die in vain, the new chief executive called for an end to hatred between Americans of differing colors and creeds.

"No memorial oration or eulogy could more eloquently honor President Kennedy's memory than the earliest possible passage of the civil rights bill for which he fought," Johnson said.

And, he said, "No act of ours could more fittingly continue the work of President Kennedy than the earliest passage of the tax bill for which he fought."

The new president said: "This is no time for delay—it is a time for action."

Johnson opened his address by saying:

"All I have I would have given gladly not to be standing here today."

Johnson appealed for united effort by a nation that goes forward "in action, in tolerance and mutual understanding."

In one of his most emotional passages Johnson asserted:

"The time has come for Americans of all races and creeds and political beliefs to understand and respect one another. Let us put an end to the teaching and preaching of hate and evil and violence. Let us turn away from the fanatics of the far left and the far right, from the apostles of bitterness and bigotry, from those defiant of law and those who pour venom into our nation's bloodstream."

'Resolve He Didn't Die in Vain'

Johnson expressed the hope that "the tragedy and torment of these terrible days will bind us together in new fellowship."

"Let us here highly resolve that John Fitzgerald Kennedy did not live or die—in vain," he said.

"And on this Thanksgiving eve, as we gather together to ask the Lord's blessing let us unite in those familiar and cherished words: 'America, America, God shed his grace on thee and crown thy good with brotherhood from sea to shining sea'."

(Thursday is Thanksgiving Day in the United States.)

Johnson, a Texan and the first president from the U.S. south since Andrew Johnson succeeded the assassinated Abraham Lincoln, left no doubt about his commitment to the cause of civil rights.

"We have talked long enough in this country about equal rights," he said. "We have talked for 100 years or more. Yes, it is time now to write the next chapter—and to write it in books of law."

Johnson called upon the Congress to enact a civil rights bill that will help "eliminate from this nation every trace of discrimination and oppression based upon race or color."

He said there could be no greater source of strength to the United States both at home and abroad.

Touching upon foreign affairs, Johnson promised the U.S. "will keep its commitments from South Viet Nam to West Berlin." He added:

"We will be unceasing in the search for peace; resourceful in our pursuit of areas of agreement even with those with whom we differ; and generous and loyal to those who join with us in common cause."

He said "those who test our courage will find it strong and those who seek our friendship will find it honorable."

In a general assertion of foreign policy, Johnson said:

"Let all the world know, and none misunderstand, that I rededicate this government to the unswerving support of the United Nations — to the honorable and determined execution of our commitments to our allies—to the maintenance of military strength second to none—to the defence of the strength and stability of the dollar—to the expansion of our foreign trade—to the re-enforcement of our programs of mutual assistance and co-operation in Asia and Africa—and to our Alliance for Progress (aid program) in this hemisphere."

DID CAMERA SEE TWO ASSASSINS?

PARIS (Reuters) — The French newspaper Paris Presse said today United States Federal Bureau of Investigation investigators are convinced there were at least two men in the room from where President Kennedy was shot.

One of them was Lee Harvey Oswald but the FBI hopes to be able to identify the other man soon, according to the paper's Dallas correspondent.

The correspondent said the FBI examined a color film taken by an American naval rating.

"At the very moment of the killing the young sailor was filming the motorcylists escorting the the presidential car.

"But in rewinding the camera, without meaning to, he photographed part of the facade of the building where Oswald was hidden.

"At the window of the sixth floor is distinctly seen not one but two silhouettes with their elbows on the window sill," the report added.

FBI REPORT

Public to Get All Evidence

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Dallas News said today that FBI director J. Edgar Hoover is expected to make public a mass of evidence assembled by officers investigating the assassination of President Kennedy.

Without naming its source, the newspaper said the White House approved a decision for the Federal Bureau of Investigation to take charge of this evidence.

It said Hoover is expected to announce, probably this week, that:

1. The evidence shows conclusively that Lee Harvey Oswald fired the shots which killed Kennedy and seriously wounded Texas Governor John Connally here last Friday.

2. There is no proof of a Communist conspiracy.

3. Investigators lack evidence which would prove that Oswald had help and they will remain alert for anything which would shed more light on the case.

District Attorney Henry Wade said he didn't know whether Hoover would make the evidence public "but I wouldn't be surprised." The public should get this information in detail, he said, adding:

ASSEMBLE EVIDENCE

"Most of it has come out, but it should be assembled in one spot and made public. Reporters and television cameras should let the world know about it in detail—the map, the ballistics test which shows the fatal shot was fired from the rifle found in the building, Oswald's fingerprint on the gun—everything."

Dallas Police Chief Jesse Curry said his office would turn over its evidence to the FBI.

This would place it beyond the reach of Texas Attorney-General Waggoner Carr, who has announced plans to convene a court of inquiry. Wade said, however, that the FBI had agreed to make it available for a court of inquiry or other judicial proceedings.

Assistant District Attorney William F. Alexander said letters found in Oswald's room show he was "an active worker in the Communist cause."

Revenge Motive Doubted

DALLAS (UPI) — The district attorney hinted today that nightclub owner Jack Ruby may have had a more sinister motive for killing accused presidential assassin Less Harvey Oswald than vengeance for the Kennedy family.

Henry Wade refused to accept Ruby's story that he felt sorry for the widow and children and was emotionally overwrought.

"It may have been a desire for publicity, or it may have involved something far deeper, Wade said.

"Our law enforcement agencies are still checking to determine if links exist between Oswald and Ruby. As far as I know, they haven't found any. But I don't know everything they have found."

The district attorney's comments about police still checking a possible link between Ruby and Oswald was almost an about-face for him.

As late as Tuesday Wade had maintained that he and the Dallas police department were convinced without a doubt that (1) Oswald was Kennedy's assassin and (2) He had worked alone.

Socialist Block

ROME (AP)—A revolt by a pro-Communist socialist faction was the only obstacle today to Aldo Moro's plans to form a new left-of-centre government for Italy.

'Getting Down to Cases' At National Conference

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal-provincial conference is "getting down to cases," Finance Minister Gordon told reporters today at the noon adjournment.

He and others emerging from the conference said shared-cost programs and federal conditional grants were the main subjects of the morning discussion around the big oval table.

"There is unanimity of direction—but not of how far to go or how to get there," commented Premier Lloyd of Saskatchewan.

The conference was to resume this afternoon.

Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland left the conference room with a smile and said "everything fine."

Premier Bennett of British Columbia commented:

"These dominion-provincial conferences remind me of an old French proverb: The more they change, the more they are the same."

In the background of conference talk on the tax-sharing issue was the federal financial problem, stated Tuesday by Mr. Pearson and Finance Minister Gordon, of large federal

Equalization Principle Agreed

OTTAWA (CP) — Atlantic provinces delegates expressed the opinion today that equalization of financial resources, a keystone in their appeals to the federal - provincial conference, has been accepted as a basic principle of relations between the provinces and Ottawa.

One Atlantic spokesman said after the conference's morning session: "I think the equalization principle has been pretty generally agreed on now; it's just a difference in details."

Equalization involves federal payments to "poorer" provinces to help bring their public services up to the national average. Premier Bennett of British Columbia had suggested equalization payments be discontinued. His province, Alberta and Ontario, being better off financially, do not benefit from them.

Lottery Move Failure

By ALEX YOUNG
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — A move for legalized lotteries in Canada appears headed for failure at the current federal-provincial conference.

The proposal change in the criminal code, introduced in its submission to the conference by the Lesage government of Quebec, has met with the disfavor of a number of provincial governments.

While much of the opposition is based on moral grounds (B.C. Premier W. A. C. Bennett and Newfoundland Premier Joey Smallwood led the moral objectors), the basic opposition is based on legal and administrative grounds.

Besides B.C. and Newfoundland, Ontario and Manitoba are understood to oppose lotteries on either or both grounds.

NEEDS BIG MAJORITY

Without a two-thirds backing by the provincial governments (at least seven out of the 10 provinces), the proposal has a less than slim chance of implementation.

In its brief to the conference Quebec said about legalized lotteries:

"We are again repeating a demand which we had formulated on several occasions.

"When accepted, it will bring to the provinces so desiring it, additional income for which they have a pressing need at this time. The case in point is lotteries.

AMEND PENAL CODE

"We would like, in fact, to see the penal code which comes under federal jurisdiction amended to permit the institution of lotteries for provincial purposes. It seems to us that this is a request which the federal government could easily grant."

B.C. Attorney-General Robert Bonner, in a comment today on the legal technicalities involved in such a change, said:

"I don't believe there should be room for a criminal code for each of the 10 provinces. If any action on this matter is to be taken, it should be taken by the House of Commons. There should be one law for all of Canada."

Mr. Bonner said he was not endorsing lotteries and would not express any opinion on the question from the point of view of the principle involved.

Meantime, an indication that the federal government is not yet prepared to take any step towards lotteries came in the Commons Tuesday, when government members "talked out" —thus killing—a Conservative member's private bill for establishment of a corporation to operate national lotteries.

22 Flee Flames

VANCOUVER (CP) — Four persons were injured early today in a three-alarm apartment block fire in the Mount Pleasant district which sent 22 tenants fleeing into the street.

Nation Divided By Oversize Table

OTTAWA (CP) — "We're farther apart than we ever were," said Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland as he arrived for today's meeting of the federal-provincial conference. "The table's too big."

Mr. Smallwood complained at Tuesday's session that the specially - built, oval conference table is so large the premiers can't readily talk to each other. It's about 40 feet long and 20 feet wide and was first used at a NATO council meeting last summer.

Prime Minister Pearson said he would take up the matter with the public works department. He is reported to have added jokingly: "We may get it fixed in a month or so."

There was a change for today's session but not in size. The felt covering was switched from blue to verdant green.

"The old cover was faded," a member of the building staff explained.

Said Premier Bennett of British Columbia: "It's not the size or the color, it's what's on the table that counts."

U.S. Army Officer Seized in Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Armed terrorists seized Col. James K. Chenault of the U.S. Army mission today and spirited him away.

"We just want him for propaganda purposes," a Spanish-speaking caller later telephoned the embassy. "Don't worry. We are not going to harm him."

Four men seized Chenault, 45, as he stepped from his home, overcame his Venezuelan chauffeur, disabled the engine of the colonel's car, then sped off with him in a 1952 model white car. The car later was found abandoned.

Presumably the seizure is the work of the Armed Forces for National Liberation which is carrying out a terror campaign in an attempt to sabotage the Dec. 1 presidential election and to overthrow President Romulo Betancourt. The AFNL has sworn allegiance to Fidel Castro's Cuba.

A chauffeur and neighbors saw Chenault seized and telephoned the police.

The U.S. Army mission is here at the request of the Venezuelan government to train and advise the Venezuelan army.

'Christmas Presents' Had Deadly Message

By PAUL FINCH

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Police increased their vigilance today after pro-Communist terrorists made an unsuccessful attempt to kill the three major presidential candidates with bombs disguised as Christmas presents.

Three other top Vezuelan political figures and a U.S. embassy official also were intended victims of similar bomb packages, police said. These assassination attempts also were unsuccessful.

The plot was discovered Tuesday, after one of the packages failed to explode when opened. Police seized the other bombs, too.

Police said the bombs were a desperation attempt by the outlawed Armed Forces for National Liberation to disrupt next Sunday's election.

Among the targets was Raul Leoni, candidate of president Romulo Betancourt's ruling Democratic Action party and the favorite to succeed him.

The gaily wrapped bomb packages also were addressed to Jovito Villalba, candidate of the Republican Democratic Union, the major opposition party; Rafael Caldera, candidate of the Social Christians, who are part of the government coalition; Justice Minister Ezequiel Monsalve Casado; Dionisio Lopez Orihuella, president of the Republican Democratic Union, and Eduardo Tamayo Gascue, a Social Christian member of Congress.

Authorities declined to disclose the name of the U.S. official singled out for assassination.

Police said the packages were turned over to a commercial delivery service by a man who gave a false name. Lopez Orihuella opened his but detonating wires connected to the batteries had been loosened, police said.

The police traced the package to the delivery agency and collected the others before they were opened.

KOREAN KIDDIES FUND

Eight Cents Delays Hunger for One Day

A child without food can hope but a child without hope has nothing.

Two-thirds of the world population have known the pangs of hunger. Now they face a world which offers little or no hope.

"How long can this inequality go on?" asked Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova on her recent visit to Victoria.

Social workers in Korea stand by helplessly wondering when help will come.

In a letter to Dr. Hitschmanova, the Norwegian director of USC in Korea said:

"The food situation in this country is becoming worse every day and we are all very much concerned, so much so that all our other problems seem small in comparison.

"Yes, it is rather difficult for me to turn my mind to Canada and Norway—it seems you are so far away from me and that it is impossible for our friends abroad who have not faced hunger for many years to understand what this big problem is."

A month later he wrote:

"We are having such a hard time because of the lack of food and the sky high prices. A bag of rice which cost $15 when you were here last winter now costs $46. One bag of rice costs more than a month's salary for four laborers.

"Since you were here we have also had a flood disaster and in one school we have 900 people we cannot feed. Yesterday we gave each one cup of milk but we do not think we should start to give out the barley for we do not know what will happen in the days and weeks ahead."

It is up to Canadians to determine what will happen in the days and months ahead.

Eight cents, less than the price of a cup of coffee, will buy enough barley to feed one Korean for a day.

The Times sponsored campaign for USC funds, which began Monday and ends on Christmas Eve, now totals $1,103.27.

Donations should be sent to the "Korean Kiddies Fund" care of the Times, 2631 Douglas. Acknowledgement of gifts will be made in a daily list published in the Times and tax deductible receipts will be issued. The Bank of Montreal main branch, Yates and Douglas, will accept donations.

Donations of clothing should be delivered to Dowell's Cartage and Storage, 1117 Wharf St. (See list of donors on page 2.)

Next time politicians want t' hold a meetin', th' Admiral better tell 'em t' go hire a hall.

With all them first ministers gettin' t'gether, Ottawa must be pretty well primed.

Weatherman sez t'morrow we c'n go back t' complaining it always rains in Victoria.

CENTENNIAL SQUARE MEMORIAL PROPOSED TO 'SWEET CAMOSUN'

Chance Seen to Soothe Spirit of Wronged Princess

By HUMPHRY DAVY

A fountain featuring a bronze figure of Victoria's legendary Indian princess is proposed for the city's centennial square.

Chief John Albany and other members of the Songhees band said today a figure to commemorate "sweet Camosun" would enhance Victoria's romantic past, and perhaps right a wrong that has been done her.

Old-timers like Jimmy Fraser, famous Indian weather prophet and storyteller, say a Camosun fountain would bring good fortune to Victoria.

Camosun is the name of a Songhees princess who lived here many years ago.

When Fort Victoria was established in 1843, the area was known as the Land of Camosun. Hence the fortification was established at Camosun, but not so named as some people mistakenly believe.

The princess, according to the Songhees, was a wise and prophetic woman who ruled in accordance with the democratic ways of her people—that is through persuasion and advice.

Many old Indians like Jimmy Fraser also claim all the gifts and amenities enjoyed by Victoria today are due to this princess.

Here is one of Jimmy's legends about Camosun:

Many years ago, Kaals, the transformer, arrived in Victoria and was so struck by the beauty and wisdom of the princess that he offered her anything she wanted.

Victoria then, the old Indian relates, was not as interesting a place as it is today. Only fir trees grew in the area, there was no harbor and the climate was cold and damp most of the year round. It was just a plain miserable country.

Camosun, with the welfare of her people in mind, asked Kaals for trees which would "clutch the sky", flowers to cover the rocks, a good harbor to protect the canoes of the tribe and for milder and warmer winds.

Kaals promptly changed some of her people into trees known today as Garry Oaks. He transformed others into flowers, such as blue camass and the Easter Lily, and bade the northwest wind warrior spirit not to deal too harshly with the land of Camosun.

He made the harbor and the Gorge inland waterway next.

Kaals then asked her what fish she liked most. The princess, after trying several species, settled for herring. He promised her that henceforth herring would come up the Gorge every year—enough to provide for the wants of her people.

As a final act, Kaals transformed the princess into a spirit rock, giving her the Gorge as her abode. This was done to insure Camosun that her spirit and the amenities that were given her people would live on forever.

Jimmy's tale ends here but unfortunately there's an aftermath to the story.

A few years ago a Gorge boathouse owner blew off the top of the Camosun spirit rock under the Gorge Bridge on the grounds that it was a menace to navigation.

Now many residents along the Gorge claim the waterway has never been the same. Erosion of the banks has increased, they say. Tidal currents are swifter and there aren't as many fish.

The spirit of Camosun has been offended. Perhaps her wrath would be appeased through the erection of a Camosun fountain in Centennial Square.

The time has arrived when something must be done about the magazine heap which started as a molehill in our basement, and over the years has grown to a mountain.

Out it must go, to make a bonfire in our wildlands unless someone with a use for old magazines wants to truck my horde away.

That removal will hurt, let me tell you. I don't like to think of all those Norman Rockwell covers, the LeMay westerns, the Paul Gallico short stories withering to ash. Same for Tugboat Annie, Glencannon of the Inchcliffe Castle, and a host of other characters who walk those pages.

The tales they inhabit were not written for the ages, it's true. Only a very few of them made the anthologies.

Even so, they offered to a great many people a brief enchantment, and the least I can do, as their smoke drifts through the weeping woods, is grant them Salome's epitaph:

'They danced and pleased.'

★ ★ ★

Presently we'll have another bonfire. This one will consist of the elephant jokes I was so rash as to solicit a while ago.

These rate no sentimental send-off: after today, I'd prefer not to see, hear, or be reminded of that outrage against humor which our young have classified as the elephant joke.

The jokes have been tumbling in from contestants whose ages range from eight to 80. Some are obviously home-made. Most fit into one or other of the patterns I offered as specimens when we first ventured on this tangential departure from reason, logic and sanity.

Picking a winner from among the herd was no easy matter for news editor Bill Walker and myself.

We finally emerged, badly shaken, with this sample of ivory-carving sent in by Maria Hickling, who lives at 81 Maddock West:

Q.: What's the difference between an elephant and a grape?

A.: They're different colors.

Q.: What did Tarzan say when he saw the elephants coming?

A.: Here come the elephants.

Q.: What did Jane say when she saw the elephants coming?

A.: Here come the grapes. She was color blind.

★ ★ ★

So to Maria, for an entry which captures the elusive spirit of the elephant joke, congratulations and five dollars from the Times.

It just happens we also have a second and third prize kicking around, so don't go away.

Runner-up is Karlina Wymore, 203 Quebec, who dizzied us with this contribution:

Q. How does an elephant get up a tree?

A. He sits on an acorn and waits for a squirrel.

Three dollars to Karlina for that one, and to Nigel Goode, 3190 Ripon, a two-spot and the title of second assistant elephant boy for this:

Q. How do you make an elephant float?

A. Two scoops of ice cream on an elephant.

★ ★ ★

Thanks, kids, and may you do as well on your Christmas exams. Home now, going 'Zub-zub-zub.' You know, like a bee flying backwards?.

Jet Crash Scene Investigated By Naval Team

Bodies Retrieved From Mountain Top

A five-man team of navy investigators was flown today to the scene of the T-33 training jet crash on Mt. Strachan which took the lives of two RCN officers Saturday.

Headed by Cmdr. Don Shepherd, HMCS Venture, the team left Patricia Bay by navy helicopter at 7:30 a.m.

Their findings at the site will decide whether or not pieces of wreckage will be brought out for study.

BODIES RETURNED

About mid-morning an RCAF helicopter brought out the bodies of the first and second pilots, Lieut. N. J. Ogden, 33, and Lieut. Don S. Clark, 29, both of Victoria.

The widely-scattered wreckage was spotted late Tuesday by Sub.-Lieut. Ian Powick of Victoria, from a navy search helicopter, when clouds which had obscured the mountain lifted momentarily.

Mt. Strachan is about five miles north of the chairlift on Hollyburn Mountain. An RCAF crewman, lowered to the wreckage by hoist, reported both men died instantly.

PRACTICE APPROACH

The plane was making a practice ground controlled approach to Vancouver Saturday as part of a flight from the naval air station at Patricia Bay to the mainland.

As it swung in from Howe Sound behind Hollyburn, the aircraft came over a ridge at the 4,500-foot level, snapped off two trees and disintegrated. Red, yellow, silver and green fragments were scattered over a wide area.

Ogden, 33, and Clark, 29, lived within a block of one another in Oak Bay's Carnarvon Park area.

Ogden left a widow and five children at 1702 Newton. Clark's widow, Doreen, is at 1697 Carnegie, with their two children, one aged three months.

WILD BEAUTY of Gorge waterway is shown in this picture taken before the top of the spirit rock of Princess Camosun was destroyed by a boathouse owner who said it impeded the traffic of small craft under the Gorge Bridge. Indians say something must be done to appease her spirit if Victoria is to continue to prosper.

Gas Price Probe Gets New Delay

Hearing Next Year Says Judge

Start of the royal commission into B.C. gasoline prices has been delayed until next year.

Judge C. W. Morrow said today he has been asked by several companies planning to appear at public hearings for more time to prepare their briefs.

At least one of the firms is a major oil company, he said.

He earlier set a Nov. 30 deadline for submission of briefs and planned to begin public hearings this year.

TWO ONLY SO FAR

Only two briefs have arrived so far.

One is from a Qualicum service station operator, the other from a man in Nanaimo.

Judge Morrow said he has not fixed a new deadline, but has asked the companies involved to get their briefs in as soon as possible.

This means he won't even be able to schedule hearings until sometime in January, and the hearings themselves may be later still, he said.

TO OPEN ON COAST

Judge Morrow said he expects the first hearings will be on the coast.

He will come to Vancouver Dec. 9 to consult with lawyers to plan to appear.

He was appointed sole commissioner by the provincial cabinet in October.

. . . loses qualifications

Hamilton Quitting Commission

William Hamilton today announced he will retire next month after 12 years on city police commission.

Mr. Hamilton's current term as government appointee on the commission ends Dec. 31 and he will be ineligble for re-appointment due to loss of property qualifications.

Mayor R. B. Wilson, chairman of the commission, said he regretted Mr. Hamilton's loss.

"Mr. Hamilton has contributed tremendously to the police department and he will be a hard man to replace," he said.

SUCCESSOR SOUGHT

The commission referred the situation to the attorney general's department to give it time to find a successor.

Mr. Hamilton, in his letter, praised officers of the department, including former chief John Blackstock, and said he was sure the re-organized department under Chief J. F. Gregory would be "second to none."

He urged ratepayers to approve the $375,000 money by-law for reconstructing the police station.

Traffic Inspector Brooke Douglass gave qualified support to a city parks committee request that commissionaires be empowered to issue traffic tickets within Beacon Hill Park.

Parks committee said at present commissionaires have no power to enforce traffic regulations in the park, with the result that cars are parking on the grass instead of parking areas.

Insp. Douglass said although decentralization of police powers may not be desirable, the request would be a practical method of overcoming manpower shortage for patrols of the park.

The commission, noting that the policemen's union may protest, asked city solicitor T. P. O'Grady for a legal opinion before making a decision on the request.

★ ★ ★

Insp. Douglass was authorized, on Chief J. F. Gregory's recommendation, to attend the 10-week general policing course at the RCMP college in Regina commencing Jan. 20.

★ ★ ★

Lorne Shandley was re-elected president of the policemen's union for the coming year, commission was informed.

Other union officers are: Bonar Hannay, vice-president; Lorne Johnson, secretary-treasurer; Peter Voth, recording secretary; and trustees Frederick Acreman, Clifford Harrison and Russell Redman.

Police Surgeon Dr. E. L. McNiven's offer to charge a flat $10 per call fee instead of the present sliding scale ranging from $7.50 to $15 was accepted.

YALE GOES TO NDP . . . FINALLY

The New Democratic Party finally won the election in Yale today—almost two months after polling day.

The B.C. Appeal Court dismissed the appeal of Social Crediter Irvine Corbett against a County Court recount.

The recount gave Yale to William Hartley of the NDP by six votes.

The first count, on Sept. 30, had Mr. Corbett ahead by four.

Mr. Corbett was in Victoria today on business for one of his former constituents. He had been MLA for Yale since 1952.

He said he was naturally disappointed in the court decision, but more disappointed that the three appeal judges had apparently failed to make any ruling on spoiled ballots for future guidance.

ACCEPTED IN RECOUNT

His appeal was based on grounds that spoiled ballots had been accepted in the recount, conducted by Judge F. K. Grimmett.

Mr. Corbett said his lawyer advised him there is no machinery for a further appeal.

However, he could launch a petition seeking to upset the election in Yale.

"I think there are plenty of grounds to start a petition, but I feel I have gone far enough," he said.

Mr. Corbett said the judge accepted ballots on which a vote for him had been crossed out and a second X marked for Mr. Hartley.

USED PEN

However the judge threw out ballots correctly marked for Mr. Corbett because voters had used a pen instead of a pencil.

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan's reaction to the result was:

"I'm very pleased Mr. Hartley's election was confirmed," he said.

"I've known him for years. He is an able, capable person, very hard working, and I know he will do a good job for the constituents and will be an asset to the Opposition."

The standing in the new legislature will now be: Social Credit 33, NDP 14, Liberal 5.

Mr. Corbett said he will devote himself more fully to his business ventures which include a building supply firm at Hope and a variety store at Merritt.

Retired Men Die After Car Mishaps

Former Skipper Hit Railway Car; Ex-Officer Hurt Remembrance Day

A retired army officer and a retired tugboat skipper died within an hour of one another Tuesday afternoon, victims of two recent traffic accidents in the city.

Dead are:

Col. Ernest Jones, 92, of the Beverley Hotel.

Wilfred Prudhomme, 61, of 210 Montreal.

Mr. Prudhomme died at 2:15 p.m. at St. Joseph's Hospital after being involved in an accident early last Saturday morning. His car went over an embankment on Esquimalt Road and crashed into a railroad car on the E & N track.

PASSENGER

Col. Jones died an hour later at Royal Jubilee Hospital. He was a passenger in a car driven by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. G. E. P. Jones, 1724 Lulie, that was in collision with another car on Remembrance Day.

The accident occured at Fort and Bank. Driver of the other car involved was Frank McClement, 1033 Pemberton.

No decision has been made about an inquest into Mr. Prudhomme's death but one will likely be held into the cause of Col. Jones' death, according to Inspector Brooke Douglass, head of city police traffic department.

Col. Jones was born in England, educated at Oxford University and Sandhurst Military Academy, and he served in the Boer War, India and the First World War.

RETIRED 25 YEARS AGO

He worked as an engineer in the construction industry across Canada and pioneered in railroad development in the Fort William-Port Arthur area. He retired 25 years ago and had lived in Victoria since 1957.

Col. Jones is survived by the widow, Mrs. Mabel Jones of Ottawa; two sons, George, the chairman of the B.C. Purchasing Commission, and Sidney of Ottawa; two daughters, Dorothy and Lillian; six grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Arrangements for his funeral will not be completed until a decision has been made as to whether there will be an inquest.

Mr. Prudhomme was a tug boat skipper on the West Coast in his earlier years but had retired and been in bad health for many years. He was unmarried.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. F. J. Nobbs and Mrs. Wayne Eland, both of Victoria, and two brothers, Hector and James, both of Vancouver.

Prayers for Mr. Prudhomme will be said at 7 p.m. Friday at Thompson & Irving, funeral directors, and a Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 9 a.m. Saturday in St. Andrew's Cathedral. Burial will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Mail Gives Clue To Lonely Death Of Ex-Teacher

Dead is Miss N. Margaret McKillican, 1178 View Street.

She lived alone and police said it appeared she had been dead for several days.

Miss McKillican, who was retired, taught at South Park and Girls' Central schools.

Appeal Total Creeps Up To $373,000

Late returns are still adding small amounts to the United Appeal fund, and the final figure won't be known for several days.

The figure at present is $373,000, about 93 per cent of the goal.

The budget committee executive will meet Tuesday to begin studying allocation of money available for the 24 member agencies.

REVIEW SET

An official said the preliminary reports of each section will be reviewed. Possible surpluses in individual agency funds will affect the amount they receive from the United Appeal.

There will be no set percentage lopped from every agency allocation.

Allocations should be made before the end of January, an official said.

BEACHCOMBERS NEVER had it better than today, with every yard of waterfront covered with driftwood chunks large and small, with lots of the piece de resistance—slow burning bark. Winds averaging 35 to 40 miles per hour, with gusts to 63, pounded new treasures ashore during the early hours of Tuesday evening, and bright sunshine this morning encouraged 'combers to get to work. But look out; today's period of sunshine is slated to be replaced by more Novemberish weather. Forecast is for clouds and rain Thursday. (Times photo.)

Revenge Motive Doubted

DALLAS (UPI) — The district attorney hinted today that nightclub owner Jack Ruby may have had a more sinister motive for killing accused presidential assassin Less Harvey Oswald than vengeance for the Kennedy family.

Henry Wade refused to accept Ruby's story that he felt sorry for the widow and children and was emotionally overwrought.

"It may have been a desire for publicity, or it may have involved something far deeper, Wade said.

"Our law enforcement agencies are still checking to determine if links exist between Oswald and Ruby. As far as I know, they haven't found any. But I don't know everything they have found."

The district attorney's comments about police still checking a possible link between Ruby and Oswald was almost an about-face for him.

As late as Tuesday Wade had maintained that he and the Dallas police department were convinced without a doubt that (1) Oswald was Kennedy's assassin and (2) He had worked alone.

CONGRESS TOLD:

'Kennedy Should Not Die in Vain'

(Times News Services)

WASHINGTON—President Johnson today called on Congress to enact John F. Kennedy's civil rights bill as a legislative memorial to the assassinated chief executive.

Resolving that John Kennedy should not die in vain, the new chief executive called for an end to hatred between Americans of differing colors and creeds.

"No memorial oration or eulogy could more eloquently honor President Kennedy's memory than the earliest possible passage of the civil rights bill for which he fought," Johnson said.

And, he said, "No act of ours could more fittingly continue the work of President Kennedy than the earliest passage of the tax bill for which he fought."

The new president said: "This is no time for delay—it is a time for action."

Johnson opened his address by saying:

"All I have I would have given gladly not to be standing here today."

Johnson appealed for united effort by a nation that goes forward "in action, in tolerance and mutual understanding."

In one of his most emotional passages Johnson asserted:

"The time has come for Americans of all races and creeds and political beliefs to understand and respect one another. Let us put an end to the teaching and preaching of hate and evil and violence. Let us turn away from the fanatics of the far left and the far right, from the apostles of bitterness and bigotry, from those defiant of law and those who pour venom into our nation's bloodstream."

'Resolve He Didn't Die in Vain'

Johnson expressed the hope that "the tragedy and torment of these terrible days will bind us together in new fellowship."

"Let us here highly resolve that John Fitzgerald Kennedy did not live or die—in vain," he said.

"And on this Thanksgiving eve, as we gather together to ask the Lord's blessing let us unite in those familiar and cherished words: 'America, America, God shed his grace on thee and crown thy good with brotherhood from sea to shining sea'."

(Thursday is Thanksgiving Day in the United States.)

Johnson, a Texan and the first president from the U.S. south since Andrew Johnson succeeded the assassinated Abraham Lincoln, left no doubt about his commitment to the cause of civil rights.

"We have talked long enough in this country about equal rights," he said. "We have talked for 100 years or more. Yes, it is time now to write the next chapter—and to write it in books of law."

Johnson called upon the Congress to enact a civil rights bill that will help "eliminate from this nation every trace of discrimination and oppression based upon race or color."

He said there could be no greater source of strength to the United States both at home and abroad.

Touching upon foreign affairs, Johnson promised the U.S. "will keep its commitments from South Viet Nam to West Berlin." He added:

"We will be unceasing in the search for peace; resourceful in our pursuit of areas of agreement even with those with whom we differ; and generous and loyal to those who join with us in common cause."

He said "those who test our courage will find it strong and those who seek our friendship will find it honorable."

In a general assertion of foreign policy, Johnson said:

"Let all the world know, and none misunderstand, that I rededicate this government to the unswerving support of the United Nations — to the honorable and determined execution of our commitments to our allies—to the maintenance of military strength second to none—to the defence of the strength and stability of the dollar—to the expansion of our foreign trade—to the re-enforcement of our programs of mutual assistance and co-operation in Asia and Africa—and to our Alliance for Progress (aid program) in this hemisphere."

FBI REPORT

Public to Get All Evidence

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Dallas News said today that FBI director J. Edgar Hoover is expected to make public a mass of evidence assembled by officers investigating the assassination of President Kennedy.

Without naming its source, the newspaper said the White House approved a decision for the Federal Bureau of Investigation to take charge of this evidence.

It said Hoover is expected to announce, probably this week, that:

1. The evidence shows conclusively that Lee Harvey Oswald fired the shots which killed Kennedy and seriously wounded Texas Governor John Connally here last Friday.

2. There is no proof of a Communist conspiracy.

3. Investigators lack evidence which would prove that Oswald had help and they will remain alert for anything which would shed more light on the case.

District Attorney Henry Wade said he didn't know whether Hoover would make the evidence public "but I wouldn't be surprised." The public should get this information in detail, he said, adding:

ASSEMBLE EVIDENCE

"Most of it has come out, but it should be assembled in one spot and made public. Reporters and television cameras

President Johnson Addressing Congress Today

'Getting Down to Cases' At National Conference

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal-provincial conference is "getting down to cases," Finance Minister Gordon told reporters today at the noon adjournment.

He and others emerging from the conference said shared-cost programs and federal conditional grants were the main subjects of the morning discussion around the big oval table.

"There is unanimity of direction—but not of how far to go, or how to get there," commented Premier Lloyd of Saskatchewan.

The conference was to resume this afternoon.

Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland left the conference room with a smile and said "everything fine."

Premier Bennett of British Columbia commented:

"These dominion-provincial conferences remind me of an old French proverb: The more they change, the more they are the same."

In the background of conference talk on the tax-sharing issue was the federal financial problem, stated Tuesday by Mr. Pearson and Finance Minister Gordon, of large federal

Equalization Principle Agreed

OTTAWA (CP) — Atlantic provinces delegates expressed the opinion today that equalization of financial resources, a keystone in their appeals to the federal - provincial conference, has been accepted as a basic principle of relations between the provinces and Ottawa.

One Atlantic spokesman said after the conference's morning session: "I think the equalization principle has been pretty generally agreed on now; it's just a difference in details."

Equalization involves federal payments to "poorer" provinces to help bring their public services up to the national average. Premier Bennett of British Columbia had suggested equalization payments be discontinued. His province, Alberta and Ontario, being better off financially, do not benefit from them.

Most Provinces Against Move

By ALEX YOUNG

OTTAWA—A move for legalized lotteries in Canada appears headed for failure at the current federal-provincial conference.

The proposal change in the criminal code, introduced in its submission to the conference by the Lesage government of Quebec, has met with the disfavor of a number of provincial governments.

While much of the opposition is based on moral grounds (B.C. Premier W. A. C. Bennett and Newfoundland Premier Joey Smallwood led the moral objectors), the basic opposition is based on legal and administrative grounds.

Besides B.C. and Newfoundland, Ontario and Manitoba are understood to oppose lotteries on either or both grounds.

Without a two-thirds backing by the provincial governments (at least seven out of the 10 provinces), the proposal has a less than slim chance of implementation.

In its brief to the conference Quebec said about legalized lotteries:

"We are again repeating a demand which we had formullated on several occasions.

"When accepted, it will bring to the provinces so desiring it, additional income for which they have a pressing need at this time. The case in point is lotteries.

AMEND PENAL CODE

"We would like, in fact, to see the penal code which comes under federal jurisdiction amended to permit the institution of lotteries for provincial purposes. It seems to us that this is a request which the federal government could easily grant."

B.C. Attorney-General Robert Bonner, in a comment today on the legal technicalities involved in such a change, said:

"I don't believe there should be room for a criminal code for each of the 10 provinces. If any action on this matter is to be taken, it should be taken by the House of Commons. There should be one law for all of Canada."

Mr. Bonner said he was not endorsing lotteries and would not express any opinion on the question from the point of view of the principle involved.

Meantime, an indication that the federal government is not yet prepared to take any step towards lotteries came in the Commons Tuesday, when government members "talked out"—thus killing—a Conservative member's private bill for establishment of a corporation to operate national lotteries.

U.S. Army Officer Kidnapped

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Armed terrorists seized Col. James K. Chenault of the U.S. Army mission today and spirited him away.

"We just want him for propaganda purposes," a Spanish-speaking caller later telephoned the embassy. "Don't worry. We are not going to harm him."

Four men seized Chenault, 45, as he stepped from his home, overcame his Venezuelan chauffeur, disabled the engine of the colonel's car, then sped off with him in a 1952 model white car. The car later was found abandoned.

Presumably the seizure is the work of the Armed Forces for National Liberation which is carrying out a terror campaign in an attempt to sabotage the Dec. 1 presidential election and to overthrow President Romulo Betancourt. The AFNL has sworn allegiance to Fidel Castro's Cuba.

KOREAN KIDDIES FUND

Eight Cents Delays Hunger for One Day

A child without food can hope but a child without hope has nothing.

Two-thirds of the world population have known the pangs of hunger. Now they face a world which offers little or no hope.

"How long can this inequality go on?" asked Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova on her recent visit to Victoria.

Social workers in Korea stand by helplessly wondering when help will come.

In a letter to Dr. Hitschmanova, the Norwegian director of USC in Korea said:

"The food situation in this country is becoming worse every day and we are all very much concerned, so much so that all our other problems seem small in comparison.

"Yes, it is rather difficult for me to turn my mind to Canada and Norway—it seems you are so far away from me and that it is impossible for our friends abroad who have not faced hunger for many years to understand what this big problem is."

A month later he wrote:

"We are having such a hard time because of the lack of food and the sky high prices. A bag of rice which cost $15 when you were here last winter now costs $46. One bag of rice costs more than a month's salary for four laborers.

"Since you were here we have also had a flood disaster and in one school we have 900 people we cannot feed. Yesterday we gave each one cup of milk but we do not think we should start to give out the barley for we do not know what will happen in the days and weeks ahead."

It is up to Canadians to determine what will happen in the days and months ahead.

Eight cents, less than the price of a cup of coffee, will buy enough barley to feed one Korean for a day.

The Times sponsored campaign for USC funds, which began Monday and ends on Christmas Eve, now totals $1,103.27.

Donations should be sent to the "Korean Kiddies Fund" care of the Times, 2631 Douglas. Acknowledgement of gifts will be made in a daily list published in the Times and tax deductible receipts will be issued. The Bank of Montreal main branch, Yates and Douglas, will accept donations.

Donations of clothing should be delivered to Dowell's Cartage and Storage, 1117 Wharf St. (See list of donors on page 2.)

Next time politicians want t' hold a meetin', th' Admiral better tell 'em t' go hire a hall.

With all them first ministers gettin' t'gether, Ottawa must be pretty well primed.

DID CAMERA SEE TWO ASSASSINS?

PARIS (Reuters) — The French newspaper Paris Presse said today United States Federal Bureau of Investigation investigators are convinced there were at least two men in the room from where President Kennedy was shot.

One of them was Lee Harvey Oswald but the FBI hopes to be able to identify the other man soon, according to the paper's Dallas correspondent.

The correspondent said the FBI examined a color film taken by an American naval rating.

"At the very moment of the killing the young sailor was filming the motorcyclists escorting the the presidential car.

"But in rewinding the camera, without meaning to, he photographed part of the facade of the building where Oswald was hidden.

"At the window of the sixth floor is distinctly seen not one but two silhouettes with their elbows on the window sill," the report added.

Nation Divided By Oversize Table

OTTAWA (CP) — "We're farther apart than we ever were," said Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland as he arrived for today's meeting of the federal-provincial conference. "The table's too big."

Mr. Smallwood complained at Tuesday's session that the specially - built, oval conference table is so large the premiers can't readily talk to each other. It's about 40 feet long and 20 feet wide and was first used at a NATO council meeting last summer.

Prime Minister Pearson said he would take up the matter with the public works department. He is reported to have added jokingly: "We may get it fixed in a month or so."

There was a change for today's session but not in size. The felt covering was switched from blue to verdant green.

"The old cover was faded," a member of the building staff explained.

Said Premier Bennett of British Columbia: "It's not the size or the color, it's what's on the table that counts."

ISLAND DIGEST

$100,000 Split By Crash Victims

VANCOUVER (CP) — The B.C. Supreme Court Tuesday awarded $100,000 to six persons affected by a Vancouver Island highway accident Aug. 4, 1962.

It is one of the largest awards ever made in a B.C. highway accident.

Two persons were killed in the two-car collision near Nanaimo — Maurice McLeod, the driver of one car, and Joseph Plavetic, passenger in the other.

The five injured and Mrs. Sylvia Plavetic, widow of the killed passenger, sued Mrs. Dorothy Jean McLeod, representative of the estate of Mr. McLeod, and the Canadian Indemnity Company. The case was heard in Victoria and judgment handed down here.

A total of $43,642 was awarded to the Plavetic family. Of this Mrs. Plavetic was awarded $23,500; Ivan, 13, $3,600; Carolyn, 8, $5,400; Joseph Jr., born after his father died, $10,260. The money awarded to the children will be held in trust until they are of age.

John Ferenczi, 47, driver of the second car, received $10,206 and passengers John Marcusik, 35, $8,522; Steve Becir, 36, $10,106, Andrew Madarasz, 40, $10,826, Bela Palsak $14,401.

The amount of insurance coverage involved was not disclosed.

ON WELFARE

In Nanaimo Mrs. Plavetic, commenting on the award, said she and her three children have been living on $145 a month welfare payments since the accident.

Last Christmas was a bleak time and she was looking forward to another one.

"I'm sure we'll get some toys this Christmas," said Ivan.

The family came to Canada from Yugoslavia in 1958 to join Mrs. Plavetic's parents who also live in Nanaimo. Mr. Plavetic worked as a planer in a sawmill there.

The accident occurred at 12:40 a.m. four miles north of Ladysmith where Cedar Road intersects with the Trans-Canada Highway. There was some drizzle and fog at the time.

Police said at the time that a new pickup driven by Mr. McLeod turned into the highway and was in collision with the car driven by Mr. Ferenczi.

He and the others in his car were returning to Nanaimo from Chemainus, where all were employed by MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd.

CHIEF ADMITS FORGERY

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP) — A volunteer fire chief from Lantville, V.I., pleaded guilty Tuesday to 16 charges of forgery and false pretences involving about $3,000 in worthless cheques.

John Ryan, 34, also a civil defence co-ordinator in Lantzville, had come to Ontario several weeks ago to attend a civil defence course. His case was remanded for one week.

Police say Ryan opened a bank account in Peterborough under the name of a fictitious firm and then wrote cheques to fictitious names.

He was apprehended after a store manager copied down his B.C. licence number and turned it over to police.

should let the world know about it in detail—the map, the ballistics test which shows the fatal shot was fired from the rifle found in the building, Oswald's fingerprint on the gun—everything."

Dallas Police Chief Jesse Curry said his office would turn over its evidence to the FBI.

This would place it beyond the reach of Texas Attorney-General Waggoner Carr, who has announced plans to convene a court of inquiry. Wade said, however, that the FBI had agreed to make it available for a court of inquiry or other judicial proceedings.

'Christmas Presents' Had Deadly Message

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Police increased their vigilance today after pro-Communist terrorists made an unsuccessful attempt to kill the three major presidential candidates with bombs disguised as Christmas presents.

Three other top Venezuelan political figures and a U.S. embassy official also were intended victims of similar bomb packages, police said. These assassination attempts also were unsuccessful.

The plot was discovered Tuesday after one of the packages failed to explode when opened. Police seized the other bombs, too.

Police said the bombs were a desperation attempt by the outlawed Armed Forces for National Liberation to disrupt next Sunday's election.

Among the targets was Raul Leoni, candidate of president Romulo Betancourt's ruling Democratic Action party and the favorite to succeed him.

The gaily wrapped bomb packages also were addressed to Jovito Villalba, candidate of the Republican Democratic Union, the major opposition party; Rafael Caldera, candidate of the Social Christians, who are part of the government coalition; Justice Minister Ezequiel Monsalve Casado; Dionisio Lopez Orihuella, president of the Republican Democratic Union, and Eduardo Tamayo Gascue, a Social Christian member of Congress.

Authorities declined to disclose the name of the U.S. official singled out for assassination.

Police said the packages were turned over to a commercial delivery service by a man who gave a false name. Lopez Orihuella opened his but detonating wires connected to the batteries had been loosened, police said.

The police traced the package to the delivery agency and collected the others before they were opened.
